STUDENTS TO RAISE MONEY FOR RELIEF

Important Campaign to be Launched Next Week—Plans Already Made.

$2,500 MINIMUM AMOUNT.

Dr. Mackenzie, President of Hartford Theological Seminary to Speak.

A great and important campaign to raise money for the Students' Friendship Fund is about to be launched here at College, according to information recently given out by G. S. Torrey and E. N. Dickinson at a meeting of the Senior Alumni Council. Mr. Torrey and Mr. Dickinson attended a meeting in Hartford some time ago as representatives from the College and since that time they have been working quietly on the coming campaign. The object of this campaign is to raise money to help "our" boys in the foreign prisons. This work is to be carried on through the Y. M. C. A. Every college in the country is doing its "bit" to help this work along. Connecticut College for Women, situated at New London, recently raised about $6,000 for this fund. At the council, tentative plans were discussed and talks were given by Mr. Torrey and Mr. Dickinson. William D. Mackenzie, D. D., LL. D., President of the Hartford Theological Seminary, is scheduled to speak to the student body some time in the near future and this will open the campaign, which will probably last one week.

The working committee has not as yet been definitely appointed, but according to Mr. Dickinson, the stu-

NEW INSTRUCTOR ARRIVES.

H. M. Hayes to Assist Prof. H. R. Monteith in English and French.

H. M. Hayes, Ph.D., the new instructor in English and French, is a graduate of the Universities of Virginia and Chicago, having received the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy at the latter institution. Dr. Hayes was instructor of Greek and French for three years at the University of Virginia, and of Latin and English for four years at the University of Missouri. He also taught for several years in Northern Illinois and Chicago.

BATTALION APPOINTMENTS.

Government to Supply the Uniforms. Rifles Given Out Already by Quartermaster Busby.

Contrary to many rumors that the battalion will not be well equipped with uniforms this year, the Commandant has said that, "if possible, uniforms will be supplied by the government the same as the Regular and National Army."

When the United States entered the War, all O. D. uniform cloth held in stock by private concerns was commandeered by the government, and as a result uniforms can only be obtained from the government.

The Commandant has applied to the United States War Department for uniforms, and according to the present understanding, they will be issued to all first and second-year men, and all juniors and seniors who have signed, or intend to sign, for the R. O. T. C. Advance Course.

The uniforms will be government property, issued to the Institution, and will be turned in at the end of the term, the same as rifles, sidearms and other equipment.

Students physically incapacitated will not receive the uniform, nor commutation of rations; they may, however, attend classes as ordinary students.

In connection with the R. O. T. C., it is announced that General Orders No. 9, War Department, 1916, containing an outline of courses and other information, is available at the Library in the Main Building.

The War Department has also issued a bulletin containing full information about soldiers' and sailors' insurance. A copy is on file at the Library or may be obtained by applying for Bulletins 1 and 2, to the Treasurer's Department, Bureau of War Risk and Insurance, Washington, D. C.

Commandant Sessions has issued his list of battalion officers for the year, basing many of his appointments upon recommendations by Captain Charles B. Amory, Jr., who held the office of Commandant here the past three years. A few changes and additions were made by Lieut. F. R. Sessions, during the past week.

The following is the list of the officers and non-commissioned officers:

WAR COMMITTEE TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH FORMER STUDENTS NOW ENLISTED

FACULTY MEN DRILL.

Considerable surprise was manifested by the students several days ago at drill when G. S. Torrey, instructor in botany, H. B. Price, instructor in economics, and F. W. Duffee, instructor in farm machinery, came out and took their places in the ranks with the rest of the "rookies". When they first appeared on the drill floor they asked that all be put in the same squad. Captain B. F. Thompson informed the instructors that this would be impossible on account of their difference in height. So Mr. Torrey was assigned to the first squad, Mr. Duffee to the second, and Mr. Price to the third. The men have never drilled before, but are taking it up now in case they should be called in the next draft. While Private Duffee is a graduate of Ohio State College, he knows nothing about drill because he served in the band while there. The three privates, when asked yesterday how they liked drill, answered that they were enjoying it very much. Private Price says he was excused from drill while in College. Private Torrey did not have opportunity to drill since Harvard does not include that in the curriculum.

NEW STUDENT COMMITTEE BEGINS ACTIVE CAMPAIGN.

"Campus" and Personal Letters to Go to Men. Girls Making Huge Service Flag—Faculty to be Asked To Help in the Work.

Every former student of the Connecticut Agricultural College in the service of the United States is to be assured that he is remembered by his Alma Mater, according to plans now under way. The entire student body as well as the faculty are combining in one concentrated drive to put across a plan for keeping in touch with the enlisted men and for suitably recognizing here at home the service they are performing.

The work is to proceed under the direction of a committee representing the entire student body. This committee was appointed a week ago by Walter E. Clark, President of the Students' Organization and consists of R. H. Barrett, Gladys V. Daggett, Geo. P. Goodearl, Arthur C. Bird and Walter T. Clark, President of the will cooperate closely with the Publicity Committee of the College in carrying out their plans, which they have been working upon all week. Thirty-two square yards of bunting have already been purchased and the girls at Grove Cottage are making a service flag which will show a star for every man enlisted. This flag, when completed, will have at least one hundred stars and provision is made for one hundred extra to be added as more men enter the service.

BASKET BALL WORK TO BEGIN SOON

STIFF SCHEDULE ARRANGED.

Not Many Old Men Back—Possibilities of a Coach Discussed.

The prospects for a good basketball team this season, are very encouraging, although several of last years' players have graduated or entered the Service. Captain E. N. Dickenson, the star of the team for the past three years, is the only varsity man that has returned. But James Goodrich, Harry Lockwood, Earl Moore, Seward Manchester and John Lawson, second-squad men are back, and as there are unusual signs of ability exhibited among the fresh-

CHRISTMAS VACATION.

At a recent meeting of the Students' organization the matter of vacations was discussed and a conference committee consisting of the following men were elected: Rollin H. Barrett, chairman; D. Hart Horton, and Alfred E. Upham.

The students all agreed that they would rather have the Monday before Christmas instead of New Year's Day, also to ask for Wednesday morning following Christmas, to give the boys a chance to get back. The Conference Committee interviewed President C. L. Beach in regard to the vacation, and he said it would be brought up at the next faculty meeting. He also said that he considered the request reasonable and thought the faculty would grant it.

NEW BUILDINGS PLANNED.

Dining Hall and Infirmary to Cost $53,000—Bids in Soon.

At the last legislature it was voted to appropriate $50,000 for a new dining hall at the Connecticut Agricultural College. An appropriation was also made for an infirmary to cost $3,000. Unklebach & Perry Company of New Britain have drawn up plans for the new buildings. Bids on the work are to be in on Monday, Nov. 19, and one of the authorities said that work would probably commence next spring. The new dining hall is to be located in the woods directly back of the proposed library, this is to be situated on the hill half-way between Koons and Storrs Halls. It will accommodate 400 students—just twice the number that the old dining hall seats.

The infirmary will be a small building and will be situated in the clump of pines near the west end of the pond.

These new buildings will be heated by the central heating plant, as are all the other college buildings, except the poultry building.

MILITARY WORK UNDER WAY.

Staff:

Major—(to be appointed later);
1st Lieut. and Adjutant—P. L. Sanford;
1st Lieut. and Quartermaster—A. T. Busby;

Sergeant-Major—A. C. Bird;
Quartermaster—J. R. Dillion.

Company A:

Captain—S. B. Morse;
1st Lieutenant—A. G. Tappert;
2d Lieutenant—H. N. Leffingwell;
1st Sergeant—W. T. Clark;
Sergeants—H. E. Maguire,

A. E. Mallett,
C. R. Brock,
E. N. Dickinson.

Company B:

Captain—F. B. Thompson;
1st Lieutenant—R. H. Barrett;
2d Lieutenant—D. H. Horton;
1st Sergeant—A. E. Upham;
Sergeants—L. L. Crosby,
L. W. Cassel,
H. B. Bridges,
G. B. Durham.

Owing to the fact that the students are taking special interest this year, Quartermaster A. T. Busby issued rifles and sidearms to the cadets on November 1. This is somewhat early, but the Commandant is eager to get the battalion into company form before winter sets in. Later, drill will be held in the armory, and then the company will be trained in the details.

The students are thankful for the abolishment of the old demerit system with its tedious floor-walking, for a more up-to-date system. Now a student is allowed one hundred and fifty demerits a year. If he should have the misfortune to collect more than that number, he is "unsatisfactory" in his military course.

Although application was made to Washington for a drill sergeant, there is none this year, according to information given out by Commandant Sessions recently. The War Department does not have sufficient men to make it possible to release a man to do the work.

JUDGING CLASS
SEE FINE STOCKDAIRY CLASS SEE CHAMPIONS
FROM DAIRY SHOW.

Professor White and Class in Judging make Week-end Trips to Dairy Farms.

The advance class in cattle judging conducted by Professor G. C. White recently visited the fine herd of Holstein cattle owned by Gardiner Hall, Jr., of South Willington. The students were escorted around the barn by the herdsman, H. P. Loverin, who is a Connecticut alumnus.

The following week the class visited Branford Farms at Groton, where they inspected some fine Ayreshire and Guernsey cattle. The farm is owned by Morton F. Plant, a multi-millionaire of New York City, who makes his summer home in Groton. The Branford Farm owns a bull, Langwater Foremost, out of Jean Armour, at one time world champion 3-year-old Ayreshire. The manager recently bought a Guernsey bull for $6000.

Last week another trip was made to the farm of L. V. Walkly at Southington. Here a large herd of Jersey cattle were inspected by the students. Mr. Walkly had just returned from the National Dairy Show at Columbus, Ohio, where he exhibited eight head and received first prize in every class he entered. He also received Grand Champion Prize on his best cow. The judging class got some very valuable information direct from the National Show.

YATES LECTURES TO CLASS.

At the request of Professor G. H. Lamson, A. W. Yates of Hartford, president of the State Beekeepers' Association, lectured to the entomology class in beekeeping. His talk consisted principally of advice to beginners in beekeeping. Many interesting questions were answered by him. Mr. Yates is an authority on bees and is widely known about the state.

NEW CO-ED AT COLLEGE.

All was excitement on the campus. It had been noised abroad that a new co-ed was to arrive soon. "What is her name? Where does she come from? What does she look like? Will she take a college or school course? Why is she so late to arrive?" These are a few of the questions which were heard among the students. She is Rose Schoolnick of Hartford, Conn., who graduated from the Hartford Public High School in June, 1917. She is taking a college course in Home Economics.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS.

The officers for the coming year were elected at the first meeting of the class this fall. The officers elected are: President, A. E. Upham; vice-president, L. L. Crosby; secretary, H. B. Bridges; treasurer, L. W. Cassel.

DRAMATIC CLUB ACTIVE.

Rehearsals of "The Rivals" Daily. Many New Members Added.

The Dramatic Club has its new work for the College year well under way and the present members are hard at work preparing for the first production of the season. "The Rivals," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, is the play which has been chosen for this season's debut, and everything promises well now for a very successful presentation. The play will be put on in conjunction with the Junior Hop about the last of the month, either on November 30, or December 1.

Try-outs for the Cast were held on Wednesday, October 31, and the Cast selected is as follows:

Sir Anthony Absolute,	F. B. Thompson.
Captain Jack Absolute,	J. R. Dillon.
Faulkland,	P. A. Sanford.
Bob Acres,	S. B. Morse.
Sir Lucius O'Trigger,	B. A. Callahan.
Fag,	E. D. Dow.
Thomas,	H. B. Bridges.
David,	L. W. Cassel.
Mrs. Malaprop,	Gladys Daggett.
Lydia Languish,	Loretto Guilfoile.
Julia,	Helen Clark.
Lucy,	Edith Anderson.

The Dramatic Club is planning to donate a portion of its proceeds from one of the plays to the Student Friendship War Fund and a portion from another to the Storrs' Red Cross Society.

The following candidates have qualified for membership in the Dramatic Club: Vera Lee, Salome Smith and N. D. Wheeler. There will be a second try-out for candidates at a future date which will be announced later. The candidates must learn their selections which are to be presented before the try-out committee for their approval. Those who are unsuccessful at any previous try-out are eligible to try again. A. M. Wallace, director of the Club, will furnish a list of selections from which the candidate may choose the one which he or she will present.

NEW HOUSE FOR SOUTHWICK.

Julius Hauschild is constructing a bungalow for B. G. Southwick, who has recently been transferred from the instructors' staff to extension work. The bungalow is situated on the prominent rise of Dog Lane, just east of the schoolhouse, on the right hand side of the road.

Dear Editor

Some confusion has been caused by the names Junior Hop and Junior Prom. It should be kept in mind that the Junior Prom. is a formal dance, and the Hop is strictly informal. The idea seems to have become prevalent that the Hop is to take the place of the Prom., but this is not the case. The Hop, which is to be given Friday night, November 30, is to take the place of the Football Hop that usually comes at the end of the football season.

L. L. C., Chairman.

GLEE CLUB FORMED.

G. S. Torrey, Director. Plenty of Good Material Among New Men.

Definite steps toward the formation of a College Glee Club were taken on the evening of November 5, when the call for candidates was sent out by G. S. Torrey. Both the old men and the new men were summoned, and all were asked to answer a few questions beside trying a few simple singing exercises. About fifteen candidates tried out, and as there are twelve of last year's men back, it looks very favorable for a good season. Mr. Torrey, who is to take over the position of director, has planned to have the club appear in public concerts on the Hill more than it has in the past. There are also tentative plans now under way for the formation of a Chapel Choir, which will greatly help the Chapel singing and in which the Glee Club members are being asked to help.

WAR COMMITTEE WORK.

Every girl in college will sew at least one star on the flag and one faculty lady has already asked that she be given opportunity to sew a star. When completed, it will be hung in front of the Main Building.

Another thing the committee plans to do is to keep in touch with every man in the service. The "Campus" is to be sent to the men and personal letters written to each one. The College Publicity Committee has a number of letters already from soldiers in various parts of the United States and Europe. It was at first planned to make these letters into a news letter to be sent to all the men. The Committee has decided to turn all the letters over to the "Campus," however, for publication, since by that means the same end can be attained as far as the enlisted men are concerned and, in addition, the faculty and alumni subscribers, as well as the student body will have opportunity to read them.

A campaign for the funds necessary to finance the work of the committee is to be launched at once. Every student and member of the faculty will be given an opportunity to help out and no difficulty is anticipated in securing sufficient money to do the work planned, since everyone approached so far has given it their support.

One thing which the committee is working upon now is the finding of enough copies of the first issue of the "Campus" to see that each man gets one. Not enough were left to make possible the sending of these from the surplus of the first issue and the committee is searching high and low for extra or 2d-hand copies.

Eleanor Aspinwall, '16s, is training in the Baccus Hospital, Norwich, Conn., to become a nurse.

Isabel Long, ex-'18s, is taking a course in nursing at the Stamford Hospital.

Mari Pierce, '17s, of Thompsonville, Conn., is at present working for the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford.

MASQUERADE DANCE HELD IN ARMORY

MANY GORGEOUS COUTUMES.

Miss Moss Wins Prize for Most Attractive Costume—"Damn" Family Much in Evidence.

The evening of Saturday, November 3, was a gala night at Hawley Armory, when the annual Hallowe'en Masquerade was held. The masquerade was given by the Grove Cottage Association and everything was in their charge. This is the first time that the masquerade has been held in the Armory, having previously been held at Grove Cottage. Because of the large number of young people who attended the dance last year, and, also because of the larger number which were expected to be present this year, it was decided that the Armory would be none too large.

The hall was prettily decorated with corn shocks, pumpkins and autumn leaves, while the dimmed lights gave everything a truly Hallowe'en appearance. The grand march began at 8.15 and all those who were costumed took part in it.

Prizes were awarded to the most attractively costumed lady and the most attractively costumed gentleman. First and second prize was also given for the most humorous costumes. A committee consisting of Mrs. C. L. Beach, Professor H. F. Judkins, and Glenn H. Campbell acted as judges. After much deliberation, they selected Eleanor S. Moss for first prize in the ladies' class, and J. A. Simms for first prize in the men's class. First prize for the funniest costume went to the "Whole Damn Family", which consisted of D. L. Hirsh, E. R. Moore, and Lawrence Cassel. Second prize for the funniest costume went to G. M. Butler.

After the awarding of the prizes, the contestants unmasked and the remainder of the evening was spent in enjoying a fourteen-dance program, which lasted until 11 o'clock.

MOVING PICTURES BEGIN.

The first moving picture show of the season was given in the Armory, Saturday evening, November 10. The plays shown were: "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine", featuring Charlotte Walker, and "Nearly a King", with John Barrymore playing the leading part. On account of the war tax levied on moving pictures, the admission this year is eleven cents instead of ten.

The entertainment committee has planned to have pictures every Saturday evening during the year, providing there is no other entertainment for the week-end.

Lieutenants Collin and Hastings, who are stationed at Ayer, were on the Hill November 3 and 4. They are members of the 301st Field Artillery, Trench Mortar Battery.

A LETTER FROM GAMBLE.

E. D. Dow, Circulation Manager,
"Connecticut Campus",
Storrs, Conn.,

Dear Mr. Dow:

Your post card calling for our annual subscriptions to the old College paper has just come to hand, and I enclose check for $1 to cover charges for the same during this year.

I also send you best wishes for the success of you boys who are working to make it a success. It takes a great deal of your time and it must sometimes seem to you that your efforts are not fully appreciated. Remember always that the alumni of the institution are behind you at all times, even though we may seem a long way behind sometimes. Give the paper the best that is in you and make the Alumni Notes as strong as possible, for that is what we old fellows like to read. I say this realizing that I have given you a large order, for these notes are usually hard to get. Am enclosing two or three.

In any case do your best, for the men who have left Storrs are pulling for you.

Very truly yours,

JAS. A. GAMBLE.

BASKET BALL TEAM SOON.

men, all indications point toward a winning team. Some of the men have already been on the floor throwing the ball around to get in training. All candidates have been notified to report for practice the week of November 22. Inter-class games are expected to be over by that time, and the winning team will be awarded a silver cup.

Manager F. B. Thompson has arranged a very stiff schedule, with at least six home games. Two games with each of the following will be played, one game to be played here: Rhode Island State, Wesleyan, New Hampshire State and Massachusetts Aggies. One home game with Stevens and Worcester Tech. have been arranged for, with possible return games. Other games are pending. The dates are not yet definitely fixed, but will be announced soon. It will be the first time that teams from Stevens and Mass. Aggies have played on the Armory floor.

In all probability there will be no coach this year, owing to the fact that expenses are to be curtailed as far as possible. John Donohue, coach for the past two years in both football and basketball, is working in Willimantic, and Manager Thompson is trying to arrange to have him come up twice a week in the evening to coach the team. However, nothing definite has been done.

The schedule will be announced soon.

Sergeant J. T. McCarthy, ex-'17s, was in Willimantic, November 11, for a few hours' visit. Sergeant McCarthy is stationed at Camp Devens and did not have enough time off to visit the College.

WHEN ALL COÖPERATE.

You will all notice probably, and with some surprise, that this issue of the "Campus" is out on time. However, you may rest assured that you will get over that surprise in the near future, because the paper will continue to come out on time and you will get the habit of looking for it at a given date, every two weeks.

If any alumnus or undergraduate wishes to know just the date he will get his paper, next March or April, let him write to the Editor and he will receive promptly the desired information.

Perhaps this has never happened before and the alumni have lost confidence in the paper. However, we know what is going to happen this year and we are sure that every alumnus, and every undergraduate will take a renewed interest in the College publication. There may be many reasons why the paper has not given satisfaction in the past, but remember, the fault was not entirely with the Editor or the Business Manager. This year it seems that many of the difficulties of the past have been overcome already. The "Campus" is receiving hearty support in the way of candidates for the Board and it appears that the subscription campaign now starting will be unusually successful.

So this year, with a new Board and many candidates working, with the paper on a definite schedule, and with the entire student body and faculty behind us in our attempt to put out the best paper ever issued on the Hill, you may expect satisfaction.

Miss Elizabeth Monteith and Mrs. Glenn H. Campbell went to Farmington this morning, where they will give a program for the benefit of the Soldiers' Relief Fund.

Students' Safety Valve

DECORATE DINING HALL.

Dear Editor:

About the dining hall again, but not about the eats. Wouldn't it be a little more home-like if there was something to cover up those bare brick walls? It seems as though a few banners or pictures would make the room more pleasant. Other college dining rooms have banners and pictures on the walls. Why don't they have such things here? Out of respect to the College there should be at least a large Connecticut banner in the vestibule and one in the main dining room. If the College cannot see fit to do this, perhaps it could be done through the Students' Organization. Oftentimes there is money left over from dances which goes into the treasury. This money is said to be used to help a future dance, if it is not successful financially. The dances run on the hill now are as a rule successful. Why not put some of this surplus money into such friendships as banners and pictures for the dining hall? They give good impressions to visitors and would be enjoyed by every student in the future.

CLASS FOOTBALL.

Dear Editor:

We have no varsity football team this year on account of the Hun. However, it seems as though we ought to have a few class games to take away the monotony of lounging around. To be sure the football equipment is very limited, scarcely enough for two teams, but for all that there is a football and that is all that is strictly required for a game. The annual Sophomore-Freshman game, it is rumored, is not to be played. This shows rather poor spirit to an outsider and to upper-classmen. The freshmen were pulled through the pond, why not play the annual game to see who is superior. The sophomores won from the present juniors last year; are they afraid of losing their rep if they face the freshmen this year? There could be two evenly matched teams put upon the field by these classes if they would show the right spirit. It is about time that they woke up to the fact that they are here, and show a little pep. The game would also give an idea of what to expect next year, if there should be a varsity team.

THE GREAT NEED.

Dear Editor:

Many of us have stood for hours on a curb watching columns of marching men pass us. We have felt the thrill and a lump rise to our throats as line after line passed to the music of drum and trumpet.

If the prisoners of war could be mustered together and you had to stand and watch them pass, your heart would ache and your eyes, too, before they had gone. No music, no joy this time, no excitement, but broken regiments of weary, distorted veterans—muddy, ragged, wounded and discouraged. Just watch from the windows of your imagination these unhappy men.

There are 6,000,000 of such distorted prisoners of war in the European camps today. To the task of keeping these men up to a point above moral deterioration is the gigantic task to which the Young Men's Christian Association has dedicated itself.

The problem to be faced is not entirely their physical needs. Even if these poor fellows are properly housed, clothed and fed to maintain a healthy condition in their captivity, they are suddenly deprived of their freedom and a chance to serve their country in a time of greatest need. Though their physical needs are necessary, the constant idleness distorts their personality. Men worn out by months of strain and excitement of warfare in the trenches, are cut off entirely from the world. The result is mental, spiritual and moral degeneration.

All classes of men are represented in these barbed-wire camps—men of talent, professors, journalists, lawyers, doctors, actors, artists, musicians, etc. They are at the service of our Y. M. C. A. secretaries to help in establishing work within their midst.

These unfortunate men need equipment for recreation and work to forget their captivity and their homesickness by occupying their minds.

Soon we will be one, belonging to Uncle Sam, to go over the top for him, and then, possibly a prisoner of war. A fellow must think of these things and realize the great need of sacrifice.

A person asked to give to a certain war relief, replied: "I have bought a Liberty Bond, I have given to the Red Cross and other war relief funds. I do not see how I can spare more. A soldier after he has gone over the top and reached the front line trenches of the enemy, does not say, I have gone far enough, but keeps on going, sacrificing himself to the end, if need be.

Have we really sacrificed ourselves? No, I am one, but when the call comes, which will be soon, for old Aggie to do its part, in the one great need, no matter what the demand shall be, no matter what the sacrifice may be, we must do our part without a flinch.

A MORAL OBLIGATION.

To the Editor of the "Campus":

We who are allowed to pursue our ordinary course in the midst of a world-wide catastrophe are in some danger of failing altogether to take a realizing sense of current events. To be sure we miss a few of the well-known figures from the campus; the hand of Mr. Hoover begins to be heavy upon us; and many of us have become bond-holders in a small way. These changes help to make the situation real, but in the main our life runs on as it did last year and the year before. We talk much of war, and do not a little; but the awful reality of it all—I speak from a knowledge of my own mind—has not yet dawned upon us. It takes, indeed, a distinct effort of imagination to grasp the fact that some of our countrymen are already in the first trenches, and that this man and the other whom you and I saw every day last year will soon be facing the enemy.

This state of mind is natural, but it is not one which anybody can afford to tolerate in himself. Do our soldiers undergo discomforts and privations, to say nothing of mortal danger? Then how shall we justify ourselves in the eyes of the next generation if we permit ourselves to live "as usual"—if we fail to undergo genuine sacrifices merely because we are not as yet compelled to do so? Nero fiddling while Rome burns has a Twentieth Century counterpart in every one of us who twirls his thumbs while the world is afire. Surely we are morally bound to welcome every opportunity for shaking off our lethargy and getting into the game to our utmost.

Such an opportunity, one of many, presents itself at the moment. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., having been asked both by allied and by enemy governments to help make life in prison camps and training cantonments more nearly normal, have come to the colleges of the country for two million dollars, the Students' Friendship War Fund. The students and faculty of Connecticut are called upon to do their share.

This is not easy. We have given to the Red Cross; we have purchased bonds; we have answered various other equally urgent appeals; and always prices are rising, and all the world is being taxed. But we are not looking for easy tasks just now. We desire rather to share in some real measure the work which civilization has before it. Which of us has entered into that work to the point of actual sacrifice? Not I, for one. But I sincerely believe that we can no longer stand aside without becoming moral outcasts.

G. S. TORREY.

SHELDON-MAC FARLAND.

Alfred C. Sheldon, '17, was married at South Coventry, Conn., on Saturday, November 3, to Miss Gertrude MacFarland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacFarland. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon will be at home in Rockville, Conn.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28, 1917.

Dear Sir:

Your letter, forwarded from home, reached me several days ago, but I had not time to write letters except on week-ends, so am answering it now.

Am in the aviation corps now after leaving Plattsburgh and am to stay here until my course in the ground school is completed. The nature of the work we are doing and learning here, I regret I am not able to tell you as it is not allowed. All we are doing and learning here is strictly confidential.

As it is nearly time for supper formation, I will have to close and fall in.

Hoping to hear from you in the near future and learn of all the activities at college, I remain

Very sincerely yours,

HARRY A. HOPWOOD.

P. S.—My best regards to faculty and students at college. Letters reach me at School of Military Aeronautics, Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:

I received your letter and was certainly glad to get some news from Storrs, and especially glad to hear that the College is doing so much to help out in this great time of need. You may be interested in knowing what I have been doing since I met you last August at the Poultrymen's Convention, and so I will endeavor to give you a brief account of myself.

The day after leaving Storrs I was examined for the draft army and passed everything O. K. As my name was fairly well near the top, and thinking that I might have a chance for a non-commissioned officer with my military experience, I volunteered to go with the first quota on September 5, although I probably would not have gone until later. I arrived at Camp Devens on the afternoon of September 5 and was assigned to the Depot Brigade. The purpose of the Depot Brigade is to fill up vacancies in the national guard or anywhere else they want to place you. Therefore I had only been at Ayer just two weeks when I was transferred to Co. G, 102nd U. S. Infantry of which I am now a member. Before giving you an account of my experience in this company you may be somewhat interested in Camp Devens at Ayer, Mass.

The camp itself is a sight worth seeing, there being about 1,600 buildings, 9 Y. M. C. A.'s and various other interesting things about the camp. The camp is about 9 square miles in area. Of course, life at the camp is not quite as comfortable as at home, as we get no luxuries or a nice soft bed to sleep on. Each barrack holds 250 fellows, the sleeping quarters being upstairs and the mess hall being down stairs. While at Camp Devens I had but little drilling, as most of our time was spent in good hard work getting ready for the new draftees. However, if I had stayed I am sure I would have received a corporal or a sergeant's position. I met some of the Storrs boys who had gone to Plattsburgh, Sears, Beich and Farnham. I only wished I had gone to Plattsburgh, but did not want to give up my position just then.

There were about 600 soldiers that left Camp Devens on September 18 to be transferred to various places. 228 were transferred to Yale Field and I was among this bunch. There are two other Storrs boys in Co. G. They are St. Germain and Dahinden, so you see I am not alone. There are also several boys from my home town, Company G being a Waterbury company. We remained at Yale Field three days and then were transferred to a transport bound for Europe. We left New York Sunday night, September 23. When out to sea about 350 miles we struck a fierce storm, lost the other transports and our engine was broken down for twelve hours. Here we were, alone and in the midst of a raging storm and helpless. The boat rocked so much that we expected to go over any moment, and we came very close to tipping over. Finally the engine was fixed and we turned back to New York. We were a happy crowd when we got on land again after going through such an experience.

We were next transferred to Fort Totten where I am at present. We expect orders to leave for France most any moment, but no one has any idea when we will leave, as we have been here almost three weeks. I would like to receive the "Campus" and any other Storrs news as well. Anything addressed care of American Expeditionary Force, will get to me, if I go to France.

Very truly yours,

EARLE H. NODINE.

The following is part of a letter written to a friend here:

November 1, 1917.

Dear _____:

Well, I've been through all the close order drills that we had at C. A. C. Also some trench digging and road building this morning. I did not do much trench work, as I was acting squad leader (until I was transferred), so it fell to me to do the heavy looking on.

They are reasonable with us and do not tax our strength too much, although it seems as if they would at times. We work half an hour with pick or shovel and then rest half an hour while the relief is digging.

It is very cold up here nights and mornings, but during the day it is not so bad. And if we had hot or even warm water to wash in, we would not mind it so much. But believe me, it takes all our courage to get under these cold, cold showers. Some of us fellows go to Fitchburg to the Y. M. C. A. and get a good hot one, of the regular army. Captain Amory deserves a lot of credit and it should but it takes almost an afternoon, so we cannot go often.

Just think of me, learned a trade, and went to school to learn something, and here I am handling a pick and shovel at a dollar a day (a regular Wop). But it could be worse, so what's the use to worry?

I suppose you'll have lots of things to tell me, now that College has opened again. I wish I could see the old place.

Remember me to all my old friends.

Sincerely,

WILFORD H. WRIGHT,

Excerpt from a letter to Mr. I. G. Davis by Mr. Arthur B. Watson:

It may be worth something to the military end of the work at College to know that many of our seniors are better able to handle and drill men than are the officers appointed from Plattsburgh, who had no previous military experience. Our military training at college was very good indeed, it approached very closely that be the policy of the faculty to see that Captain Amory's successor is as strict and thorough as he was, if not more so. The College can feel very proud indeed of its officers in the army and I'm going to make a big try to be one of the officers in a few months.

ARTHUR B. WATSON,

Co. D, 301st Div. Machine Gun Battalion, Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass.

Your letter to my son, Tom Mason, was duly forwarded. His address is Thomas D. Mason, U. S. S. Guinivere, care of Postmaster, New York City. I suggest that you send him anything you may think of interest to him, and that means most any kind of college or personal news, directed as above. It will be two months before his reply reaches you, probably, and in that time you can send much of interest to him. With thanks to you and his other college friends, I remain

Very truly yours,

HENRY F. MASON.

FARM AIDS HOOVER BY PRODUCING FOOD

MUCH LIVE STOCK SOLD.

Assistance Given to People Starting Live Stock Farms.

This summer on the farm has been a very satisfactory one as measured by the products grown. Nearly 1,000 bushels of corn, 1,000 bushels of potatoes, about 2,000 bushels of root crops, 400 tons of silage, over 300 tons of hay, a few bushels of beans and a very satisfactory increase in live stock resulting from the season's work.

Some improvements have been made, although the condition of labor has made this feature, to say nothing of the necessary work on the farm, very difficult indeed.

There has been an unprecedented demand for sheep and swine. Berkshire swine sales have been made to:

C. F. Grannis, Watertown;
Lindelem Farm, East Haddam;
S. J. Adams, Cornish, Maine;
Mansfield State Training School and Hospital, Mansfield Depot;
Cornell Green & Sons., South Willington;

L. C. King, South Windsor;
The following are among the Shropshire Sheep buyers:

D. A. Heald, Cheshire;
Robert Cheney, South Manchester;
Cornell Green, South Willington;
H. R. Knibloe, Sharon;
Lucius Exeley, Plainfield;
B. B. Patterson, Cornwall Bridge;
Henry Dorrance, Plainfield;
Keney Park, Hartford;
North Carolina State College, West Raleigh, N. C.;
Ernest Weeks, Ashford.

Dutchess Fairfax, a Hereford Cow, was consigned to the New England Hereford sale at Waterville, Maine, and sold to J. F. Pratt of Massachusetts for $350. A Junior yearling heifer from the herd of Henry G. Ives, Andover, N. H., was purchased at the same sale and a Senior Yearling has since been purchased from C. T. Bailey & Son., Lowell, Indiana.

A Shorthorn bull calf was sold to the Bridgeport Hydraulic Company recently.

Several new herds of beef cattle, sheep and swine have been started during the summer, and such assistance as was possible has been given by this department.

LECTURES ON LUTHER.

Professors T. H. Eaton and H. R. Monteith gave talks in the chapel on October 31, to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the posting of Martin Luther's theses in Germany. Professor Monteith gave an abstract of German religious history in connection with Luther and showed how he promoted cultural education. Professor Eaton read extracts from one of Luther's works. He also made remarks showing how Luther helped vocational education. A large number of students attended the lecture.

PROFESSOR WHITE TESTIFIES.

Mayor's Committee of New York Calls on Connecticut Man For Facts.

Professor G. C. White was recently called to New York to testify before the committee appointed by the mayor to investigate the cost of production and distribution of milk. The committee decided that the cost of distribution should not be equal to the cost of production.

A survey made by the Dairy Department last June of 878 farms in the State of Connecticut brought out the fact that the average cost to produce a quart of milk was five and a half cents. While the average wholesale price was five cents per quart. The advance in labor and dairy equipment has brought the cost of producing a quart of milk up to seven cents at the present time.

Professor White says that he thinks that there will be a line of retail milk stores started in New York where people can buy good milk at a lower price. Milk for cooking purposes should be dip milk, while milk for the baby should be bottled.

In Springfield a line of retail milk stores handle about one-half the amount used in the city. A retail store is about to be started in Worcester and another in Hartford.

WATER SUPPLY SHORT.

On Monday morning of last week President Charles L. Beach in his regular weekly chapel talk informed the students that there was a shortage of water even though the pump was working twenty-four hours a day. President Beach also said that in order to save as much water as possible, the mains would be turned off from 9 to 11 in the morning, 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and after 9 o'clock at night, until 5 the next morning. Students were cautioned about leaving faucets open and otherwise wasting water. This, the President said, would be necessary until a supply could be stored in the stand-pipe, or perhaps until the new well was completed. Men are working on the new well daily and have drilled down 960 feet, but have not struck a sufficient supply as yet. Professor Charles A. Wheeler, who has the work in charge, said that they were only getting about thirteen gallons of water per minute, while they need to get at least one hundred gallons per minute.

AMORY APPOINTED MAJOR.

Captain Charles B. Amory, Jr., who was commandant at the College for the past three years, has recently received his appointment as Major at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont. Major Amory came here as first lieutenant, and received his commission as captain the second year.

Major E. L. Gilmer has received notice from the War Department that the minimum age for the third training camp has been reduced from twenty-one to twenty years and nine months.

COTTAGE NOTES.

The Sophomore and Freshman College and Second-year School sewing classes will devote one of their regular two-hour laboratory periods per week to the Red Cross.

To gain practice in serving, the sophomore class gave a tea to the girls of the cottage on Tuesday afternoon, October 30. They also gave a subscription breakfast on November 6, demonstrating the Russian style of service. Several of the co-eds with Corinne Tapley and Doris Long took advantage of this breakfast since it was served half an hour later than the dining hall breakfast.

A meeting of the G. C. A. was held on Monday afternoon. Gladys Daggett, '19, was re-elected manager of the basketball team and twelve girls agreed to try out for the team, which will hold its first practice Nov. 9.

M. Estelle Sprague will have the flat in Whitney Hall vacated by Dr. and Mrs. Sinnott, who have moved into the Gulley house.

SOPHS PRACTICE FOOTBALL.

Strong Team Out—To Play Freshmen, November 17.

The sophomore class held its first football practice in uniform on Storrs Field on Saturday afternoon, November 9, in preparation for the annual Sophomore-Freshman football game.

The team is virtually the same as the team that lined up against the Class of 1919 last season. The presence of "Jim" Goodrich, who will play with the freshman team, will be missed in the sophomore backfield, but the line should feel material strength in Carl Alberti, last year's varsity center.

A great surprise was uncorked, when "Connie" Mahoney, who played halfback for the College team last year and broke his leg in a practice game, appeared on the field in uniform. Mahoney will play quarterback for 1920.

Although little is known of the freshman lineup, it is certain that James Goodrich, Clifford Prescott and Fred Maier will keep the upper-classmen on the jump, and much is expected of Carl Small, who played end with Colby Academy last fall.

The game will be played on the Storrs Field, Saturday afternoon, November 17, in spite of the lack of togs and equipment.

dents' representative, he has plans worked out, and as soon as Doctor Mackenzie opens the campaign, the committee will begin at once to get subscriptions from every student and faculty member in the College.

After considerable discussion on the amount that ought to be raised on the Hill, the Council agreed on a minimum of ten dollars per man, and this would make about $2,500 for the College.

Mr. Dickinson is working out plans to have a large clock placed somewhere in the Main Building during the week of the campaign, so the students can watch the fund grow.

In all probability this campaign will be launched next week, and a canvass of the entire population on the Hill will be made.

At the Council meeting it was brought out that some students could not give ten dollars at once so it was decided that pledges should be issued and payments could be made by easy installments. This will give every one a chance to help make the Students' Friendship Fund grow.

Mrs. R. I. Longley and the children are expecting to spend the winter at Stamford, Conn., with her mother. Due to the impossibility of securing any help, she has found it necessary to give up her house work for the present. The Longley house will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Campbell. Mr. Longley will remain to continue his work with the College.

ALPHA PHI NOTES.

The annual Freshman Smoker was held on the evening of October 30 in the Club Room. W. T. Ackerman, '15, was present and spoke entertainingly of the College and its conditions when he was a student.

Lieut. D. G. Horton, U. S. R., was a recent visitor on the Hill, having spent the week-end of October 20 here. He is now stationed at Camp Devens and is in the 301st Machine Gun Battalion.

F. G. Lyon, '16, M. A., has enlisted in the Sanitation Department and is now "somewhere in France."

Recent visitors on the Hill were W. H. Carrier, '13s, and H. B. Ellis, '15, both of whom are seriously contemplating entering the Third Officers' Training Camp, which opens January 5, 1918.

W. T. Ackerman, '15, is also planning to enter the Third Training Camp. He is now located with the State Board of Education as a Supervisor of Agricultural Education, with headquarters at the College.

H. G. Steele, '13, visited the College recently and expressed great joy at the news that there were over a hundred freshmen.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davis. Mr. Davis was a member of the Class of 1913.

Frank J. Rimoldi, '13, finished his course in Agriculture at the New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, last June, and is now located with the New York State Food Supply Commission. He is the assistant of the commissioner in one of the northern counties, with his headquarters at Albany.

Joseph M. Crawford, '17s, visited the College on November 8 and 9. He is now located on the home farm in New Canaan.

Arthur N. Johnson, '17s, is located on a farm in Pond Ridge, N. Y.

COMMONS CLUB NOTES.

The Commons Club held its annual smoker on Tuesday night, November 6. A large number of freshmen were present and spent a very pleasant evening. Professor Charles A. Wheeler, one of the honorary members, was present and gave a short talk.

E. A. Manning, '17s, and J. E. Ayer, '17s, renewed old acquaintances at the smoker. Mr. Manning is still living in Yantic and Mr. Ayer is working with his father on his farm in North Franklin.

At the meeting of the Class of 1920, held November 1, the following officers were elected: President, Frank J. Mahoney, vice-president, Miss Loretta Guilfoil; treasurer, Frank Wooding; secretary, Herbert Wright.

MISS CURTIN AT STORRS.

Miss Harriet Curtin, former manager of the dining hall, visited at the College last Saturday. Miss Curtin has been spending the last few months at her home in Pittsfield, helping to care for her sister, who has been seriously ill.

"Warning Signal"
INSURES PROPER SPEED ON EVERY
New De Laval
Cream Separator

Nine people out of ten turn the separator handle too slowly. Thousands of tests with experienced separator operators show this to be the case.

Other tests made by the highest authorities have shown conclusively that there is a big cream loss when the separator handle is not turned fast enough.

Such cream losses are avoided with the New De Laval. The Bell Speed Indicator on the New De Laval is a "warning signal" that insures proper speed at all times. No matter who runs the De Laval, this "warning signal" tells when the speed is not right. You hear it and do not need to see it. This one feature alone may easily save the cost of a cream separator in a few months.

But that is only one of the big advantages of the New De Laval. Other advantages are greater capacity, closer skimming and easier turning, simpler bowl construction and easier washing.

All discs are now interchangeable and are unnumbered. There are fewer discs. On account of greater simplicity of bowl construction, the New De Laval is easier to wash and, capacity considered, is still easier to run than before. High-grade construction and design, together with perfect automatic lubrication, are a guarantee of durability and satisfactory service.

A Catalog of the NEW De Laval Machines will be gladly sent on request.

CAMPUS STAFF HARD AT WORK

REGULAR MEETINGS HELD.

College Paper on Definite Schedule and will Appear Absolutely on Time.

The "Campus" Board has begun its year's work in earnest, and at the present time a staff of about twenty are putting out the paper. As a part of the program of the year, weekly staff meetings are being held and one of the duties of each member of the staff is to attend the meetings which come at 1 o'clock every Saturday afternoon. The responsibility for various departments will be given over to various members of the staff as fast as they make good on the job. Glenn H. Campbell meets with the staff each week and takes up with them the various problems of newspapering.

At the first meeting of the Board held Saturday, November 3, the general plan of the work on the staff was outlined. Sheets of paper were then handed out and each person asked to write all the news tips they could think of. After the sheets were collected, the tips were read while Editor R. H. Barrett wrote them on the board. To the amazement of some of the more inexperienced "cub reporters", the combined tips covered the entire blackboard surface of the room, giving ample proof that there is more news going to waste than is ordinarily used. At the second meeting, held November 10, the staff had a drill in news writing. Some of the more fundamental rules of style in newspapering were explained, and the staff also took up the writing of "leads" for news articles. Each member wrote a short article, which was then taken up and discussed from the standpoint of construction. The various points made were illustrated by quotations from newspapers of the day.

Editor Barrett stated at the close of the staff meeting last week that the places on the Board are open to any one who will make good on the job. "We are anxious to put out a paper that will be a credit to us," he said, "and the only way we can do this is by giving every one a chance, and opening the staff meetings to every one who wishes to attend."

The "Campus" has been put upon a definite schedule for the year and will appear every other Friday from now on. Nothing will be allowed to interfere with this schedule, according to Mr. Barrett, and if any one is curious as to the day upon which he will receive the first copy for March, for example, the editor will tell him and guarantee he will get it upon that day.

Those trying out for the Board and attending the staff meetings were: S. A. Edwards, H. B. Lockwood, R. F. Beldon, W. J. Schimmel, A. C. Bird, F. Bauer, Helen Clark, B. A. Leffingwell, W. E. Brockett, N. D. Wheeler, S. L. Ward, I. Shapiro, F. M. Miller, C. Luddy, S. C. Smith, M. Dodge, and F. C. Maier.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING.

The Freshman Class at a meeting in Hawley Armory on the evening of November 7, decided that a masquerade ball would be held by the class on or about New Years. A committee of the following men was appointed to look after the affair: Frederick Maier, Dewey Knott, George Hayes, Carl Small and Harold Olds.

It was decided that the class adopt the colors of the last senior class. Thus purple and gold were automatically made the colors of the Class of 1921.

Abdian, the College banner-man, spoke a few words to the class on what he could offer them in the line of class banners.

George Hayes was elected Basketball Manager. The meeting adjourned early in the evening on account of the Dramatic Club tryouts.

EXTENSION NOTES.

Recently D. W. Working of the States Relations Service of the United States Department of Agriculture visited the College for the purpose of becoming more intimately acquainted with the extension work which has been conducted during the past year. Mr. Working seemed well pleased with the results which have been accomplished.

Through the coöperation and assistance of the Animal Husbandry Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, an assistant in poultry extension work has been employed. He will begin his work in coöperation with R. E. Jones, the present extension poultryman, at an early date.

On Saturday, November 3, there was a conference of all extension specialists, this being one of a series of conferences which will be held for the purpose of more closely coördinating the work of the departments.

A number of applications for extension schools have already been received. Plans have been made to give about two extension schools in each county during the winter and early spring. The extension schools will begin on January 1. These schools are granted only on a petition signed by at least twenty heads of families whose purpose is to attend the school. Courses in dairying, soils and crops, fruit growing, poultry, and home economics will be given. Plans for farmers' institutes this winter are being completed.

RED CROSS DANCE HELD.

On Friday evening, November 8, a dance for the benefit of the Red Cross was held in the Hawley Armory. The music was furnished by A. I. Horne, pianist, W. B. Gerharat, violinist, and S. B. Morse drummer. Cider was served by R. Driscoll. Dancing continued till 11 o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Sinnott announce the birth of an eight-pound boy on Saturday, November 10. Both Mrs. Sinnott and the baby are doing nicely.

Concerning "Smokes"

Because of the increased cost to us, we are forced to advance the price one cent each on some packages. You will, however, still be able to get your smokes from us at a lower price than elsewhere. Also we have a very complete line. We can satisfy your taste.
