TRINITY LOSES GAME TO CONNECTICUT

JOHNSON'S PITCHING BEWILDERS OPPONENTS THROUGHOUT

Juniors Present Flowers to Captain

Even the baseball nine helped to begin Junior Week right by giving Trinity a good trimming on Dow Field, Wednesday, May 19.

The spirit rose high when the Juniors marched out in a body to the field and presented Captain Mahoney with a large floral offering in the form of a horse shoe.

Johnson held the visitors to two measley hits, the first of which did not occur until the seventh inning. The Aggie batters had the ball located throughout the whole game, as is shown by the hits which were well distributed throughout. Only through Trinity's fielding were we prevented from chalking up a larger score.

The game by innings is as follows:

1st inning. Cram flies out to Sickler. Nichols walks. Reddish hit by pitched ball. Leeke sacrifices, sending Walsh (running for Reddish) to second. Lynch flies out to Brigham.

Lord hits to Walsh, thrown out at first. Brigham puts a neat hit over second base for one bag, steals second, goes to third on Walsh's error. Sickler flies out to Lynch but Brigham beats the throw home. Mahoney smashes another of Reynold's deliveries for a single. Alexander's grounder is stopped by Lynch who throws him out at first.

Conn. 1—Trinity 0.

2nd inning. Buckley fans. Bowdich walks. Mahoney catches Doran's foul fly to the grandstand. Metelli's throw to second stops Bowdich from stealing and retires the side.

Hopwood fans. Bauer and Alexander both hit grounders to short and are thrown out at first.

Conn. 0—Trinity 0.

3rd inning. Reynolds fans. Cram walks but is thrown out trying to steal second. Nichols hits a hot grounder to Alexander, who throws him out at first.

Johnson hits one over second for a single, steals second and third. Lord flies out to Walsh. Brigham flies out to Cram. Sickler fans.

Conn. 0—Trinity 0.

4th inning. Walsh fans. Leeke rolls a grounder to Mahoney who touches first. Lynch's grounder is picked up by Johnson, who throws him out at first.

Mahoney rolls one to Reynolds who throws him out at first. Alexander's

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET A BIG SUCCESS

GOOD SPIRIT SHOWN BY BOTH CLASSES AND FACULTY

Many Interesting and Humorous Talks Given

The Junior-Senior Banquet, which took place Wednesday evening, May 19, at eight o'clock, marks another mile stone in the history of college events.

As is customary, the Junior Class entertained as their guests the Senior Class. Honorary faculty members of each class were present. Dr. E. W. Sinnott, honorary member of the Junior Class served as toastmaster. President and Mrs. C. L. Beach, Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Newton, Mrs. E. W. Sinnott and Professor H. R. Monteith were the faculty members present. No Junior-Senior Banquet is complete without Professor Monteith's presence. For exactly twenty consecutive years have the banqueters listened to the venerable old man on these occasions. In his address, Professor Monteith recalled the days when champagne flowed as freely as did "Adam's Ale" at this year's banquet.

After the excellent banquet, the toastmaster called for an address of welcome from Mr. E. D. Dow, President of the Junior Class.

During his talk, Mr. Dow gave an account of what the Junior-Senior Banquet really stands for. It is the final "burying of the hatchet" between the two classes. It signifies that the Juniors are assuming the responsibility of guarding the traditions and customs of C. A. C.

Douglas A. Evans, president of the Senior Class gave a response.

Impromptus were then called for.

RUMOR OF A SENIOR SECRET SOCIETY AT C. A. C.

NEW MEMBERS TO BE "TAPPED" FROM JUNIORS

It is rumored that a new Senior Secret Society has been formed at Connecticut. Little information regarding its purpose, manner of organization or place of meeting can be published. However, there must be some sort of an organization, for new members will be "tapped" today.

All elections to this society will be based on class standing, college activity and personality. The primary prerequisite seems to be that a man cannot be "tapped" unless he is a Junior and has the three other big above named requirements.

HIGH SCHOOL DAY COMMITTEES WORKING

INVITATIONS HAVE ALREADY BEEN GIVEN OUT

Preparation is the Key Note of the Day

About 500 High School Seniors, 250 girls, 250 boys, representing 50 schools will be on the Hill High School Day. The invitations have already been mailed to the respective high school principals for distribution.

The Lodging and Registration Committees have worked out jointly, a plan for assigning all visitors to rooms before they arrive, Saturday, May 29. All invitations are numbered consecutively. When a student arrives he presents his card to the registrar who will look up his number and write down the room number on it. In this way all confusion will be done away with and all men from the same school will be together.

Meals will be served in one continuous run, rather than in sections as was done last year. The large college tent will be pitched near the dining hall to accommodate those who cannot find seats indoors.

Mr. J. L. Hughes and Mr. A. Croteau have been added to the Registration Committee. Mr. J. N. Fitts has been made a member of the Guides and Signs Committee.

PROFESSOR WHEELER'S HOME CATCHES FIRE

STUDENT FIRE DEPT. DOES GOOD WORK

Just about the time that the students were getting down to the business of eating, the fire bell rang. Business and green peas were forgotten. Everybody started for THE FIRE.

It was at Professor Charles A. Wheeler's home and was burning at a brisk rate when the main body of the breathless spectators arrived. Mr. H. J. Baker was perched at the top of a ladder with an extinguisher, the chemical dripping from the ends of his vest.

Daring fire fighters placed themselves on the ridges of the roof and afforded excellent targets for other members of the "department" who soon arrived with the big chemical. After the department had amused itself for a time by spraying the crowd with "dope," a committee of about 300, following critical autopsy, declared the conflagration to be dead.

JUNIOR PROM TAKES PLACE IN HAWLEY ARMORY

LARGEST FORMAL DANCE EVER HELD AT C. A. C.

Decorations Have Never Before Been Duplicated

The Junior Prom, which took place on May 20th, proved to be the biggest and most successful formal dance held at the college in the last few years. Not only was there a much larger number of couples than ordinarily, but the decorations and boxes were the greatest evidence of the work expended.

Due to the number present, even the stage was used as a boxing place.

Nature figured largely in all the decorations. The orchestra was housed in a birch pergola, decorated with hanging plants and topped off by an old fashioned straw roof.

By glancing at the boxes, one could easily know that spring had come. Keen rivalry existed among the different fraternities in regard to their box decorations.

The dance rules stated that no windows should be covered in any way to hamper the full benefits of the evening breeze. Consequently the boxes were decorated on such a scheme as would designate pergolas, or garden houses. In one instance a fountain was installed, occupied by real gold fish.

The whole hall was canopied by blue and white bunting, which aided materially in spreading the excellent music furnished by the Peerless Dance Orchestra of Willimantic.

The following is a list of couples, which was complete at the time the article went to press.

Frank J. Mahoney with Florence B. Hevrin, Willimantic; Chauncey G. Markham with Doris Borden, Hartford; William F. Maloney with Lillian F. McKenna, Willimantic; Robert S. Laubscher, Evelyn R. Laubscher, Rockville; Earle D. Blevins, Loretta W. Guilfoile, Waterbury; Frederic Bauer, Mrs. F. H. Bauer, Washington; George P. Goodearl, Agnes M. Hallock, Washington; John H. Bigger, Gladys I. Aggies Win Two Consecutive Games

VARSITY NINE LEAVES ON NORTHERN TRIP

Three Games Scheduled

The Varsity nine leaves on its northern trip, Monday, May 24. Eleven players, Coach Mellor and Manager M. L. Osborn will make the trip, leaving Eagleville on the 6:03 A.M. train. They will cross bats with the St. Michaels nine at Winooski on Tuesday. From there they must journey to the University of Vermont, where the real metal of our team will be tried. The University of Vermont has a team which is winning a wide reputation this year. Coach Mellor is confident of a good showing against them, since making the favorable changes in the outfield.

The last stop is made at Middlebury College, where a fast game is expected. The team is due to be home Friday afternoon, for on Saturday they must show the High School Seniors what our Varsity nine can do to the Mass. Aggies.

JUNIORS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

TRACK MEN WISH TO MEET RHODE ISLAND

Coach Guyer called a meeting of all track men on Monday, May 17, to consider taking up the Rhode Island State College offer of meeting them in a dual meet at Kingston.

The men, when called to a vote, were all in favor of going. As far as the students are concerned, the meet has been arranged for. It now rests with the Faculty and the Athletic Advisory Board, whether or not we make the trip.

Rhode Island State College will guarantee half expenses. This will be our first opportunity of entering track as a minor sport at C. A. C. The Athletic Association has already adopted amendments to its constitution, stating the type of letter which will be awarded track men.

CONNECTICUT WINS FIRST HOME GAME OF SEASON

COACH MELLOR'S CHANGES IN THE OUTFIELD PROVE THEIR WORTH

The new combination which Coach Mellor has placed in the infield had an opportunity to show its wares when Connecticut crossed bats with Wentworth Institute, on Dow Field, Saturday, May 15. Metelli was playing behind the bat, Mahoney had been shifted to first and Alexander was covering short. Bauer and Sickler played in the outfield. Johnson pitched a good game for the Aggies, striking out eleven of the boys from Boston. This combined with the ten hits which the blue and white chalked up, put the game on the shelf for Connecticut.

1st inning. Murphy hit by batted ball. Thurber hits for one base. Goes to second on Dillon's sacrifice—Johnson to Mahoney. Scores on Farnum's three bagger. Newton strikes out and Farnum dies on third.

Lord pop flies to Relihan. Brigham fans, Sickler walks. Goes to third on Mahoney's one bagger. Mahoney goes to second. Alexander's long fly to right field retires the side.

RACQUET WIELDERS LOSE CLOSE GAME

All Matches Were Spectacular

Due to the unsettled weather and the condition of our tennis court, the first tennis match of the season was not played until last Saturday, May 15.

Our racquet wielders met the fast Trinity men on their own courts and in spite of the fact that it was our first match on an out-door court, made the opponents fight for every inch of their gain. All the matches were close and Trinity's win was by no means as spectacular as the write-up in the Hartford papers led one to believe.

Griswold played Hartzmarker in the first single and had him at the small end of a 5—0 score, when "Doc" suddenly blew up and lost. This was in all consideration, considered the best set.

Wood and Griswold were just barely beaten in doubles, as is shown by the close scores of 6—4 and 6—3.

We are scheduled to play Trinity in a return game on our courts on Tuesday, May 25.

Our team is working daily on the out-door courts and will show the visitors a faster game than was played on their own courts last week.

FRESHMEN WIN OVER FACULTY IN FAST GAME

The Faculty and Freshmen participated in what may prove to be one of the closest games of the season on Tuesday afternoon, May 18. All went well until the beginning of the sixth when Mellor's hit brought in two runs for the Faculty. The Freshmen bunched their hits in the latter part of this inning, however, and three men crossed the plate.

RELATION BETWEEN SPEED AND RANK OBSERVED

SLOW ONES ARE NOT THE MOST ACCURATE

Exceptions Occur However

The oft imposed maxim that the slow workers are the careful ones and obtain the most perfect results while the quick are careless and inaccurate has been proven to be quite incorrect through observations made by Dr. T. H. Eaton, based on results obtained in his psychology class. His plan was to observe the relation between the time taken in writing quizzes and the correctness of what was written, i. e. the mark.

Dr. Eaton did not tell the students what he intended to observe, but as the first to finish passed in his examination book, he wrote "1" on the cover. He wrote "2" on the second book to be passed in and so on. After he had corrected the papers, he made out the following table which shows clearly the relation between speed and rank.

Time	Score	Rank
1	80	4
2	77	5
3	60	13
4	88	2
5	90	1
6	62	9.5
7	50	16
8	63	8
9	51	15
10	75	6
11	71	7
12	71	9.5
13	61	11
14	60	13
15	60	13
16	49	17
17	81	3
18	35	19
19	42	18

The first one to finish had the fourth highest mark in the class, the second one the fifth, the third one the thirteenth, the fourth one the second; the fifth one ranked first. With few exceptions these observations show that in most cases the quick ones are also the most accurate and it is the slow ones that pass in poor examination papers.

Here are some exceptions however. In this table, for instance, the student who finished seventeenth, was placed third in rank. He was nearly the last one to finish, but was among the first in rank. Undoubtedly he was one of the few of the slow and careful type. Also the third one to finish ranked only thirteenth. This shows the other exception of the quick and inaccurate. On the whole, however, it is clearly seen that there is a positive correlation between speed and marks, which will probably disagree with ideas already held by many.

Observations have been made on other examinations and it is safe to make the generalization that the quick usually obtain the best results, and the slow, the poorer. The statement that the slow are careful and the quick, careless, seems to have no ground, as concerns the writing of examination papers, at least.

DAIRY JUDGING CLASS MAKES LONG TRIP

HUNDRED MILES BY AUTO

Best Herds Visited

Early Thursday morning about fifteen students with Prof. G. C. White left the "Hill" on a three hundred mile trip which required three days. These men were enrolled in Dairy III D and took the trip for the purpose of inspecting some of the best herds of dairy cattle in the New England States. The first stop was made at Rockcliffe Farms, Yantic, Conn. Here some very fine Jersey Cattle were found, most of which were imported stock. Perhaps the most interesting individual found was Nesta's Lass who has a record of 9,972 lbs. milk and 553.48 lbs. fat in a year. This cow was Grand Champion Cow at the Eastern States in 1919.

The second stop was made at Brantford Farms, Groton, Connecticut. The large estate proved very interesting and three different breeds of animals gave ample opportunity for several classes to be placed and looked over. All of these animals are to be sold this week so were in the best show condition possible. The party left this farm in time to enjoy a water fight or two at a hotel in Providence, R. I., before retiring for the night.

An early start was made the next morning for Brockton, Massachusetts, where the famous Field's Holstein herds were closely examined. This herd has some of the most productive families of the breed combined in their stock. Mixtures of such blood lines as "Rag Apple," "Colantha Lad" and "Aaggie" pedigrees make up some of the best Holsteins available. In the afternoon the party visited the famous Langwater Farms which is noted most for their excellent Guernsey cattle. As the weather man was still following them with bad weather, the party was anxious to get to Worcester and a show.

After a good feed, show and night's rest the class was off again for the well known Ayrshire herd of Mr. Sagendorph in Spencer, Mass. This farm had some excellent cows to show and a former Scotland Champion bull. Enos managed to induce the Dodge Bros. to bring up the rear some two hours late but "he got there."

Last but not least a Jersey herd was visited at Sibley Farms at Spencer Mass. Mr. Sibley has developed a good line of "Owl Interest" breeding.

Several of the men left the trip at different points to visit their homes. The trip was voted most profitable and enjoyable in spite of the long days of riding and on Saturday night old C. A. C. was a welcome sight.

The crowd soon dispersed and hied its way back to its melted ice cream and its untouched roast. The fire evidently had been started by a spark from the chimney and the greater part of the damage was confined to the roof.

GLEE CLUB GIVES ITS FIRST PRESENTATION

THINK IT OVER

The Campus has once before brought up the matter of the publication of an agricultural monthly by the students. Such a paper is published by the 'Ag.' students in many of the State colleges in the country.

The 'Ag.' Club has taken up the question for Connecticut and considerable information is at hand from several student agricultural papers. Copies of eight papers have been received besides long letters from many of the managing editors, including details of organization, advertising, circulation and editing.

It has been proposed that such a paper be called "THE CONNECTICUT AGRICULTURALIST," a name very comparable to that used for the other state college 'Ag.' papers; that it be published in nine issues, the first of each month beginning with October and ending with June; and that the 'Ag.' Club back the paper, electing a board of publication.

Printers estimates have been received and the question will be discussed as to practicability before the Student Publications Committee, on Monday, May 24th, when a delegation from the Agricultural Club will meet with the faculty committee.

The one problem at present it seems would be subscriptions, as it will probably be necessary to get 500 copies out each issue to begin with, in order to make the advertising and publication practical.

Think this matter over, offer your suggestions and if the publication is started subscribe, give it a boost, and it will help put Connecticut, both College and State, along side of the other and larger states.

UPHOLD OUR HONOR

It is a crime that Connecticut's reputation for good sportsmanship should be soiled by the ungentlemanly spirit of a few. This was notable at the Wentworth game last week.

There is, as a rule, no reason to criticize the cheering section and its behavior, but once in a great while a few in the crowd will not behave themselves. This was the case in this instance. The boneheaded minority was feeling extremely active and made itself very apparent. So noticeable in fact that it was necessary for the Cheerleader to call down the cheering section during the game.

Certainly the average student knows that a good sport will not "razz" or "rag" the opposing players with personal remarks and uncomplimentary observations. Connecticut means to treat the members of the visiting teams as if they were guests and to show them the best possible good time.

The majority cannot be blamed for the poor sportsmanship here alluded to but the majority can be blamed for not putting an end to it sooner. The majority is usually in power and should exert its opinion, especially in such cases, where Aggie's honor and reputation is liable to be tarnished.

APPRECIATION

The students, faculty and inhabitants of Storrs are quite fortunate in being so well entertained and amused, especially when we consider the isolation of the campus from the rest of the world.

Besides the student organizations which make it their aim to provide amusement for the community, the Social Committee, which is made up of members of the faculty and students, are responsible for an extremely high grade entertainment course, and weekly moving picture shows, followed each time by dancing.

Entertainment facilities have improved considerably in the last two or three years and the social committee is the body which has provided us with such fine amusement. The students certainly appreciate their efforts.

SUPPORT THE MANAGERS

Too often do we hear of the poor support which the managers and assistant managers of athletics receive from the three upper classes. Whenever a Freshman refuses to report on the athletic field, upon the request of an athletic manager, he is not being reprimanded. The upper-classmen see it going on continuously. Whenever the athletic field is not looking at its best, those same men who would not back up the managers by bringing a disobedient Freshman to account, are the first to crab.

Freshmen, it is your duty to obey all requests from managers and committees for help in college activities! The upper classmen must see that these requests are obeyed and all offenders punished. Otherwise the smooth running of athletics is impaired.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Margaret Dodge '20, of Storrs and Robert Fitch Belden '20, of Danbury, Conn., was announced May 20 at a party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elwood Dodge. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Dodge, Philip Dodge, Stanley Dodge, '21, Margaret Dodge '20, Robert Fitch Belden '20, Howard Goodrich '20, Flora Miller, '20, Douglas Evans '20, Mable Pinney '22, Marian Nutting '21, John Collins Taylor '21, Norman P. Dickens '23 and Evelyn Church of Storrs and Margaret Mitchell of Portland, Conn.

ALUMNI, PLEASE NOTE

This is Alumni Day. Through the work of the Junior Class, every effort has been made to provide for your comfort and your entertainment; we bid for your interest and your support. As an undergraduate body we feel that there are many ways we can profit by your seniority and experience. We appeal to your loyalty to your Alma Mater. You have the advantage of being able to see us as the world sees us. Sometimes we fall short of our best endeavor. We need older and wiser heads that are in sympathy with us and our purposes, to guide us. We look to you for advice and council. May Alumni Day prove a success.

JUNIOR CANE TRADITION ORIGINATED IN 1915

After noticing the deluge of Junior Canes which has struck the campus this week, a querulous person might ask who started such a custom at Connecticut.

As near as can be ascertained, it was John Hill and Ralph Henry, of the Class of 1916, who conceived the idea. There was but one dissenting vote when the proposition was put before the class and on Junior Week of 1915 the entire class turned out for a parade with canes.

The canes were somewhat similar to those now being exhibited. The shaft was of snakewood, the ferrule of bone and the sterling silver band

SAFETY VALVE

DON'T CRITICISE THE TEAM

Dear Editor:

Who can now say that Connecticut does not have a team which can really play ball? I believe we have all been rather harsh with out criticism, often reaching the point where it sounded more like crabbing. We must all agree that crabbing or so-called "razzing" a team, does not help their playing any whatsoever.

Apparently Coach Mellor has found the right place on the team for every player. A team which played with as much spirit as our boys did Wednesday, need not have any apprehensions about meeting a collegiate team.

Just think of it! Not an error was made! Only two men got as far as second and one of these was thrown out at third. Could we ask for more efficient fielding than what was shown in the Trinity game?

Let's all support the team as never before. Forget their past trial record and boost them on to a winning finish.

SHOW COURTESY

Dear Editor:

It would seem that a few—a very few, do not know, or do not wish to use, ordinary courtesy in regard to the use of the public telephones on the Hill. It has become a fairly common thing to be broken in upon while telephoning, by some one who demands in an extremely discourteous manner that you get off the line, or who makes some sort of unpleasant noise in the transmitter, till one is forced to discontinue the conversation out of self-defense. It has also been noticed that several times the noisy party did not wish to use the phone at all, but merely showed a desire to annoy someone else.

Now if only the fellows were using the phones, this would not be so serious, but it must be remembered that often there are ladies on the line, and we should show a proper sense of respect for them. Sometimes a fellow is even talking with his mother, and it makes him feel pretty mean to have such a thing happen at such a time.

If one really wishes to get the line when someone else is talking, a polite request will usually bring the desired result just as quickly as the other means.

It may be well to mention that the firm of Hill and Henry, as they were then known, was also instrumental in putting out the first "Nutmeg" and in starting several other new customs including the Junior Parade.

GLEE CLUB MAKES ITS SECOND APPEARANCE

Went to Putnam Under Auspices of the Grange

The Glee Club went to Putnam Monday evening, May 17, 1920, on their second concert. They were a much different crowd that arrived there than the fellows who came for the Freshman banquet.

The trip was made by auto truck. At 8:30 the concert commenced and followed practically the same program as the one given at Willimantic except that Director Farrel whistled an imitation of a mocking bird and several other imitations. The quartet and solos were well enjoyed by the audience and all were encored.

After the singing was over, Mrs. Bartlett, who did much in getting the Glee Club there under the auspices of the Grange, introduced the fellows to the young ladies. A dance followed with music furnished by the College Orchestra. Dancing lasted until 12 and the truck started for home minus several of its occupants who did not get around in time to catch the truck, but who took the train from Putnam to Willimantic. The truck arrived at the College in the early hours of the morning with a tired but happy crowd.

PRESS CLUB MEMBERS GIVE C. A. C. BIG PUBLICITY

Student Tells of Work Done by Experiment Station

The members of the Press Club are giving C. A. C. some wonderful publicity. The following is an article which appeared in the "New England Homestead," written by Oliver J. Lyman, '22.

"Some very interesting experiments in Agronomy are being conducted at the College Experimental plots. These experiments are under the supervision of Prof. Wm. L. Slate.

At the present time the most interesting and important project is a Corn Silage Experiment. The object of the work is to determine the feeding value of silage. A comparison will be made between different varieties of corn and also to discover at what stage of maturity the corn silage will give the best results. The importance of the experiment can be shown by the following example. The farmer today wants to know whether or not he is justified in raising Eureka corn for silage with a yield of of eight tons of silage per acre instead of a Leaming variety with a yield of perhaps five tons. But if experiment should prove that it is necessary to add three pounds of hominy to his Euraha in order to get the equal production of milk from the same amount of Leaming silage the choice of next year's seed corn may be changed materially.

In order to carry on this experiment three silos, each 36 ft. x 6 ft. will be constructed to take care of the silage. Three groups of cows from the college herd will be selected for use in the experiment. These cows will be fed on different types of silage during different periods and the results compared. In this way the real result of the experiment will be in terms of pounds of milk produced."

Another experiment which was to have been conducted has been cancelled until next year. This experiment was to have been on pastures. It is perhaps of equal interest to the agronomist. Since the experiment cannot be conducted this year on account of the labor situation, the details need not be given.

OPENINGS ANNOUNCED FOR MARKET REPORTERS

Mr. W. H. Darrow, marketing specialist for the College Extension Department, announces that it will be necessary to employ two market reporters for the summer. One of these men will be stationed on the Waterbury market and the other in Bridgeport. It is possible that a third man will be employed to cover Norwich and New London markets. It is hoped that these men will be obtained from the present Junior or Senior classes.

This position offers an exceptional opportunity to study market conditions. The work will cover the period between June 15th and October 15th. Anyone who is interested in such a position for the summer should consult Mr. Darrow at once.

TURKEY BREEDING EXPERIMENT RESUMED BY STATION

Connecticut Captures Prizes at Egg Show

There has been no water at the poultry plant since Saturday, May 15, and the help has had to carry all water from the beef barn. The poultry department will appreciate the new Mansfield pipe line when it is installed.

Mr. C. S. Gibbs, assistant to Doctor Leo F. Rettger, State Bacteriologist, arrived at the poultry plant Saturday, May 15. Mr. Gibbs has taken charge of the young turkeys. He has been unable to do any laboratory work as yet, on account of the non-arrival of his equipment. Mr. Gibbs will be joined shortly by Doctor Rettger and both will remain on the Hill for the summer.

Connecticut captured one third prize and one fifth prize in the late Purdue Egg Show. Three dozen whites and three dozen browns were entered.

Doctor L. C. Dunn, the geneticist of the department, is carrying on certain breeding experiments with white mice. These experiments are mainly inbreeding on known and inheritable characteristics. It is hoped that results may shed some light on how it is possible to evolve a 365 egg hen.

The Rhode Island Reds still hold first place in the Egg Laying Contest but the Barred Rocks are gaining rapidly. The three leading pens at the end of the twenty-eighth week of the contest are as follows: Pinecrest Orchards, Groton, Mass., R. I. Reds, 1154; Jules F. Francais, Westhampton Beach, L. I., Barred Plymouth Rocks, 1146; George Phillips, Seymour, Conn., White Leghorns, 1126.

SENIORS DECIDE ON CLASS DAY EXERCISES

A program for Class Day exercises was approved by the Senior Class at a meeting held Wednesday night, May 12.

As most of the underclassmen will probably be gone before Class Day, the committee on arrangements though best to omit the class will, and the address to underclassmen. The program as it now stands will consist of the Class History, by Loretta W. Guilfoile; Class Prophecy, by Paul N. Manwaring; and the Farewell Address by the President, Douglas A. Evans.

DAIRY NOTES

Work on the frame of the new Dairy Barn was begun last Monday and if the weather permits the frame will be completed by tonight.

The foundation on the runway between the present dairy barn and the new building was also begun last Monday.

The work is progressing very good under the prevailing weather conditions. The heavy and almost incessant rains of the past few weeks have caused considerable delay in the progress of the structure.

CO-EDS TAKE PART IN HOME ECONOMICS DRIVE

Many "Ex" Juniors Expected Back for the Week

At a recent meeting of the W. S. G. A., the women voted to take part in the drive for funds to establish a department of Home Economics at the American-College at Constantinople. This campaign is being put on in Home Economics Colleges all over the United States.

Those who heard Rev. Hubbard in his address at College Assembly recently, will recall that he mentioned this college in connection with his talk on conditions in the near East. He stated that his daughter was teaching in the Armenian College at Constantinople. He also pictured very vividly the need and desire on the part of the native women for a western education.

The American Home Economics Association has undertaken the task of raising $6,000 for establishing a chair of Home Economics at Constantinople and has appealed to the generosity of Home Economics teachers and students all over this country, with gratifying results.

Helen B. Barker is spending the week end at her home in Providence, R. I.

Among the 'ex' Juniors expected up for Junior Week are M. Gertrude Luddy, of New Britain; Alice M. Simonson of Milford; Vera Lee Bader of Terryville; and Stella Cylkowski of Pawtucket, R. I.

The old steam boiler in the creamery is being torn out and will be replaced by a vertical boiler from the dining hall.

It is planned to repair the steam line between the central heating plant and the creamery as it has been a constant source of trouble because of the leakage. While this is being done the creamery will have to supply itself with steam. The present boiler was condemned some time ago as unfit for use so the boiler from the dining hall was taken.

The creamery will need steam during the entire summer for the tester, pasteurizer, lactic butter culture and for washing and as only 15-20 lbs. are necessary it would obviously be very costly to run the main heating plant to supply steam for one building.

The creamery is now making on the average over seventy five gallons of ice cream per week. The demand is increasing every week for the creamery products and Prof. Fisher already has an order for fifty gallons of ice cream for Alumni Day.

Next year the Seniors will take a year's course in City Milk Supply. This course is given every alternate year.

William Gronwoldt '21 will have entire charge of the creamery during the coming summer and Walter Wood '22 will be his assistant. All of the regular creamery products will be made, including cottage cheese, for which there is a large demand.

CHARLES LEWIS BEACH, President

STUDENTS HEAR HAMILTON HOLT AT COLLEGE ASSEMBLY

AUDIENCE LISTENS SPELL- BOUND TO HIS TALK

League of Nations Discussed

Hamilton Holt, editor and owner of the Independent, was the speaker at President's Hour on Friday, May 14. His subject was the "League of Nations." The large audience present was greatly impressed by Mr. Holt's ability in handling this subject. He showed a remarkable knowledge of facts concerning the league and forcibly showed why the United States should enter into it. During the course of his remarks he called for a vote on the question. A large number showed a preference of the league with mild reservations. Only a few favored adoption without reservations, adoption with the Lodge reservations, or entire rejection.

Some of the main points in Mr. Holt's address were: The peace conference at Versailles was the only one comparable to the Congress of Vienna. At the Congress of Vienna were Czar Nicholas, Frederick the Great, Talleyrand, Metternick, and Castlereigh, all aristocrats. At the last peace conference we find editor Clemenceau, lawyer Lloyd George, and professor Wilson as the leading figures. The treaty is a document containing 75,000 words, and 26 articles of the covenant. The league of Nations is mentioned seventy-one times. The treaty is the league and the league is the treaty. They are inseparable. In the conference representatives of 30 nations come together for the exercise of their wisdom but local interests, selfish claims, and national aspirations prevented smooth running. The result in the Senate fight over the treaty and league shows that each faction has demonstrated that it can and has licked the other. However, no better plan has been suggested.

After publication of the covenant, it was open for discussion. Concrete suggestions were made for its improvement by Lodge, Taft, Hughes, and Root. Most of the suggestions of these prominent Republicans were incorporated in the revised treaty. The party, however, did not take advantage of this fact but deliberately "poison gassed" it.

The covenant is nothing but a contract. It is a contract by which sovereign nations can act unanimously in the best way. No nation loses its sovereignty but performs its obligations itself. The machinery of running the league is of relatively little importance. Agents and secretaries will be employed to carry on its business.

During the course of his talk Mr. Holt vividly described the life of a newspaper correspondent at the conference. Some of his experiences were very amusing. He heard President Wilson make his famous speech in favor of the league and said that it made him feel proud that he was an American.
