COMMENCEMENT

The University of Connecticut is in the midst of the most profound and positive transformation in its history. Building on a foundation created by dedicated faculty and outstanding students over the course of many decades, we are now emerging as a national leader in undergraduate, graduate and professional education, research and scholarship, and service to our state and nation. The promise of UCONN 2000 is fast becoming a reality as we build a statewide campus noted for its beauty and technological sophistication, and the quality of our physical structures sets a standard for pursuit of excellence in every important sphere.

The Class of 2001 has witnessed and contributed to the University's progress. Over the course of your career at this institution we have maintained an unquestioned commitment to the highest standards of academic performance and student service. At UConn, these have been years of noted breakthroughs in research, implementation of commitments to community service, extraordinary success in obtaining private support, and great achievements on the athletic field. Your education has prepared you well for a challenging future and the degree you receive at this Commencement indicates to the world at large your ability to contribute to society.

Even in this time of change some things remain constant. As it has been throughout its history, the University of Connecticut remains dedicated to the concept that education is the greatest gift society can bestow on its young people. An essential instrument of scientific progress and economic advancement, education is even more valuable simply as an end in itself— as the activity that defines and nourishes the human spirit.

I know that each of you has grown and changed over the course of your college career and I hope that you continue to reap the benefits of your education throughout your lifetime. I am glad you were with us, and I hope that you remain a part of the UConn community in the years to come.

A handwritten signature in dark ink, reading "Philip E. Austin". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

COMMENCEMENT NOTES

COMMENCEMENT DAY at The University of Connecticut is a time of ceremony and pageantry, portions of which represent traditions dating back to medieval times. These notes on the history of the University and the commencement ceremony are offered in the hope that they will be of interest to spectators.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT WAS FOUNDED as the Storrs Agricultural School in 1881 when the General Assembly accepted a gift of money and land from Charles and Augustus Storrs, natives of Mansfield. In 1893 when it became a land-grant college and officially opened to women, the name was changed to Storrs Agricultural College. As the mission of the institution changed, its name was changed in 1899 to Connecticut Agricultural College. In 1933 it became the Connecticut State College. It grew slowly becoming a small but vigorous college with limited undergraduate offerings in agriculture, home economics and mechanical arts. With the development of a university program it became The University of Connecticut in 1939. The first regional campuses were established in 1946 to deal with the influx of veteran students. Today, the University is made up of sixteen different schools and colleges. Through the various agencies of five Divisions and seven Institutes, including forty-nine Special Facilities, Programs, and Centers, the University is privileged to serve many State citizens. The Graduate program began in 1935, and in 1949 the University awarded its first doctoral degrees.

Enormous expansion has taken place over the years together with increased enrollment. Today, the University has an enrollment of over 23,400 students. At Storrs there are over 13,200 undergraduates and more than 3,480 graduate students, representing some 104 nations.

This year, the University will award over 4,800 degrees. Of these approximately 3,200 will be Bachelor's degrees, 1,000 Master's degrees, 173 Juris Doctor degrees, 24 Master of Laws degrees, 53 Doctor of Pharmacy degrees, 38 Doctor of Dental Medicine degrees, 79 Doctor of Medicine degrees, 1 Doctor of Musical Arts degree, and 208 Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Also to be awarded are 40 diplomas in Professional Education and 28 Associate's Degrees in the two-year Ratcliffe Hicks School of Agriculture.

THE COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY, because of the number of graduates, is divided into five separate exercises. The Schools of Dental Medicine and Medicine, located at the University's Health Center in Farmington, and the School of Law, located in Hartford, hold their own exercises. The Commencement procession in each of the three exercises at Storrs is heralded by the ceremonial trumpets which were obtained especially for the University commencement.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION begins with the heralding of the trumpeters announcing the arrival of the academic procession. The Bearer of the Mace leads the procession. The University Marshal, identified by his Baton, leads the President, together with the speaker, the Board of Trustees, vice-presidents, deans, other University officials, and faculty. The Mace is presented at the center of the stage while those processing enter and take their places. Once the Mace is placed on the stand it signals the beginning of the ceremony.

THE ACADEMIC GOWNS, HOODS AND REGALIA represent more than elegance or colorful attire. Academic caps and gowns represent a tradition which reaches far back into the early days of the oldest universities of the Middle Ages. The early European universities were founded by the church; the students, being clerics, were obliged to wear prescribed gowns and caps at all times. Caps and gowns were once common forms of clothing and were retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern dress. Though some universities here and abroad have other colors, the usual color for gowns in America is black. Hoods are lined with the official color of the college or university which conferred the degree. The velvet edging of the hood varies in length for bachelors, masters and doctoral degrees. The color represents the appropriate degree. Mortar boards (caps) are usually black. The tassel for the Bachelor of Arts, Science, and Engineering may be of color distinctive of the degree, and the tassel for the Doctor of Philosophy may be made of gold thread. The gown and hood of the University Marshal were made specifically for University ceremonies in the official colors of national flag blue and white. The Processional Marshals wear blue velvet "beefeater" berets; the School and College Marshals, who assist in conducting the ceremonies, wear blue Dutch caps.

THE MACE, carried by Keith Barker, Co-Chairman of the Commencement Committee, is used at all academic ceremonies. In medieval times maces were weapons of warfare, but today a mace is "a staff borne by, or carried before, a magistrate or other dignitary as an ensign of his authority." It is the emblem and symbol of the President's authority to administer the University. This mace was first used at the Inauguration of President Homer D. Babbidge, Jr., on October 20, 1962. It was designed by Nathan Knobler, former head of the Department of Art. The University's early seal, executed in beautiful wood carving, appears on both faces. A penny dated 1881 is affixed to it to commemorate the date of the University's founding.

THE BATON, carried by the University Marshal, Professor Peter L. Halvorson, was specifically designed for ceremonial activities at The University of Connecticut and was first used at the Commencement in 1968. The Office of Marshal can be traced back to the medieval period, and the Baton is a symbol of the Marshal's authority. This Baton has silver mountings and is surmounted by a representation of the University's former seal in enamel, which itself incorporates the coat of arms of the State of Connecticut. The University Marshal, carrying the Baton, follows the Mace Bearer as he leads the academic procession into and out of the place of ceremony.

THE SILVER COLLAR/MEDALLION, worn by Philip E. Austin, President, was first used in 1964, at the time of the University's Silver Anniversary. Each link on the collar represents one of the University's Schools or Colleges and consists of a cloissoné circle engraved with an appropriate design for the particular school and enameled with its traditional school or college colors. Hanging from the chain is a large silver medallion containing the University's early seal.

THE AWARDING OF DEGREES at The University of Connecticut is accomplished by a twofold process. First, the candidates for degrees of each respective school or college are presented by the University Marshal. The candidates proceed to the front, receive their diplomas, are congratulated by their administrative officers and return to their seats. The School or College Marshal then officially presents the candidates to the Dean who acknowledges the candidates and declares the appropriate degree. Second, when all candidates have been duly presented, the President of the University formally confers the appropriate degree. This is accomplished verbally at the time that he speaks the words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Trustees of The University of Connecticut, and in accordance with the procedures and regulations of the University, I confer upon you the Certificate, Associate's Degree, appropriate Bachelor's Degree, Master's Degree, Juris Doctor, Doctor of Dental Medicine, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Musical Arts, or Doctor of Philosophy for which you have been presented at this One Hundred and Eighteenth Commencement of The University."

THE RECESSIONAL of the officials and faculty is once again led by the Mace Bearer and University Marshal. The graduates, along with the audience, are requested to remain seated until the recessional is concluded.

Out of respect and courtesy to all graduates, participants and guests are requested to remain in their seats until the ceremony has concluded.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

MARY FRANCES BERRY, PH.D.

Doctor of Laws

Historian, lawyer, teacher, and public official, Mary Frances Berry is among the nation's most visible, aggressive, articulate advocates for social justice. In a wide range of governmental and private positions—most notably, for the last eight years, as Chairperson of the United States Commission on Civil Rights—she has brought to the nation's attention compelling if sometimes painful evidence that American practice often falls short of American ideals. In areas ranging from police-community relations to irregular voting procedures to the perpetuation of de facto segregation in public institutions, Dr. Berry has, in a phrase she sometimes uses, "told truth to power" and laid the groundwork for progress. Born in Nashville, Tennessee, Mary Frances Berry earned bachelor's and master's degrees at Howard University, and a doctorate in history and a law degree from the University of Michigan. She has taught at several universities and served as Provost of the Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences at the University of Maryland and Chancellor of the University of Colorado. From 1977 to 1980 Dr. Berry served in the Carter Administration as Assistant Secretary of Education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and was appointed to the Civil Rights Commission in 1980, becoming Chairperson in 1993. Author of seven books, holder of 28 honorary degrees and numerous other honors, she served in 1990-91 as President of the Organization of American Historians. In addition to her responsibilities as leader of the Civil Rights Commission, Dr. Berry is the Geraldine R. Segal Professor of American Social Thought and Professor of History and Adjunct Professor of Law at the University of Pennsylvania.

LESTER R. BROWN

Doctor of Science

As Chairman of the Board of the Worldwatch Institute and President of the newly established Earth Policy Institute, Lester Brown is widely recognized as one of the central figures in the global environmental movement; indeed, he has been characterized by one of India's major newspapers as the movement's guru. Over the course of more than four decades his skills as analyst, advocate, and organizer have moved environmentalism to the center of the world's consciousness, thereby shaping what may well come to be regarded as the late twentieth century's most farsighted and far-reaching crusade. Mr. Brown began his environmental work at the most fundamental level, as a tomato farmer in southern New Jersey while he attended high school and college. He earned a degree in agricultural science from Rutgers University in 1955, a Master of Science from the University of Maryland in Agricultural Economics in 1959, and a Master of Public Administration from Harvard University in 1962. Mr. Brown's lifetime of public service began within the U.S. Department of Agriculture in 1959, where he held a series of progressively more responsible positions over the next ten years, ultimately serving as Administrator of the International Agricultural Development Service. In 1969 he helped establish the Overseas Development Council, and in 1974 founded the Worldwatch Institute. A private non-profit research institute devoted to the analysis of global environmental issues, this organization has attained a stature and credibility normally reserved for only a handful of international official agencies. The annual State of the World reports initiated by Mr. Brown in 1984 have been characterized as the "Bible of the global environmental movement" and are translated into all the world's major languages; Worldwatch's other publications, which similarly reach a vast and influential audience, also play a critical role in focusing debate and shaping policy. Mr. Brown has authored or co-authored more than a dozen books, among which are Saving the Planet: How to Shape an Environmentally Sustainable Global Economy; Vital Signs: The Trends That Are Shaping Our Future; Who Will Feed China? Man, Land and Food, and Building a Sustainable Society. He has been honored with a number of awards including a MacArthur Fellow Award, the United Nations' Environment Prize, the World Wide Fund for Nature Gold Medal, and numerous honorary degrees.

SHIRLEY ANN JACKSON, PH.D.

Doctor of Science

Shirley Ann Jackson's career has taken her on one of the most extraordinary journeys of the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries. Theoretical physicist, high-ranking government official, university professor, and trail blazer for women and members of groups underrepresented in the academy and in the sciences, she has been for the past two years the 18th President of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Born in Washington, D.C. and valedictorian of her high school class, she received a Bachelor of Science degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1968; five years later she became the first African-American woman to receive a Ph.D. from MIT in any field when that institution awarded her a doctorate in physics. Dr. Jackson conducted post-doctoral research at Illinois' Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory, the International School for Subnuclear Physics in Sicily, and the European Center for Nuclear Research in Geneva, Switzerland. From 1976 to 1991 Dr. Jackson conducted research in theoretical physics, solid state and quantum physics, and optical physics at AT&T Bell Laboratories; she then served for four years as Professor of Physics at Rutgers University. President Clinton named Dr. Jackson Chairman of the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission in 1995. In that position she initiated a strategic assessment of the agency and guided the development of new and more effective approaches to the implementation of its regulatory and licensing responsibilities. Dr. Jackson spearheaded the formation of the International Nuclear Regulators Association in 1997 and served as the group's first chairman. She assumed the presidency of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1999 and has, among other notable achievements, proven among the nation's most successful academic leaders in securing philanthropic support for her institution; RPI recently announced a $360 million gift, the largest ever given to an American university. Dr. Jackson has been honored repeatedly, most notably by election to membership in the National Academy of Engineering, by being named as a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and of the American Physical Society, by inclusion in the National Women's Hall of Fame, and with the Golden Torch Award for Lifetime Achievement in Academics from the National Society of Black Engineers. She holds more than a dozen honorary degrees.

COMMENCEMENT

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS AND COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

RAY NEAG

Doctor of Humane Letters

The University of Connecticut has produced few more successful graduates, and no more loyal alumni, than Ray Neag, Class 1956. A native of Torrington, the youngest of eight children of Romanian immigrants, Mr. Neag graduated from Torrington High School and began his UConn career at the Waterbury campus in 1948. After taking time out to serve in the United States Air Force, he returned to the University and completed his degree in political science at Storrs. Within a few years Mr. Neag embarked on what would prove to be an extraordinary career in the medical product field, first at Sherwood Medical, Inc., then at Teledyne Dental Products; in 1973 he joined Rockwell International, where he helped develop a medical products division in Pennsylvania. In 1975 Rockwell sold that business to Mr. Neag and three partners; over the years the firm grew from 200 employees producing textile needles and hypodermic needles to a major enterprise, now called Arrow International, Inc., that employs 3,000 people in plants in the United States and abroad, produces a wide range of life-saving and health enhancing products, and generates revenues in excess of $300 million. Mr. Neag's natural generosity led him to support libraries, hospitals, community organizations and higher education at a number of institutions over the years. In 1996 he turned his attention to his alma mater, accepting an invitation to join the University of Connecticut Foundation Board of Directors and, in November of that year, donating $1.5 million to establish the Neag Center for Gifted Education and Talent Development; a gift the next year established the Lynn Wood Neag Distinguished Visiting Professorship of British Literature. In February of 1999 Mr. Neag provided a $23 million gift to the University—the largest single gift to a public university in New England and, with $21 million devoted to the School of Education, the largest gift to a school of education anywhere in the United States. Now proudly bearing his name, the Neag School of Education is building on a foundation of excellence as it moves to a position of national leadership. Mr. Neag's support is not limited to the investment of resources; as a member of the Foundation Board, as Vice Chair of the University's fundraising Campaign Steering Committee, and as a continuing source of wisdom and guidance, he contributes immeasurably to the University's growth and transformation.

THOMAS D. RITTER

Doctor of Laws

It is hard to think of any American legislator who has rendered a greater contribution to public education in his or her state than has Thomas D. Ritter. Over the course of a highly distinguished career in the Connecticut House of Representatives from 1981 to 1999, Mr. Ritter demonstrated a consistent commitment to fundamental values of social justice, consumer and worker protection, economic growth and rational allocation of resources. In the six years he served as Speaker of the House, from 1993 to 1999, he led the General Assembly to support measures that would lead to the transformation of the state's flagship public university. Mr. Ritter's support was instrumental in creating the School of Law Library, adoption of measures providing the University with greater administrative autonomy and responsibility, and securing adequate funding for the University's operating budget. His role in securing passage of UCONN 2000 and the inclusion in that farsighted measure of an endowment matching grant program was no less than vital; the impact of his contribution is in evidence in Storrs and at University regional campuses across Connecticut. Mr. Ritter was born in New Haven, Connecticut and earned his baccalaureate degree from Amherst College. In 1977 he received a Juris Doctor degree from the University of Connecticut School of Law. Elected to the General Assembly from his Hartford district in 1980, he was reelected eight times. As House Chair of the General Assembly's Banks Committee he oversaw passage of legislation helping homebuyers and consumers and led the Task Force on Discrimination in Mortgage Lending. Among his most significant accomplishments as Speaker, apart from his support for UConn, was the enactment of the School Readiness Bill in 1998, which introduced a statewide network of quality preschool programs and expanded day-care availability. On his retirement from the General Assembly in 1999, Mr. Ritter became a partner in the law firm of Brown, Rudnick, Freed & Gesmer. Among his several honors, he was awarded the Distinguished Graduate Award in 1994 by The University Law School Alumni Association and the University of Connecticut Medal in 1999.

PHILIP ROTH Doctor of Letters

Philip Roth is a writer of stunning originality. In the last ten years alone he published six major works: Patrimony (1991); Operation Shylock (1993); Sabbath's Theater (1995); American Pastoral (1997); I Married a Communist (1998); and The Human Stain (2000). Among other high honors, these books have earned him the National Book Critics Circle Award, the PEN/Faulkner Award, the National Book Award, the Ambassador Book Award of the English-Speaking Union, and the Pulitzer Prize. In 1998 Mr. Roth received the National Medal of Arts at the White House. This month he will publish The Dying Animal, followed in September by the publication of Shop Talk, his twenty-fifth book. Born and raised in Newark, New Jersey, Mr. Roth has lived and worked in Litchfield County, Connecticut since 1971. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Bucknell University and a Master of Arts in English from the University of Chicago. In addition to the University of Chicago, Mr. Roth has been a teacher at the University of Iowa, Princeton, the University of Pennsylvania, and Hunter College, where he was named a Distinguished Professor of Literature. Since 1970, he has been a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. In addition to his four-decade career as a novelist, Mr. Roth has written satire, short stories, memoirs, autobiographies, and critical essays, and served as general editor for the influential series, "Writers from the Other Europe." No other contemporary author has so brilliantly depicted in all its compelling detail the relationship between history and place in the lives of ordinary Americans. The anti-Communist hysteria of the McCarthy era of the 1950s, the impact of the Vietnam War in the 1960s, and the backlash to the excesses of the 1990s enter with all their chaotic power into the lives of Mr. Roth's characters. His characters' intense engagement with those unleashed forces of passion and fate that thwart all their efforts at control has re-invigorated the novel and raised Mr. Roth to the highest rank of American writers.

CHARLES H. THORNTON, PH.D. Doctor of Science

It was said of the great English builder and designer Sir Christopher Wren, "If you seek his monument, look around you." One can find monuments to the engineering contributions of Dr. Charles Thornton in places far and near to this University: Swiss Bank Headquarters in Stamford, Connecticut; the United Airlines Terminal at O'Hare Airport in Chicago; or in the world's tallest buildings, the Petronas Twin Towers in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. One can also find monuments less physically tangible, but no less important, in his work to bring young people into the engineering field, especially minorities and women. As notable as his contributions to creation of structures and development of careers, Dr. Thornton has led many of the nation's major forensic structural investigations, adding to the sum of professional knowledge and assuring continued progress in the prevention of disaster. Among the investigations to which he contributed his insight and expertise were those of the collapse of the Hartford Coliseum space truss roof, the L'Ambiance Plaza construction collapse, and the damage to the bombed federal building in Oklahoma City in 1995. Born in 1940, Dr. Thornton received a Bachelor of Civil Engineering degree from Manhattan College, a Master of Civil Engineering from New York University, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Structural Engineering and Mechanics from New York University in 1966. He began his career in 1961 as Engineer for Lev Zetlin Associates in New York; in 1974 he was named President and CEO; and in 1977 assumed the leadership of all three divisions of the firm. As Chairman of The Thornton-Tomasetti Group, Inc., Dr. Thornton leads a 450-person firm providing design and engineering services for commercial, institutional, and industrial building projects. He is also the Chairman, Founder and guiding spirit of the ACE (Architects Constructors Engineers) Mentor Program, a consortium of schools and universities, architects, interior designers, engineers, construction companies, and professional organizations that mentors and guides inner-city students toward careers in engineering and related fields. Dr. Thornton is also President of The Salvatori Center, a non-profit organization that, each year, educates over 2,000 New York City Middle School students in mathematics and science using architectural and engineering principles. Dr. Thornton has served on the Board of Trustees for Manhattan College; the Applied Technology Council (ATC); and the National Institute of Building Science's Building Seismic Safety Council (BSSC) and Multihazard Mitigation Council (MMC). Dr. Thornton has received a number of honors in his profession, including election to the National Academy of Engineering in 1997, being named Honorary Member of the American Society of Civil Engineers in 1999, and receiving Engineering News-Record's Award of Excellence 2001.

LESTER R. BROWN

GRADUATE CEREMONY COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

(See Biography Under Honorary Degree Recipients)

CLARE DALTON

SCHOOL OF LAW COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Professor Clare Dalton received her B.A. in Jurisprudence from Oxford University in 1971. She then taught legal writing at the University of Connecticut Law School in 1971-72. Professor Dalton received her LL.M. from Harvard Law School in 1973. She taught at American University's Washington College of Law from 1974 to 1978, and joined the Harvard Law School faculty in 1981, after an interim period as an attorney with the Washington firm of Covington and Burling. In 1988 Professor Dalton joined the Northeastern University School of Law faculty as a full professor. In the spring of 2000 she was named a Matthews Distinguished University Professor, an award that recognizes and furthers the scholarly and creative activities of prominent Northeastern University professors. Professor Dalton is a leading feminist legal scholar and a pioneer in the development of legal education focusing on domestic violence. In 1990 Professor Dalton founded the Law School's domestic violence clinical program, and in 1993 established the Domestic Violence Institute, an interdisciplinary education, research and service organization which she continues to serve as Executive Director. The Institute has become a nationally recognized center for addressing domestic violence and its impact on the lives of women, children and men, providing a model for pedagogy about domestic violence and for law-school based institutes around the country. As a scholar, Professor Dalton has made significant contributions in the areas of feminist legal thought and domestic violence. Her Battered Women and the Law, co-authored with Elizabeth Schneider and published in March of 2001 by Foundation Press, is the first casebook in its field. Her Essay in the Deconstruction of Contract Doctrine, published in 1985 by the Yale Law Journal, is considered a breakthrough analysis in combining the field of contracts with modern and feminist legal theory. Professor Dalton received Northeastern Law School's Urban Law Distinguished Professor award in 1998, was the recipient of the Massachusetts Women's Bar Association's Leila J. Robinson Award in 1997, was named Feminist of the Year by the Feminist Majority Foundation in 1993, and received a Bunting Fellowship in 1987.

RODERICK R. PAIGE

UNDERGRADUATE CEREMONIES

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Educator, creative implementer of programs and policies, former college dean and highly successful superintendent of schools in one of the nation's major urban districts, Roderick R. Paige was confirmed by the United States Senate as the nation's Secretary of Education on January 20, 2001, following the inauguration of President George W. Bush. A native of Monticello, Mississippi, Secretary Paige is the son of public school educators. He earned a bachelor's degree from Jackson State University in Mississippi and master's and doctoral degrees from Indiana University. After distinguishing himself coaching college-level athletics, Secretary Paige served for a decade as Dean of the College of Education at Texas Southern University, where he established the university's Center for Excellence in Urban Education. As a trustee and officer of the Board of Education of the Houston Independent School District (HISD) from 1989 to 1994, Secretary Paige coauthored the board's A Declaration of Beliefs and Visions, a statement of goals for the district that called for fundamental reform through decentralization a focus on instruction, accountability at all levels, and development of a core curriculum; this document was the catalyst of ongoing comprehensive restructuring of the district. Named HISD's Superintendent of Schools in 1994, Secretary Paige launched a system of charter schools with broad authority in decisions regarding staffing, textbooks, and materials; saw to it that the district paid teachers salaries competitive with other large Texas school districts; made HISD the first school district in the state to institute performance contracts modeled on those in the private sector; and introduced teacher incentive pay. He has served on numerous local, state and national commissions, and received the Council of the Great City Schools' Richard R. Green Award as the outstanding urban educator of 1999. In 2000 Secretary Paige received the Harold W. McGraw, Jr., Prize in Education for his extraordinary commitment to the improvement of education and the National Association of Black School Educators' Superintendent of the Year award. In 2001 he was named the National Superintendent of the Year by the American Association of School Administrators.

COMMENCEMENT

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS AND COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

GOVERNOR JOHN G. ROWLAND

SCHOOLS OF DENTAL MEDICINE AND MEDICINE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

As Governor of the State of Connecticut, John G. Rowland serves as President Ex-Officio of the University of Connecticut Board of Trustees. Governor Rowland took office in 1995 and was re-elected in 1998 with the largest plurality in state history. His record of public service began in 1980 when he was elected to the Connecticut State Legislature to represent the Waterbury 73rd Assembly District. He served until 1984 at which time he was elected to the United States House of Representatives for the 5th Congressional District, which includes Waterbury, Danbury and surrounding towns. He represented the 5th District until 1990. He follows a 50-year family tradition of public service. Both his father and grandfather served as comptrollers for the City of Waterbury. His family has lived in the city for more than 200 years. A graduate of Holy Cross High School in Waterbury, Governor Rowland went on to Villanova University in Philadelphia where he earned his undergraduate degree. In June 1995, he signed into law the bill that created the UCONN 2000 program, which to date has led to the construction of nearly 20 new buildings on UConn's Storrs and regional campuses, and he also supported capital spending to build the $40 million Academic Research Building at the UConn Health Center. He has been honored with a Yale University Chubb Fellowship, an honorary doctorate of human letters from Teikyo Post College in Waterbury, and honorary doctor of law degrees from the University of Hartford in West Hartford and the University of New Haven, and is the recipient of numerous service awards.

UNIVERSITY MEDAL*

JAMES VERINIS, CLASS OF 1941

Among the University's highest honors, the University Medal is awarded in recognition of distinction in a field or profession or in public service, and for outstanding achievement or leadership on a community, state, national or international level. This year the Board of Trustees conferred the 23rd University Medal on James A. Verinis, University of Connecticut Class of 1941, whose heroism as a World War II Air Force pilot makes him an outstanding representative of the University's contribution to what has been called America's "greatest generation." A native of New Haven, "Angie" Verinis came to UConn in 1937. Awarded a basketball scholarship, he co-captained the team and graduated with a baccalaureate degree in economics in 1941. Soon thereafter Mr. Verinis passed the arduous examinations for the Army Air Corps, completed Flying School, and in September 1942 was sent to England. Ultimately rising to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, Mr. Verinis participated in the first air raids over Germany. He signed on as the co-pilot of the legendary B-17 bomber The Memphis Belle, which became the subject of a William Wyler documentary and a 1990 feature film. After several missions on the Memphis Belle, Mr. Verinis assumed command of his own B-17, the Connecticut Yankee, which he piloted for twenty combat missions. He was the first pilot to complete the required 25 missions as a tour of duty over Europe. In the years following the war, Mr. Verinis returned to Connecticut, pursued a successful career in business, and raised a family. Through the award of the University Medal, the Board of Trustees commemorates not only his own extraordinary personal saga, but the enormous contributions of all those who were part of the UConn community during the time when our nation faced its greatest test.

ACADEMIC HONORS

University Scholar

The University Scholar designation is the highest scholastic honor at the University. The individualized undergraduate programs of these students, which in some cases include work toward a graduate degree, are supervised by faculty committees. Up to thirty students are selected as University Scholars in the junior year. Candidates for the University Scholar designation wear gold and blue recognition cords at the commencement exercises.

Honors Scholar

Honors Scholars are outstanding students who complete intensive two- or four-year programs, including Honors courses of unusual breadth and depth. Honors requirements include a senior thesis in the major field. Candidates for the Honors Scholar designation wear gold recognition cords at the commencement exercises.

With Distinction

"With Distinction" is the University's designation for degrees earned by students who give evidence of significant achievement in their major fields. Candidates for the graduation "with Distinction" wear silver recognition cords at the commencement exercises.

The names in this program do not constitute an official list. The students whose names are listed herein were considered candidates for the degree indicated when the program was printed, except where a prior date of graduation (August 31 or December 31, 2000) is given.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

The parenthetical indication of a conferral date following a degree recipient's name signifies confirmed completion of degree requirements. If no conferral date is indicated, completion of degree requirements could not be confirmed at press time. Conferral of a degree is contingent upon verification by the Graduate School that a student has completed all requirements.

On the cover of this Commencement book is the official seal of the University of Connecticut. The University's seal depicts the ancient and mighty oak. For Connecticut and the University alike, the oak's symbolism is significant. Beautiful and sacred, the venerable oak is synonymous with wisdom, longevity and hospitality. To Aristotle, the oak represented human potential.

The oak holds a special place in Connecticut's history. In a time long before statehood, the Connecticut colony's self-governing status was guaranteed by a charter issued by King Charles II of England. When, in 1687, his successor King James II attempted to reinstate the monarchy's authority, his emissary's efforts were foiled as the Royal Charter was secretly spirited to a temporary hiding place—a majestic oak in Hartford, forever after known as the Charter Oak. The oak became a symbol of freedom worldwide.

The oak has unique meaning for the University as well. In 1884, the commencement exercises of the second graduating class of the Storrs Agricultural School were held in an oak grove on the Storrs campus. This grove, long a favorite gathering place for a variety of open-air meetings, served as the spiritual home to the growing community of scholars.

The University of Connecticut's graphic interpretation of the oak is a stylized synthesis of two acorns and three oak leaves, representing maturation, intellect and moral strength. The seal is the symbol of a large and diverse institution; it is used by all of the University's schools, colleges, regional campuses, professional schools and its Health Center. The UConn Husky dog is the beloved and official mascot of the University's athletic program. While the Husky symbolizes the vitality and excitement of campus life, the oak seal communicates the broader mission of the University as a center for the pursuit, the creation and the sharing of knowledge. The University of Connecticut, like the mighty oak, is rooted in a proud past and reaching toward a limitless future.
