COMMENCEMENT

More than any class in recent memory, graduates in the Class of 2002 move into an uncertain and difficult world. Here at home and far abroad, our society faces a wide range of challenges, some of long standing and others unimaginable at the time you first arrived at the University of Connecticut just a few short years ago.

During your time with us, you have experienced a University in the midst of a major physical transformation, one that is even now only partially complete. Our objective has always been to create a statewide campus that matches the quality of an extraordinary faculty and meets the ambition of an exceptional group of outstanding students. Every member of the UConn community can take pride in our progress in meeting that goal. The Class of 2002's forbearance in the face of inconveniences attendant to construction has been much appreciated.

But more important than our physical progress has been our ongoing commitment to the basic values that have always characterized the University of Connecticut: academic excellence, inclusion, service to the state and nation, and belief in the inherent importance of scholarship and research as tools to the expansion of the sum of human knowledge. I hope and believe that the members of the Class of 2002 emerge from the University with an education that reflects those values and that each of you now has the capacity to help build a stronger, safer, and more tolerant world—one that condemns terror and values freedom.

Education does not end with graduation and I expect that you will continue to learn over the course of your lifetime. What we have given you at the University, and what your degree symbolizes, is a foundation on which you can each build a better life for yourself, for your family, and for the human community as a whole.

You have my best wishes for a happy and successful future.

*Philip E. Austin
President
University of Connecticut*

COMMENCEMENT NOTES

COMMENCEMENT DAY at The University of Connecticut is a time of ceremony and pageantry, portions of which represent traditions dating back to medieval times. These notes on the history of the University and the commencement ceremony are offered in the hope that they will be of interest to spectators.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT WAS FOUNDED as the Storrs Agricultural School in 1881 when the General Assembly accepted a gift of money and land from Charles and Augustus Storrs, natives of Mansfield. In 1893 when it became a land-grant college and officially opened to women, the name was changed to Storrs Agricultural College. As the mission of the institution changed, its name was changed in 1899 to Connecticut Agricultural College. In 1933 it became the Connecticut State College. It grew slowly becoming a small but vigorous college with limited undergraduate offerings in agriculture, home economics and mechanical arts. With the development of a university program it became The University of Connecticut in 1939. The first regional campuses were established in 1946 to deal with the influx of veteran students. Today, the University is made up of sixteen different schools and colleges. Through the various agencies of five Divisions and seven Institutes, including forty-nine Special Facilities, Programs, and Centers, the University is privileged to serve many State citizens. The Graduate program began in 1935, and in 1949 the University awarded its first doctoral degrees.

Enormous expansion has taken place over the years together with increased enrollment. Today, the University has an enrollment of over 24,000 students. At Storrs there are over 14,000 undergraduates and more than 3,490 graduate students, representing some 111 nations.

This year, the University will award over 5,450 degrees. Of these approximately 3,550 will be Bachelor's degrees, 1,190 Master's degrees, 197 Juris Doctor degrees, 50 Master of Laws degrees, 66 Doctor of Pharmacy degrees, 44 Doctor of Dental Medicine degrees, 78 Doctor of Medicine degrees, and 238 Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Also to be awarded are 41 diplomas in Professional Education and 30 Associate's Degrees in the two-year Ratcliffe Hicks School of Agriculture.

THE COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY, because of the number of graduates, is divided into five separate exercises. The Schools of Dental Medicine and Medicine, located at the University's Health Center in Farmington, and the School of Law, located in Hartford, hold their own exercises. The Commencement procession in each of the three exercises at Storrs is heralded by the ceremonial trumpets which were obtained especially for the University commencement.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION begins with the heralding of the trumpeters announcing the arrival of the academic procession. The Bearer of the Mace leads the procession. The University Marshal, identified by his Baton, leads the President, together with the speaker, the Board of Trustees, vice-presidents, deans, other University officials, and faculty. The Mace is presented at the center of the stage while those processing enter and take their places. Once the Mace is placed on the stand it signals the beginning of the ceremony.

THE ACADEMIC GOWNS, HOODS AND REGALIA represent more than elegance or colorful attire. Academic caps and gowns represent a tradition which reaches far back into the early days of the oldest universities of the Middle Ages. The early European universities were founded by the church; the students, being clerics, were obliged to wear prescribed gowns and caps at all times. Caps and gowns were once common forms of clothing and were retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern dress. Though some universities here and abroad have other colors, the usual color for gowns in America is black. Hoods are lined with the official color of the college or university which conferred the degree. The velvet edging of the hood varies in length for bachelors, masters and doctoral degrees. The color represents the appropriate degree. Mortar boards (caps) are usually black. The tassel for the Bachelor of Arts, Science, and Engineering may be of color distinctive of the degree, and the tassel for the Doctor of Philosophy may be made of gold thread. The gown and hood of the University Marshal were made specifically for University ceremonies in the official colors of national flag blue and white. The Processional Marshals wear blue velvet "beefeater" berets; the School and College Marshals, who assist in conducting the ceremonies, wear blue Dutch caps.

THE MACE, carried by Keith Barker, Co-Chairman of the Commencement Committee, is used at all academic ceremonies. In medieval times maces were weapons of warfare, but today a mace is "a staff borne by, or carried before, a magistrate or other dignitary as an ensign of his authority." It is the emblem and symbol of the President's authority to administer the University. This mace was first used at the Inauguration of President Homer D. Babbidge, Jr., on October 20, 1962. It was designed by Nathan Knobler, former head of the Department of Art. The University's early seal, executed in beautiful wood carving, appears on both faces. A penny dated 1881 is affixed to it to commemorate the date of the University's founding.

THE BATON, carried by the University Marshal, Professor Peter L. Halvorson, was specifically designed for ceremonial activities at The University of Connecticut and was first used at the Commencement in 1968. The Office of Marshal can be traced back to the medieval period, and the Baton is a symbol of the Marshal's authority. This Baton has silver mountings and is surmounted by a representation of the University's former seal in enamel, which itself incorporates the coat of arms of the State of Connecticut. The University Marshal, carrying the Baton, follows the Mace Bearer as he leads the academic procession into and out of the place of ceremony.

THE SILVER COLLAR/MEDALLION, worn by Philip E. Austin, President, was first used in 1964, at the time of the University's Silver Anniversary. Each link on the collar represents one of the University's Schools or Colleges and consists of a cloissoné circle engraved with an appropriate design for the particular school and enameled with its traditional school or college colors. Hanging from the chain is a large silver medallion containing the University's early seal.

THE AWARDING OF DEGREES at The University of Connecticut is accomplished by a twofold process. First, the candidates for degrees of each respective school or college are presented by the University Marshal. The candidates proceed to the front, receive their diplomas, are congratulated by their administrative officers and return to their seats. The School or College Marshal then officially presents the candidates to the Dean who acknowledges the candidates and declares the appropriate degree. Second, when all candidates have been duly presented, the President of the University formally confers the appropriate degree. This is accomplished verbally at the time that he speaks the words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Trustees of The University of Connecticut, and in accordance with the procedures and regulations of the University, I confer upon you the Certificate, Associate's Degree, appropriate Bachelor's Degree, Master's Degree, Juris Doctor, Doctor of Dental Medicine, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Musical Arts, or Doctor of Philosophy for which you have been presented at this One Hundred and Nineteenth Commencement of The University."

THE RECESSIONAL of the officials and faculty is once again led by the Mace Bearer and University Marshal. The graduates, along with the audience, are requested to remain seated until the recessional is concluded.

Out of respect and courtesy to all graduates, participants and guests are requested to remain in their seats until the ceremony has concluded.

JUDAH FOLKMAN, M.D.
Doctor of Science

Because of Dr. Judah Folkman's extraordinary powers of observation and ability to process information, the possibility of anti-angiogenic therapy is on firm scientific foundation in the treatment of cancer and other diseases. Dr. Folkman opened an area of investigation that is now pursued worldwide—the field of angiogenesis, the formation of new blood vessels around malignant tumors. Dr. Folkman's impressive contributions to research and medicine began while he was a student at Harvard Medical School, where he helped to invent the cardiac pacemaker in the laboratory of Dr. Robert Gross. He earned his medical degree in 1957 and went on to the National Naval Medical Center, where he and colleague David Long worked on silicone rubber implants, initiating controlled release technology that led to the development of Norplant, a time-released contraceptive used worldwide. While at the Naval Center, he theorized that solid tumors are angiogenesis-dependent – dependent on new blood vessel growth – and predicted the existence of natural angiogenesis inhibitors. He went on to develop almost all of the methodology for the field of angiogenesis, including the first cloning and culture of capillary endothelial cells. His laboratory purified the first of 14 angiogenic molecules, and he discovered the first natural angiogenesis inhibitor as well as two other families of inhibitor molecules. His contributions to medicine and the field of angiogenesis have resulted in exceptional achievements that have been recognized worldwide by the medical and scientific communities. Dr. Folkman has received more than 100 awards and honors. He has held appointments at Children's Hospital in Boston for more than 30 years.

THE HONORABLE FRENE NOSHIR GINWALA, D. PHIL.
Doctor of Laws

The triumphant struggle for human rights in South Africa, indisputably one of the twentieth century's most inspiring sagas, has had at its center an extraordinary group of individuals—tactically brilliant, physically and intellectually courageous, committed to the closely linked goals of truth and reconciliation, and possessed of an abiding faith in humanity's capacity to build a better world. For more than thirty years Dr. Frene Ginwala was among the leaders of the effort to eradicate the evil of apartheid; for the past eight years she has been among the leaders of South Africa's free and democratic government. By her example and involvement, Dr. Ginwala has contributed enormously to the development and enhancement of sustainable democracy, gender equity, and a culture of human rights and the law in South Africa and across the globe. Born in Johannesburg, Dr. Ginwala received her higher education and training as a Barrister at Law in England. She joined the African National Congress at an early age, and in 1960 left South Africa to arrange the escape of one of the ANC's leaders and to establish the organization's external mission. During her years in exile she served as Head of the ANC's Political Research Unit, lectured widely on the anti-apartheid movement and related causes, participated extensively in international conferences and organizations, and wrote for a number of publications. When the ANC was unbanned in 1991, Dr. Ginwala returned to South Africa, becoming a member of President Nelson Mandela's Secretariat and, from 1991 to 1994, heading the ANC's Research Department. Following the first free elections in South Africa's history, she entered Parliament in 1994 and was chosen speaker of the National Assembly, a position to which she was reelected in 1999. Dr. Ginwala has visited the University of Connecticut on prior occasions, and is one of the foremost supporters of the ongoing collaboration between the University and the African National Congress.

HER ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCESS IRENE OF GREECE
Doctor of Humane Letters

One of Europe's foremost leaders in humanitarian causes, Her Royal Highness Princess Irene of Greece has dedicated much of her life to the promotion of attitudes of compassion, tolerance, and commitment to the cause of world peace. The daughter of King Paul and Queen Frederica of the Hellenes, Princess Irene was born in South Africa and lived with her family in Greece until the overthrow of democratic government in that country in 1967. She studied philosophy, music, and archeology, publishing a book on the latter subject with her sister, now Queen Sofia of Spain. In 1986 Princess Irene created the humanitarian organization World in Harmony, headquartered in Madrid and dedicated to finding practical ways of showing compassion. World in Harmony has sponsored projects of vital service in more than twenty nations, ranging from promotion of farmers' cooperatives to support for small manufacturing to drilling of fresh water wells and construction of irrigation networks; in times of crisis, the organization has provided emergency aid in the form of food, clothing, and medical supplies. This work has been undertaken with a high degree of professional efficiency and a minimum of administrative overhead. Princess Irene's activism in linking the cause of animal rights to that of human rights has been particularly noteworthy; since the mid-1980s she has devoted much of her prodigious energy to preventing the unnecessary slaughter of animals and prevention of the wastage of valuable agricultural products in developed countries, where possible transporting these valuable resources to less advanced societies in the Third World, where they can meet critical human needs. Princess Irene's presence at the University to receive an honorary degree is especially appropriate during a time when the institution has rededicated its own commitment to the study and expansion of human rights, here and abroad. To an extent equaled by few individuals, she demonstrates the capacity of a single person to make a significant, and lasting, contribution in that vital field of endeavor.

BOBBIE ANN MASON, PH.D.
Doctor of Letters

At first glance it seems ironic that Bobbie Ann Mason, who earned her doctorate in English at the University of Connecticut, should be celebrated as a writer whose regional focus—her native rural Kentucky—is geographically so far from Storrs. Yet on a deeper level, in the view of critics and lay readers alike, Ms. Mason's short stories, novels and memoir deal with themes that have universal relevance: ordinary people coping with a world in transition; characters interacting, at times uneasily, with mass culture; complexities of human relationship in our own time and in earlier eras. As one critic puts it, Bobbie Ann Mason "is a writer of immense sensitivity, a true seer; technically...she is a near virtuoso." In another critic's words, "Mason has an unwavering bead on the relationship between instincts and individual longings." These talents are demonstrated in a growing body of work, including Shiloh and Other Stories (1982), for which Ms. Mason won the Ernest Hemingway Foundation Award; In Country (1985); Love Life: Stories (1989); Feather Crowns (1993), for which she won the Southern Book Award; Midnight Magic: Selected Stories of Bobbie Ann Mason (1998); and Clear Springs: A Memoir (1999), which was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize. Born in Mayfield, Kentucky, Ms. Mason received her undergraduate degree from the University of Kentucky and her Master of Arts from the State University of New York at Binghamton; she received her Ph.D. at the University of Connecticut in 1972. Her dissertation, Nabokov's Garden: A Guide to Ada was published in 1974. She currently serves as Writer-in-Residence at the University of Kentucky.

EDMUND D. PELLEGRINO, M.D.

Doctor of Science

With an illustrious career that spans 55 years, Dr. Edmund Pellegrino is widely recognized as the father of modern bioethics. He prefers, however, to be thought of as a physician with a profound interest in the ethical dimensions of the healing relationship. In 1959, as the first chairman of the Department of Medicine at the University of Kentucky, Dr. Pellegrino included medical ethics and philosophy of medicine in the curriculum. He provided the model for the establishment of ethics and humanities programs at medical schools across the country. He earned his medical degree at New York University in 1944 and held numerous appointments before being named director of the Kennedy Institute of Ethics at Georgetown University in 1982. He has since held leadership positions at Georgetown in the Center of the Advanced Study of Ethics, in General Internal Medicine, and the Center for Clinical Bioethics, of which he is the founder and currently professor emeritus. Throughout his career, Dr. Pellegrino has been a leading advocate of the humanities and ethics in medicine. His work has focused on the ethical treatment of patients and improving the practice of medicine and thereby national health. Dr. Pellegrino is the founding editor of the Journal of Medicine and Philosophy, and the author or co-author of 19 books and more than 500 publications in the fields of scientific research, medical education and philosophy. Dr. Pellegrino is the recipient of 44 honorary doctorates as well as numerous honors and awards. In 2001, a collection of Dr. Pellegrino's writings was published in the book Physician and Philosopher – The Philosophical Foundation of Medicine: Essays by Dr. Edmund Pellegrino.

JOSEPH VOLPE

Doctor of Fine Arts

Few, if any, organizations better represent the concept of excellence in the performing arts than does the Metropolitan Opera; few, if any, positions are more significant in the international arts community than is that of the Met's General Manager. Over the course of twelve extraordinarily successful years, Joseph Volpe has served in this demanding position, the culmination of a career with the organization that began in 1964. His tenure as General Manager has been marked by extraordinary outreach and artistic achievement, effective management and harmonious labor relations, technological innovation and programmatic expansion; the high stature occupied by the Met when Mr. Volpe took charge in 1990 has, if anything, been elevated further. In a collaboration unique in specific detail but consistent with Mr. Volpe's overall approach to the implementation of the Met's vast potential as a center of education in the arts, early this year the Metropolitan Opera honored the University of Connecticut by joining in a unique collaboration with our School of Fine Arts to provide UConn's music and drama students with internships and other modes of involvement in the Met's creative process. Mr. Volpe's personal history is unique in the New York cultural community: a native of Brooklyn, raised in the New York City area, he ended his formal education at high school; he spent the next several years working in auto repair, manufacturing, and then carpentry. He joined the Metropolitan Opera as an apprentice carpenter in 1964, soon was master carpenter, and then in rapid succession technical director, assistant manager, and, in 1990, General Manager—a position in which, as has been said, he is "responsible for it all."

PATRICIA MCGOWAN WALD

A native of Torrington, Connecticut, Judge Patricia McGowan Wald graduated from Connecticut College for Women in 1948. She received her law degree from the Yale Law School in 1951, graduating with distinction as an officer of the Yale Law Journal and a member of Order of the Coif. Upon graduation, she clerked for Judge Jerome Frank, at the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and entered a life in the law dedicated to public service. Taking time from her legal career to raise five children—a decision that ended the careers of many other women at that time—she returned to the active practice of law in the 1960's, focusing on public interest law at the District of Columbia Neighborhood Legal Services, the Mental Health Law Project, where she served as litigation director, the Center for Law & Social Policy, and the Department of Justice, as Assistant Attorney General for Legislative Affairs. She was nominated to the second highest court in the land, the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, by President Jimmy Carter in 1979 and served with distinction on that court, becoming Chief Judge in 1986, the first woman to become a chief judge of a federal appellate court. In 1991, she stepped down from the court to become a judge for the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia, a position she held until this year. The recipient of scores of honorary degrees, Judge Wald has also received the Margaret Brent Women Lawyers of Achievement Award from the American Bar Association and the National Association of Women Judges Annual Award. Judge Wald has been active in national organizations dedicated to law reform, such as the American Law Institute, and is the author of numerous law review articles on the judicial process, constitutional and administrative law, juvenile justice, mental disability law, women and the law, and public interest law.

WILLIAM A. WULF, PH.D.

Doctor of Science

Engineer, educator, adviser to government and to industry, and strong advocate for diversity and opportunity, William A. Wulf has long been recognized as one of the nation's leading figures in science and technology. A native of Chicago, Dr. Wulf received his Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering Physics from the University of Illinois in 1961 and his Master of Science in Electrical Engineering from the same institution in 1963; in 1968 he was awarded the first doctorate in Computer Science ever granted by the University of Virginia. Dr. Wulf served on the faculty at Carnegie-Mellon University from 1968 to 1981; leaving academia he served for six years as Chairman and CEO of Tartan Laboratories, Inc., and for the next two years as Assistant Director of the National Science Foundation. Now in his second term, he has been President of the National Academy of Engineering since 1996. Concurrent with his public service, since 1988 Dr. Wulf has held the title of AT&T Professor of Engineering at the University of Virginia. In different ways in each position, he has contributed to the body of knowledge that comprises 21st century engineering, to the lay public's understanding of the field, and to the promotion of access to careers in engineering by women and other underrepresented groups. As an academic, Dr. Wulf played a critical role in the development of Ada, the common Department of Defense programming language; as a public official and professional leader, he has launched wide-ranging initiatives in the development of the High Performance Computing and Communication Initiative and played a leading part in research and operation relating to the National Supercomputer Centers. Few members of his profession have so effectively merged technological leadership and commitment to public values, and few scientists have made so prominent a mark on key aspects of national life.

FUJIA YANG, PH.D.

Doctor of Science

Internationally renowned physicist, innovative academic leader, and strong advocate of global cooperation and particularly of closer ties between East and West, Dr. Fujia Yang has been one of the key figures in science and education through a time of profound transformation in his native China and indeed throughout the world. Born in Shanghai, Dr. Yang received a degree in Physics from Fudan University in 1958, was a Postdoctoral Fellow at the Niels Bohr Institute in Denmark in the early 1960s, and pursued a distinguished career in nuclear physics in the decades that followed. A progression of positions at Fudan University led to his appointment to an endowed professorship at that prestigious institution and, in 1993, his designation as President. Over the course of his career as scholar and teacher, Dr. Yang's research in nuclear physics and related fields earned an array of academic honors, including his election to the Chinese Academy of Sciences and to the Third World Academy of Sciences. As leader of Fudan University, Dr. Yang worked vigorously to bring Chinese higher education to new levels of relevance and openness, encouraging in particular active Chinese engagement in the global academic community. His international stature was recognized with his installation as the sixth Chancellor of The University of Nottingham in Great Britain in 2001.

THE HONORABLE JOHN G. ROWLAND
Undergraduate Commencement Speaker

As Governor of the State of Connecticut, John G. Rowland serves as President Ex-Officio of the University of Connecticut Board of Trustees. Governor Rowland took office in 1995 and was reelected in 1998 with the largest plurality in state history. His record of public service began in 1980 when he was elected to the Connecticut State Legislature to represent Waterbury's 73rd Assembly District and served two terms. In 1984, he was elected to the United States House of Representatives for the 5th Congressional District, which includes Waterbury, Danbury and surrounding towns. He represented the 5th District until 1990. He follows a 50-year family tradition of public service. Both his father and grandfather served as comptrollers for the City of Waterbury. His family has lived in the city for more than 200 years. A graduate of Holy Cross High School in Waterbury, Governor Rowland earned his undergraduate degree from Villanova University in Philadelphia. In June 1995, he signed into law the bill that created the UCONN 2000 program, which has led to the dramatic transformation of UConn's Storrs and regional campuses. He also supported capital spending to build the $40 million Academic Research Building at the UConn Health Center. In February 2002, Governor Rowland proposed "21st Century UConn," the $1.3 billion program to continue the University's physical progress and bring its campuses to the highest levels in American public higher education. Governor Rowland has received many public service awards, including both the Malcolm Baldrige and the Ella Grasso awards. In 2000, Governor Rowland received the Deane Avery Award from the New London Day newspaper for his commitment to the causes of freedom of information and free speech. He received the 2001 Government Leadership in the Arts Award from Americans for the Arts and the United States Conference of Mayors. He was named chairman of the Republican Governors Association in October 2001.

UNIVERSITY MEDAL

DAVID R. GAVITT

Among the University's highest honors, the University Medal is awarded in recognition of distinction in a field or profession in public service, and for outstanding achievement or leadership on a community, state, national or international level. This year the Board of Trustees confers the 24th University Medal on David R. Gavitt. Among non-university officials, there is no other individual who has played a more pivotal role than Dave Gavitt in the advancement of the University of Connecticut athletic program from regional contender to repeated national champion. Mr. Gavitt founded the Big East Conference in the spring of 1979 and extended an invitation to UConn to become one of seven charter members of that new collegiate league. With one bold gesture, Dave Gavitt positioned the rise of UConn athletics from a New England based program with regional success to its current status as one of the elite collegiate athletic programs in the nation. During the 1980s, the guidance provided by Dave Gavitt as Big East Commissioner helped propel UConn through its formative years on the national stage. Mr. Gavitt's vision and unwavering belief that University of Connecticut athletics had the potential to excite an entire state was fully realized during the 1990s as UConn became a leading partner in the phenomenal success of the Big East Conference. Now, more than two decades since the formation of the Big East Conference, Connecticut continues to regularly utilize Dave Gavitt's wise counsel as the Huskies expand on the remarkable athletic success that has resulted in eight NCAA Division I National Championships in four different sports (men's basketball, women's basketball, men's soccer, field hockey) as well as more than 80 Big East championships. Through the award of the University Medal, the Board of Trustees commemorates the valued contributions of David R. Gavitt to the University of Connecticut, to our UConn Division of Athletics, and to thousands of student-athletes who have proudly competed under the banner of the Big East Conference.

ACADEMIC HONORS

University Scholar

The University Scholar designation is the highest scholastic honor at the University. The individualized undergraduate programs of these students, which in some cases include work toward a graduate degree, are supervised by faculty committees. Up to thirty students are selected as University Scholars in the junior year. Candidates for the University Scholar designation wear gold and blue recognition cords at the commencement exercises.

Honors Scholar

Honors Scholars are outstanding students who complete intensive two- or four-year programs, including Honors courses of unusual breadth and depth. Honors requirements include a senior thesis in the major field. Candidates for the Honors Scholar designation wear gold recognition cords at the commencement exercises.

With Distinction

"With Distinction" is the University's designation for degrees earned by students who give evidence of significant achievement in their major fields. Candidates for the graduation "with Distinction" wear silver recognition cords at the commencement exercises.

The names in this program do not constitute an official list. The students whose names are listed herein were considered candidates for the degree indicated when the program was printed, except where a prior date of graduation (August 31 or December 31, 2001) is given.

On the cover of this Commencement book is the official seal of the University of Connecticut. The University's seal depicts the ancient and mighty oak. For Connecticut and the University alike, the oak's symbolism is significant. Beautiful and sacred, the venerable oak is synonymous with wisdom, longevity and hospitality. To Aristotle, the oak represented human potential.

The oak holds a special place in Connecticut's history. In a time long before statehood, the Connecticut colony's self-governing status was guaranteed by a charter issued by King Charles II of England. When, in 1687, his successor King James II attempted to reinstate the monarchy's authority, his emissary's efforts were foiled as the Royal Charter was secretly spirited to a temporary hiding place—a majestic oak in Hartford, forever after known as the Charter Oak. The oak became a symbol of freedom worldwide.

The oak has unique meaning for the University as well. In 1884, the commencement exercises of the second graduating class of the Storrs Agricultural School were held in an oak grove on the Storrs campus. This grove, long a favorite gathering place for a variety of open-air meetings, served as the spiritual home to the growing community of scholars.

The University of Connecticut's graphic interpretation of the oak is a stylized synthesis of two acorns and three oak leaves, representing maturation, intellect and moral strength. The seal is the symbol of a large and diverse institution; it is used by all of the University's schools, colleges, regional campuses, professional schools and its Health Center. The UConn Husky dog is the beloved and official mascot of the University's athletic program. While the Husky symbolizes the vitality and excitement of campus life, the oak seal communicates the broader mission of the University as a center for the pursuit, the creation and the sharing of knowledge. The University of Connecticut, like the mighty oak, is rooted in a proud past and reaching toward a limitless future.
