Aggie Cheers Expected to Get Win over Lowell Tomorrow in First Home Game

STORRS CONNECTICUT, FRIDAY OCTOBER 15, 1920

NO. 3

THE "AGRICULTURIST" FAILED TO MAKE GOOD

"AGRICULTURIST" WILL NOT BE PUBLISHED

Possibility of Starting Next Year

The publication of a monthly agricultural magazine, which the "Ag." Club intended to put out under the name of "The Connecticut Agriculturist," has been postponed indefinitely. It is possible that the proposition will be taken up again next year.

The Agriculturist Board wishes to consider all pledges good, should the magazine be started next fall.

All paid pledges will be returned in the near future.

A failing of general business, resulting in a scarcity of advertising has made the publication of the paper impracticable.

HAMILTON HOLT WILL SPEAK HERE MONDAY

MADE BIG HIT WITH COMMUNITY IN SPRING

Has Just Returned from Europe and Will Talk About League of Nations

The student body is greatly interested in the return visit of Hamilton Holt to Connecticut, for he will address the community on Monday evening, October 25, in Hawley Armory, at 8 o'clock P.M. He is editor and owner of the "Independent" and was received with enthusiastic approval by the students and faculty when he lectured on the League of Nations at a College Assembly last May.

Mr. Holt, though he considers himself a staunch Republican, is firmly behind the league and treaty of peace in the form advised by President Wilson, and according to a recent article published in the New York "Times," he will vote for the Democratic standard bearers in the coming election, and is in hopes that some of the most prominent Republicans will do the same.

Besides the fact that he will vote for the Democrats much interest attends his coming, for Mr. Holt has just returned from Europe, and will relate his impressions of conditions in Europe especially as regards the League. He is at present secretary of the executive council of the League and because of his many visits to

Highest Honors

The Connecticut Judging Team won twelfth place in the Students' Dairy Judging Contest which was held in connection with the National Dairy Show at Chicago on Saturday, October 9, according to a telegram from Professor R. C. Fisher which was received at Storrs. Professor Fisher accompanied the judging team to Chicago and agreed to telegraph the results of the contest to the College as soon as they were published.

Of twenty-one teams entered in the Contest, from all over the United States, Connecticut stood twelfth, on all breeds of dairy cattle. The standing of the team in judging the different breeds was: Second on Jerseys; sixth on Ayrshires; fifteenth on Holsteins and last on Guernseys. Of the individual scores, Johnson was 13th high man out of 63; Burrington was 35th and Jacquith was 43rd.

The team from Kansas State College took first place and Sweepstakes in the contest, besides standing first in judging the Holstein and Jersey breeds.

A team from Maryland was the best judge of Ayrshires and the Nebraska

Breeders' Gazette Praises Cattle

The name of Connecticut Agricultural College was widely advertised this fall by an excellent exhibit of cattle, sheep and horses which was shown at a large number of fairs by the Animal Husbandry Department. The Nutmeg State College exhibit received very favorable comment wherever it was shown and brought home a large number of ribbons and rosettes to decorate the college trophy room.

At the Central Maine Fair held at Waterville, the Herefords and Shorthorns captured two firsts, a second, and two thirds besides Senior and Grand Championships in the Shorthorn class. The New England Fair at Worcester furnished another clean-up for Connecticut, and as a result Professor Garrigus' office received further decorations in the way of a blue and two red ribbons in the Hereford class besides another championship rosette. The college Shorthorns failed to arrive intine to be judged or a few more ribbons would have come back to C. A. C.

Greenfield, Mass., proved to be a plum for the Connecticut animals and when the judging was over Mr. Crampton, '20, who was in charge of

SCHOOL OF AG. BEGINS SESSION ON OCTOBER 20

EVENING CLOTHES MAY

Second Year Men are Ready to Cope with Short Term
Newcomers

A number of changes have been effected in the administration of the School of Agriculture which will open on Wednesday, October 20. The schedule has been arranged to accommodate students who work on farms but who desire to obtain a scientific agricultural training during the winter months. Such a course is being largely subscribed to by those who already have had some practical farm experience; this, and a grammar school education being the principal entrance requirements.

The Sophomores of this division are preparing a welcome for the thirty oncoming Freshmen. Much doubt is being expressed as to the advisability of having this welcome take the form of a pajama-clad promenade, for the general sentiment seems to favor a more refined greeting, and there is a possibility that pajamas would prove objectionable to ward off the cool, frosty, nightly breezes.

ATHLETES WILL RUN DANCE IN ARMORY

VARSTIY CLUB'S
FIRST DANCE

Profits of Affair Will be Used to Buy Insignia for Players

The Varsity Club will hold a Benefit dance Saturday night in Hawley Armory. This is the first dance that the club has essayed since it was organized last year. It will not be formal and there will be no boxes.

The Peerless Orchestra of Williamantic will furnish the music.

J. P. Johnson, W. Graf, and F. J. Sickler are in charge of the affair. The money obtained will be used to buy such insignia for graduating Varsity men, as will indicate their participation in their special sport.

Beginning Monday, October 18th, the Ag. Club will run a membership campaign. Last year the club held a record membership of 105. It is hoped to excel that record for the coming year.

Several students who had subscribed to the Agriculturist have suggested their intention to turn their subscription money over to the Club for a year's membership.

ALUMNUS DO YOU WANT THE "CAMPUS"

The "Campus" has stated that its first object this year will be to serve the alumni of the institution in keeping them in touch with the activities of the alumni association and alumni, as well as the activities of the college undergraduates and faculty. In view of acquainting the alumni with the fact, the "Campus" board has sent copies of the first two issues of the "Campus" to every alumnus of the college, free of charge, which has necessitated a circulation of 2,300 papers for each issue. Due to the fact that the response from the alumni has been small, and because very few of them have signed the subscription blanks and forwarded them to the business manager, this issue is also being sent to the alumni free of charge.

However, this is positively the last issue that you will receive unless you have paid your subscription fee of $2, so if you have pigeon-holed the subscription blank sent with the first issue, for attention at some later date, you had best fill it out and forward your check to Carleton J. Austin, business manager. If any alumnus, after examining this issue does not feel that the "Campus" board is serving the alumni let us know about it. But don't forget your subscription fee.

AGGIE SECONDS TIE RHODE ISLAND SCRUBS

FREQUENT FUMBLING CAUSES LOSS OF GAME

Brundage Hero of Contest

The Blue and White scrubs took a long auto trip Saturday through the wilds of Rhode Island and although they were lost in the woods surrounding Kingston almost until the time of the game, they managed to outplay the Rhode Island second team and tie the game at six all.

The opposing eleven were lucky to get an even break in the score. Connecticut kicked off and smeared Rhode Island in their tracks. A blocked punt was captured by Connecticut and the Blue and White eleven stood under the goal posts of Rhode Island but poor judgment and a fumble gave the ball back to the home team and our chance to score was lost.

Throughout the first half the Aggies tore the Rhode Island line to shreds and our backs plowed through for easy gains but fumbles and mistakes cost us dearly and the half ended without either side scoring. In the second half the Connecticut team seemed to lose some of its pep and the Rhode Island quarter managed to get away for a fifty yard run on a cross buck play and place the sphere on our ten yard line, from where they carried it over for the first score. They failed to kick the goal.

Brundage replaced Morley at full-back and branded himself the hero of the game a few minutes later by intercepting a forward pass and running almost seventy yards for the touchdown that saved the game for Connecticut. Lawson failed to kick the goal and altho the referee admitted that Rhode Island was offside on the kick and had hurried Lawson, they refused to allow him to try the kick over.

Both teams tried desperately by an aerial attack to score again but the whistle ended with the ball in Connecticut's hands in the center of the field.

ALUMNI

Next week's "Campus" will have the full details of the Alumni Commencement Celebration last spring, including the reunion of the Class of 1910 and the Alumni dinner and business meeting. If you want to get the next issue, don't wait, but send your subscription fee to Carleton J. Austin at once.

AGGIES MEET LOWELL TEXTILE ELEVEN TODAY

Alexander and Ashman Return to Squad Swartz Confident of Win

Coach Swartz will send his charges against Lowell Textile this afternoon in the first home game of the season. Little is known of the ability of the visitors but as they have always been represented by a fast team there is no reason to underestimate their strength.

Nevertheless Coaches Swartz and Boyer are confident that the Blue and White will be on top and that the Main Building bell will toll out the news of victory.

A number of shifts in the line have strengthened that body considerably. And if it shows the fight that it has in practice this week, Lowell will have a hard time stopping the Aggies.

Alexander, end on last year's team, is back so the Baxter-Alexander combination can be looked to for some gains similar to those produced last season. Ashman is also back at guard and is pounding the line in fine shape. Clark has shown up extremely well in practice and may get a chance to show his wares in today's battle at the opposite tackle from Capt. Mitchell.

The backfield will line up the same as last week.

The second team will play Loomis in Windsor and have high hopes of wiping out the stain of last year's overwhelming defeat at the hands of the maroon colored eleven.

JUNIORS WIN EASY GAME BY 13 TO 0

Wooster Stars with Two Touchdowns. Sophomores Completely Outplayed

The Juniors won a rather easy victory over the Sophomores in the opening interclass game by the score of 13 to 0.

Coach Mitchell's charges completely outplayed their opponents and would have run up a larger score except for the inability of the backs to hold punts. This cost them the loss of considerable territory as the Sophomores recovered fumbled punts a number of times.

Wooster's track ability was too much for the Sophomore ends and twice he broke away for long gains which resulted in touchdowns. Mit-

AGGIE FANS OF BAY STATE TO ATTEND GAME IN HUB

Massachusetts Alumni are Backing Team to Beat Boston University

The members of the Massachusetts Club of the College will be out in a body to attend the Connecticut Aggie-Boston University game to be played at Fenway Park, Boston, October 30, according to advice received from "Pop" Eaton, '11, secretary of the organization. The members of the club will meet at the Adams House in Boston, between 1 o'clock P.M. and 1:30 o'clock P.M., to go to the game.

All Connecticut Alumni in Massachusetts have been notified of the date of the game according to Mr. Eaton and all are looking for a repetition of last year's victory of the Blue and White over Boston University.

TECH HUMBLER AGGIES BY NARROW MARGIN

FUMBLE IN LAST PERIOD WAS FATAL TO ELEVEN

Team Does not Hit Stride Until Game is Lost. Aggies Excell in Line Bucking

For the third time this season the wearers of the Blue and White came out on the small end of the score, losing to Worcester Tech. 9 to 6 at Worcester last Saturday, and giving their opponents the first victory they have had in football in three seasons. The game was clean played and interesting throughout, and although Connecticut did not begin to play hard until winning was a hopeless task, spectators could see that the green material which reported for early practise was forming into a formidable machine, which will be capable of making the Rhode Islanders step some, when the season's headliner is played at Storrs on November 20. Forward passes used by their opponents and poor punting by the Connecticut kickers, as in the two earlier games, proved to be the downfall of the Nutmeg team, but the offensive work of the team was beautiful to see, although fumbles usually lost the ball for Connecticut when the team was working smoothest. The tackling was greatly improved and the work of Boas and Emigh at end was often spectacular. The fast Lowell Textile team will meet a real opponent when the whistle blows tomorrow on Gardner Dow field.

The Game

Mitchell kicked to Worcester and Hajosy downed the runner on Worcester's 25 yard line. By line plunging and off tackle plays and a penalty received by Aggie for being off-side, Worcester advanced the ball to the center of the field, only to lose the pigskin by a fumble, the ball being tucked safely under "Beano" Graf when the pile of players was unheaped. Connecticut backs could not gain and Mitchell punted, Boas throwing the Worcester player as he received the punt. But the Connecticut line could not hold until the Red and Grey backs had advanced to our 45 yard line, when Worcester was forced to punt, Baxter receiving the ball on his own 20 yard line. Maier made five through the line.

Second Quarter

Mitchell punted, the ball going off-side on Connecticut's 30-yard line. On the next play Worcester made 8 yards through guard, and Ferris took Juralowitz's place in the line. A line plunge made it first down for Worcester, but four tries at the Connecticut line availed little, and a fumble recovered by Patterson gave the Aggies the ball. Mitchell standing behind his own goal line punted to the 30 yard line. Worcester attempted a forward pass which was not completed, and Boas smeared a cross buck for a loss. On the next play a Worcester back received a short pass and ran past all but Baxter who downed him on Connecticut's 10 yard line. The Connecticut line however, playing perfectly, proved to be impenetrable, and Worcester lost the ball on downs. Daly dropped back to punt, but the ball slipped from the side of his foot as he kicked and fell behind the Aggie line. Mitchell recovered the ball but was tackled behind the line for a safety which gave Worcester two points.

Third Quarter

Baxter received the kickoff on his own 33 yard line. Daly made five through center, but Connecticut was penalized for holding. Ricketts scooted around end for four and Baxter added two. On the next play Mitchell punted to Worcester's 42 yard line. By line bucking Worcester carried the ball to our 38 yard line, where another short forward was completed and the runner pulled down by Baxter on the Aggie 5 yard line, the ball being carried over for a touchdown on the next play. Worcester kicked the goal.

On the kickoff Baxter carried the ball to the Aggies 39 yard line. Maier gained four and Daly one, when Connecticut was penalized for being off-side. Ricketts gathered eight around left end but Mitchell was forced to kick. Emigh downed the player who received the punt on Worcester's 15 yard line. The Tech. backs, tired and exhausted could not gain, and Worcester punted to Baxter on our 35 yard line, who ran the ball back 11 yards and then made 6 yards around left end. Daley made it first down through the line and the quarter ended after Maier tried the line for no gain.

Last Quarter

Ashman replaced Ferris at guard when the teams lined up, and Connecticut started down the field. Maier gained six and Baxter made it first down. Daly battered his way through for three, and Ricketts made it first down after an end run. Baxter then skirted the right end, being downed on Worcester's 5 yard line. Maier placed the ball behind the goal line. Baxter failed in his attempt for the goal.

Daly kicked off to Worcester, but the Tech. backs could not gain and the Red and Grey punted to our 35 yard line. Baxter ran around right end for five yards and Maier made it first down. Daly made 9 yards thru tackle but on the next play Connecticut lost the ball on a fumble. A forward pass brought Tech. to the Aggie 5 yard line, where the Connecticut

STUDENTS' COUNCIL EXPECTS BIG ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Daniel Graf, Experienced Council Member is President

The Students' Council is embarking upon what its members consider a most progressive program for the year, and at a recent meeting the wheels were put in motion for student supervision of the dormitories under a new system unlike the one employed at Connecticut for the past few years, and serious consideration has been given to the advisability of the Council's having supervision of the cut system. The council also discussed the fact that students in the dining hall were being charged the maximum board price, and not receiving the service which according to a circular letter published early in the term should be given for this rate.

It is quite probable that the Council will suggest to the Students' Organization that the grounds about the dormitories should be policed each week end, this work to be done by Freshmen supervised by members of the Council.

Daniel Graf, who has been a delegate to the Students' Council for two years, was elected president for the year. Newton W. Alexander was chosen vice-president and Henry Boas '22, was electer secretary.

PHI MU DELTA

The Chapter has just purchased a fine new Estey piano-player to make up for the loss of the chapter pianists, "Fat" Ryan, ex-'20, and "Pop" Reynolds, ex-'23.

The annual smoker of the fraternity will be held in the chapter room in Koons Hall on Friday evening, October 29th, at 8 o'clock.

CO-ED NOTES

Miss Irene Collaty, ex-'23, and Miss Marguerite McGraw were week-end visitors at Whitney Hall.

Miss Mason spent the week-end at her home in Springfield.

Mildred Gay, '22, visited in Thompsonville.

Gladys Goldthorpe, Frances Bristol and Bertha Gilbert were at their respective homes over the week-end.

Because of their heavy schedule Junior Practice House students have abandoned regulation breakfasts and now use the a la carte method. Guests entertained in Practice House during the week were Miss Sprague, Miss Mason, Miss Piper and Helen Stevens.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Student opinion seems to point to the fact that traditions are not being properly upheld here at Connecticut, judging from conversation heard here and there. It's a poor thing for a college they say, unless there is a reason.

Some people are interested in the class banner question. 1916 had a class colors of Black and Orange. According to tradition 1920 should have the same, but despite much criticism they chose red and white. What will the Freshmen do this year? The class colors of the various classes are as follows:

1921— Purple and Gold —1917
1922— Green and White —1918
1923— Black and Gold —1919
1924— ? ? ?

It is customary for incoming classes to have the colors of the outgoing senior class.

The political campaign at Storrs has caused considerable excitement at times during the past few days. The Republicans, being the first to organize, soon found that it was safest for room furnishings to keep the windows closed, especially in "Headquarters," and the Democrats early learned that the supporters of the G. O. P. were equally skilled with apple ammunition. 'Tis a fine thing to heave apples, and rocks now and then, at the abodes of one's political opponents.

Credit ought to be given for President's Hour, so that it would be possible to debar those students who cannot understand the worth of a good speaker. Perhaps an entrance examination would prevent many from gaining admission, who now compete with the weekly speaker, even while he is on the rostrum, or else snore so loudly as to be disturbing.

Somebody out on the sidelines remarked that the team looked as if it would give Rhode Island a terrible tussle next month. Have you been out there to see for yourself.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL ACTIVITY

It is pleasing to the student body to learn that the Students' Council is going to attempt to do real constructive things this year, and to be something more than a detective bureau responsible to the faculty. In the light of activities of former councils this year's body has marvelously advanced in the importance of its aims. It is no secret either, that many of the faculty favor the stand the council has taken this year, and are hoping that the students will be able to accomplish a successful self-government.

INSURANCE FUND IS SWELLING

The fund being collected for football accident insurance is progressing rapidly, according to William Gronwoldt, chairman of the Committee. Mitchell has been collecting from the Juniors, Lord from the Sophomores, and Ricketts from the Freshmen, School of Agriculture and the Specials, while the chairman has collected from the Seniors. Nearly two hundred dollars has been gathered to date. The football squad has been strengthened and a few of last year's squad who were injured last year have lately reported.

ATTENTION! CO-EDS!

Girls, how many of you are going to vote? Of course, all of you will, that is, if you are old enough. The question is, do you know what you are going to vote for? You know the general facts, of course, but do you know the details? Do you know the platforms of each party and the principles for which each party stands? If not, then there is no better opportunity than now to get a sure understanding and an insight into the great questions of the day.

The girls should read the daily newspapers, the magazines, and above all should enter into political discussions when such a thing is possible. There is no way of learning things more effectively than by discussing the problems in questions. Then, there is the Republican Club. If you are in sympathy with this party, go to the meetings. There will also be many good speakers at college this fall which will give an excellent opportunity to absorb political knowledge. It is up to the girls, let them show the fellows that they take an interest in the government, that they can help out, and that politics need not be made over because the nineteenth amendment has been ratified.

Moreover Dame Rumor says that there will be another football for the trophy room tomorrow night. Then, too, the A. A. can't afford to give footballs to opposing teams.

Professor Roscoe Vining is using every means to insure bodily comfort to the members of his English classes, as well as to add classical surroundings. We're glad that some will find it comfortable to go to class.

THE GLAD HAND, AGGIES

All students, and Freshmen especially, should not forget that Connecticut is entertaining a football team here on the campus over this weekend. Connecticut is proud of its democratic and hospitable feeling toward visiting teams and although it seems that all colleges certainly must feel likewise, some of them fail to treat visitors as hosts should. Teams picked on the Aggie schedule are considered carefully for the type of students they enroll and Connecticut is proud to welcome them to what she thinks is a most beautiful campus, and energetic student body. So whether the Blue and White team wins or loses, and the boys are expected to do the former trick. Lowell is our guest and not our enemy and all good Aggie men and women will have the glad hand and the cheery Connecticut "Hello" for all members of the visiting team.

DRAMATIC CLUB
BEGINS YEAR*Will Stage Production at Football Hop

The first meeting of the Dramatic Club this year was held on last Wednesday evening. Officers were elected and the probable plans for the coming year were discussed.

The new officers are: President, William F. Maloney; Vice-President, Salome C. Smith; Secretary and Treasurer, Philip F. Dean; Manager, Franklin W. Hawley. The offices of Assistant Manager and State Manager are to be left open for the present. Ralph S. Wooster was voted into the club.

It is planned that the Dramatic Club will present a play at Football Hop time, as is the usual custom. Committees were appointed to look up probable plays and to secure a coach.

COLLEGE DEBATING CLUB*Society May Put on Debate at College Assembly

At a meeting of the College Debating Club held Monday evening, the following officers were elected:

President, Lionel Faulkner; Vice-President, C. A. Slanetz; Secretary, R. C. Abbe; Treasurer, Henry Boas.

A literary program was also presented, in which present day conditions in Russia were discussed. Tryouts for membership were held and the following men admitted: Samuel Kostolefsky, Ray Collins and I. Comins.

Many plans for the development of the Club and for the staging of a debate at College Assembly were also discussed, and it was decided to take steps in this direction immediately.

More tryouts will be held in a few weeks and all interested should hand in names to any member of the Club or to the Club's advisor, Dr. Denlinger of the English Department.

SAFETY VALVECO-EDS WITHOUT GOAL

In behalf of the co-eds, not only of this college generation, but of generation to follow, I wish to ask a question through the medium of this paper. Why are not the co-eds eligible to the honorary fraternity, Gamma Chi Epsilon? In other colleges, Colby, for instance, they are not barred from Phi Beta Kappa. If I am not mistaken, it says in the Freshman handbook that to be elected to this fraternity, Gamma Chi Epsilon, "a student must have a record of B etc." Can it be that the co-eds are not students of this college? The existing state of affairs is all the more lamentable in that some of the co-eds are higher in scholarship than some of the Gamma Chi Epsilon men. At least that was the case of one of the young women in the class of 1920. Such a state of affairs leaves the co-eds with nothing to work for, with the exception of a passing grade, as they have no promise of reward in their junior or senior years. Doesn't it seem a pretty sure thing that the scholarship of the young women would be raised if they had a goal to urge them on? In this age of equal rights, I think it our duty to see that not only the co-eds now enrolled but those to follow should have a square deal.

Salome C. Smith.

Our arrival this fall was filled with a good many pleasant surprises mingled with a few disappointments.

We were told of a wonderful dining hall with gleaming white tablecloths and waiters. For this service we were to pay eight dollars a week. But as formerly we were obliged to push a tray. The tablecloths had materialized but there were no waiters.

For three weeks, three hundred students have paid an extra dollar each week and are still living in hopes of receiving their money's worth.

With the dollar's value at a minimum we are more anxious than ever to get our money's worth.

A Sore Mathematician.

SESSION OF AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES AT SPRINGFIELD

The American Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations will hold its annual session at Springfield, beginning Monday. The purpose of the meeting is to keep in touch with the agricultural research and teachings in the United States.

The presidents of the state agricultural colleges and the heads of the experiment stations throughout the country are to attend. It is expected that Connecticut will have a large delegation at this conference.

Charles Ray in "Alarm Clock Andy" will be the headliner at the movies tonight. "Take the Doctor's Advice," and Wandered and Whozitt will complete the program.

"E equals IR. Now what is IR?"
Flynn, '23: "Poor English, sir."

Co-ed: "Professor, did you say that plants and animals are becoming more complex?"

Inmate of Koons Hall, from back of room: "Women are."

The "Junior Jingle," as demonstrated by the Junior football team last Monday, will feature at the Varsity Club Dance.

Judging by the large number of golf stockings in evidence on the campus a lot of the boys must have been "caddying" this summer.

They say that Ricketts' spirit has 'gone west.'

Freshman to Senior: "How do you like the dining hall?"

Senior: "If it wasn't for the book store, I wouldn't be able to get indigestion this year."

AG. CLUB WILL HOLD WINTER FAIR

Plans to Have Varied Programs During Year

The first meeting, this year, of the Agricultural Club took place Thursday evening, October 7th.

The Winter Fair which will be staged in the Armory on Friday, December 10, was discussed and committees were appointed. Everything points to an Ag. Club Fair of unequalled size and quality. This year the Co-eds will have an important part in making it a success, by exhibits and a sale booth.

R. G. Chaffee, '22, Chairman of the Program Committee, reported on his schedule for the open meetings of the Club. The season's program will be filled with motion pictures, local and outside lecturers on all phases of agriculture. These meetings will come at approximately bi-weekly periods, generally on Thursday evenings.

Committees were appointed to look into the matters of membership and an insignia for the Club.

The following members of the faculty were elected as honorary members: President C. L. Beach; Professor H. L. Garrigus; Professor W. L. Slate; Professor G. C. White; Mr. A. W. Manchester.

The Club will back the Agriculturist in the expenses of that publication.

Europe is considered one of the leading American authorities on the League of Nations.

Due to the fact that Mr. Holt will be here Monday evening there will be no President's Assembly on Wednesday, and the faculty are anxious that all students should hear Mr. Holt, because he is an interesting, instructive and extremely humorous speaker.

"CAMPUS" WILL PROVIDE RED HOT NEWS SERVICE

Willimantic Chronicle to Furnish Latest News Every Day

By arrangement with the Willimantic "Chronicle" the Campus will be able to publish each afternoon the latest news items and political developments in the outside world, thus giving the college community the most important and vital news several hours before the daily papers arrive on the campus. For this purpose a bulletin board will be erected on the South side of Storrs Hall where it will be visible to people on their way to the dining hall and which will be equipped with electric lights in order that "Campus" patrons may be able to 'learn the latest' at any time during the day or night.

It is expected that the board will be completed and placed within 10 days and besides latest press news, football scores, etc., schedules of the days meetings and activities will be published.

the exhibit stowed away two championship rosettes, four first prize ribbons, and two seconds.

The College horses were the sensation of the fair circuit this season and after they had cleaned up the majority of prizes at the New England Fair and the Springfield Exposition, a number of requests were received by the college to show them at other fairs. At the New England Fair they won seven firsts and three seconds and also the Grand Display.

At Springfield in one of the strongest classes ever seen at an eastern show and one that would compare favorably with many of the big western shows, Dragon Jr. captured second place in the aged stud class for Percherons. He was defeated at Quantan, a much larger horse owned by the Delchester Farms. In the three year old class we won first and third respectively on Carcille and Favorite Lady, while Princess Nellie took the blue ribbon and Championship in the Belgian class against a number of mares from the Flintstone Farm. The Flintstone Farm is probably the largest breeder of Belgians in the east so this is a notable victory.

In competition with three of the best show flocks in the United States the college sheep showed their class by bringing home a first, a second and a third. In addition the college bred lambs captured a first, a second, two thirds and a fourth. Altho the college showed a very few sheep they gave an excellent account of themselves and showed the breeders that Storrs animals are able opponents in the Animal Husbandry Department.

"We were agreeably surprised by the exhibit of Belgians and other draft horses made by the Connecticut Agricultural College, which foremost among New England institutions of its kind in fostering the breeding of heavy horses for agricultural purposes. Its entries in the big show (Springfield Exposition) were fitted and shown with uncommon skill."

should not be criticised for admiring her new petticoat; we quite agree that it is attractive. But we feel that she would be somewhat less conspicuous in polite society if her costume were completed by a chic tailored suit of rich material such as is used by the makers of

WORK HORSE BECOMES GRAND CHAMPION

Discovered at Syracuse Last Spring

Princess Nellie, 6097, a three year old Belgian mare, owned by the College, did herself credit at the Eastern States Exposition, when she championed her class and went Grand Champion over the studs of two Massachusetts Belgian breeders.

Last Spring when Prof. Garrigus went West to buy horses, he spent several days, without much success in making purchases. Finally returning home, he visited the stable of a breeder in Syracuse, N. Y., where he purchased this mare to bring to the college farm for a work-horse.

When Princess Nellie reached Storrs in May she weighed slightly over 1500 lbs. In three months she tipped the scales at more than 1800 and stood up a bigger mare in all ways.

At Springfield in September, considerable interest was shown in the Belgian judging and to the great surprise of the breed a heretofore inconspicuous individual outclassed two well-known groups of mares shown by breeders of repute.

He will return this next fall to complete his college course.

Clarence E. Lee, '16, former state vocational agricultural instructor at New Milford, Conn., has recently accepted a position with the department of rural education, college of agriculture, Cornell University. He is to be maintained by the university at Trumansburg, N. Y.

MASS MEETING BRIMS WITH PEP

At the mass meeting held Thursday night there was a fine exhibit of Connecticut ginger. Cheer Leader Dow fetched out of his bag a couple of new tricks for the vocal chords to juggle with, and judging from the snap and volume with which these new cheers are delivered, they have already reached that point of popularity held by the old ones. Several football men spoke on the situation of that sport at the present time. These included, A. Mitchell, Captain; W. Graf and C. Ricketts. Mr. Ricketts also volunteered to demonstrate a new song which has lately been evolved. The meeting was closed with an old Connecticut and three Lowell Textiles.

ALUMNI AID EXPECTED TO MAKE BASKETBALL TEAM HEADLINER

Athletic Council Hopes That Alumni Subscription Will Amount to $1,000

That the Alumni Association is going to be a growing concern, and on an equal footing with the undergraduate body in the furthering of the progress of Connecticut before the alumni gather together again at commencement is little doubted according to the opinions of members of the faculty, who are of the alumni, and other loyal alumni. More activity is being begun from the "Hill" in the respect of holding the 'boys who have gone before' tight to the college, as can be evidenced by the attitude of the Campus and by a letter recently sent to the alumni by Sherman Hollister, alumni treasurer of the athletic association.

In this letter Mr. Hollister states that $5.00 will procure for any alumnus a ticket to all athletic games played at the college, but will also allow admission of members of the family. He has also requested each alumnus who buys a ticket to sell another.

On the budget allowed the various sports the athletic council has allotted $2200 of the estimated total of $4100, which will be collected from the students and faculty to the football season. Varsity basketball has been allotted $600 and $200 has been laid aside for the backing of the girls' basketball team. The basketball manager will have $1200 to run his schedule on. However, in making out the budget, Mr. Hollister counted on $1000 from the alumni.

Basketball is going to be emphasized this year, as in the opinion of the athletic council, this sport should be most successful from our standpoint this season. Although the football management is doing its best to cut down expenses to save some of the football budget for the basketball season, as things now stand Manager Earle Blevins, '21, will not have enough funds to schedule enough games suitable for the fine basketball material in the college. All but one of the varsity men of last year are back. The basketball schedule at present only has thirteen games and but five of these are at home. It is the opinion of the council that this basketball season is Connecticut's golden opportunity to gain prestige in sports, and the success of the season depends on the alumni.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Rhode Island State College has started a Woman's Athletic Association which is an independent organization. They will have teams in basketball, tennis and hockey.

The 130th anniversary was recently held at the University of Vermont. A statue of Ira Allen, the founder of the institution was unveiled at one end of the campus.

SHERROD SOULE SPEAKS OF PILGRIM FATHERS

Tells of Their Share in the Organization of Our Democracy

Rev. Sherrod Soule of Hartford gave a very interesting address at College Assembly Wednesday, October 13. He spoke on the Pilgrim tercentenary. He said that never in history had a movement been so weak in its beginnings or so great in its results as had that of the Pilgrims. After reviewing the events that led to the landing of the Pilgrims, the speaker told of their struggles in establishing themselves on the bleak shores of New England. He also showed the falsity of many stories concerning the treatment Quakers and witches received at the hands of the early settlers. The settlement of the three river towns in Connecticut and the writing of the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut were described in detail by Mr. Soule. Organization of the government of the colony and the Charter Oak tradition were reviewed by the speaker who closed his address by saying that the Pilgrim monument at Plymouth embodied the principles of the Pilgrim movement. They are Faith, Morality, Law, Education and Freedom.

THIRD PARTY APPEARS AT STORRS

At the ninth regular meeting of the Mansfield Grange, held on Wednesday evening, the following proposals for membership were read: Messrs. Mills, Schimmel, Ellis, Beers, Howes, Hotchkis, Crampton and the Misses Saunders, McCracken, Athoe, House, Beaumont and Kittner. Bock was admitted to this Grange on a demerit from the Meriden Grange.

When the regular business of the evening was completed a very interesting program was put on. Miss Deal O. Cards, in the person of Walter Stemmons, spoke on the new Woman's Party that has been formed in Storrs. The platform of this party decrees that the salaries of the faculty shall be increased so that the high cost of living shall fade from conversation, that house rent shall be cut in half, that all balloting shall be done in accordance with the best American styles if a Paris creation cannot be found, and that no man shall be required to work if his wife needs him to care for the baby while she attends an afternoon party.

It is rumored that "Lydia" Pinkham will be nominated for the presidency of this noble party.

The Sophomores at Trinity have established a tribunal, through which they punish Freshmen for breaking rules. The class officers act as judges and the rest of the class act as the jury. Any Freshman breaking a rule is brought before the tribunal and if the jury finds him guilty the whole Sophomore class carries out the sentence.

New Hampshire State College has opened a new large girls' dormitory.

AMERICAN DAHLIA ASSN. HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Flowers Exhibited on Roof Garden

The gardens carried on at the Connecticut Agricultural College by the American Dahlia Association this year, proved to be the greatest success in the history of the organization. One hundred and sixty new varieties were entered in the contest this past growing season against forty last year. Fifty seven certificates of merit were given out to contestants this year. In order to win a certificate one must get 85 points out of a possible 100.

Fifteen states entered the contest, all the New England states being well represented. States even as far distant as Oklahoma, Ohio, North Carolina, Oregon, Iowa, Indiana, Maryland, and California made a very creditable showing.

The gardens were judged on the 24th of September by men sent from Maryland, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island as well as from West Haven, New Haven, Branford, Hartford, West Hartford and Willimantic in Connecticut.

Flowers from the gardens were exhibited at the American Dahlia Association Show held on the roof garden of the Pennsylvania Hotel, September 27, 28 and 29. This was one of the largest, if not the largest show of its kind ever held in the United States. Mr. Fraser was one of the judges from Connecticut.

The gardens have brought many visitors to the college this year and we have thereby gained much publicity through them. The prospects for next year point to a larger garden than ever and more land will undoubtedly be allotted for these gardens.

PROF. KIRKPATRICK AT- TENDS NAT. CONFERENCE

Professor Kirkpatrick left Storrs Monday to attend a conference at Washington to formulate plans for the World Poultry Congress to be held at The Hague, September, 1921.

In the forty-ninth week of the egg laying contest at Storrs two more pens both Leghorns, have passed the high water mark. This makes a total of five pens that have laid 2,000 eggs or more to date. In the 1919 contest no pens had reached this mark. In the present contest Jules F. Francais' pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks from Westhampton Beach, L. I., has a total of 2,150; Oneck Farm's Barred Rocks from the same place were first for the week with a yield of 46 eggs. One of the outstanding features of the present contest is that a Barred Plymouth Rock, owned by Rock Rose Farm, Katonah, N. Y., laid 77 eggs in 77 days. If this hen had laid one more day she would have laid 104 eggs in 104 days. Her records, however, surpasses a White Leghorn and a Salmon Favorite which previously held the record with 64 eggs in 64 days.

ANNUAL FRUIT SHOW NOV. 5 AT HARTFORD

Competition Strong Between New England Growers

By invitation of the Connecticut Pomological Society the New England Fruit Growers' Association will hold their annual show in Footguard Hall, Hartford, Conn., beginning November 5th at noon and extending through November 9th. This show, which is customarily held in Boston, was held last year in Providence. Four thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Connecticut Legislature to defray the expenses of the exhibition.

All arrangements have been left to Mr. C. L. Gould, of Cornwall, who is vice-president of the New England Fruit Growers' Association, and to Mr. Miles, assistant secretary and assistant manager of the association. These will work in cooperation with the officers of the Connecticut Pomological Society, of which Professor A. T. Stevens is president.

More than $3,000 is offered in prize-money, and it is expected that this will bring out strong competition between fruit growers, not only of Connecticut but from all the New England States.

The Hartford Chamber of Commerce is working hard to make the show a success as far as Hartford is concerned and will take charge of the advertising through signs, posters and the press.

This show is not a money-making scheme and admission will be free to all interested.

Three of the best judges in the United States have been secured to pass on the exhibit.

HOPE TO HAVE FOUNDATION OF GIRLS' DORMITORY COMPLETED BEFORE WINTER.

Work on the new girls' dormitory is well under way and a large crew of men is at work on the foundation. It is hoped to have much of the foundation completed before the snow flies.

Because of the difficulty of obtaining help in Storrs, most of the men have to be transported back and forth from Willimantic daily. For this purpose a Reo truck has been purchased. On the completion of the dormitory, the truck will probably be turned over to the Department of Mechanical Engineering.

AMERICAN LEGION HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

A regular meeting of the Mansfield Post of the American Legion was held in Room 7 of the Main Building on Thursday evening, October 7. Many of the Legion members took the opportunity of filling out their Victory Medal blanks. Refreshments were served after the disposal of business.

DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE

Webb and Maloney Leaders

For the past two weeks the Democrats at Storrs have been noticed chiefly for their apparent lack of either organization or enthusiasm; almost over night, however, a change has taken place. An executive committee of Herbert Webb, William Graf and Ralph Wooster was appointed by Chairman Webb. William Graf was appointed treasurer of the organization.

Under the direction of these able democrats and with the assistance and support of the national organization, a hard campaign will be inaugurated. Mr. Maloney, spokesman of the party, announced that in practically all of the recent national campaign literature which had been received, the platform taken by the Democratic nominees, conforms very closely to the platform adopted by the Storrs Democrats.
