WOMEN TRUSTEES PLACED ON NEW COMMITTEE

Tuition Charge For Out of State Students Made $75.

Mrs. Fred O. Vinton of Mansfield and Mrs. Otto B. Robinson of Willimantic, recently appointed trustees of the college by Governor Lake were elected to the Home Economics advisory committee at a meeting of the trustees held in Hartford Wednesday. The Home Economics advisory committee is newly created and authorities believe that the placing of two women trustees on this committee will be of much assistance to the Home Economics department in carrying out its program.

It was also voted at the trustees meeting that the tuition charge for all out of state students be placed at a flat rate of seventy-five dollars a semester. According to President Beach this will not apply to students already enrolled at the institution except in the case of those who are now paying a higher fee. In this case the fee will be reduced to seventy-five dollars a semester. Students now enrolled from out of state and paying less than seventy-five dollars a semester will not be affected by this ruling. The new rate was fixed after a census of the various state colleges throughout the country had been taken with regard to the number of out of state students enrolled and the tuition charged.

It was also voted that a student

MANY VISITORS ENJOY JUNIOR INFORMAL DANCE

ARMORY WELL DECORATED

With 150 Couples Attending Junior Class Makes Over One Hundred Dollars on Dance.

Hawley Armory presented its most brilliant appearance of the year when decked in festive garb for the Junior Informal on Friday evening, February 17. The decorations and executive arrangements were faultless leaving nothing to be desired by the one hundred and fifty couples attending the affair, including many visitors who had gathered from points all over New England to enjoy the main mid-winter event held on the Hill. The Peerless Orchestra of Willimantic under the leadership of Milton Katz '23 was in top form for the occasion and easily lived up to its enviable record established at previous Connecticut dances.

The boxes were decorated in unique and attractive manner showing the result of careful planning and skilled workmanship. The color schemes were brilliant and gave Hawley Armory the color and tone so much to be desired in interior decoration. The lighting arrangements, more elaborate than ever, were also the object of many favorable comments from those present. Simplicity was the keynote in the construction of the various fraternity and club boxes and two-color schemes of decoration with fraternity and class banners predominated with two exceptions. The box of the Cosmos Club presented the interior of a colonial house with remarkable attention to minute details and complete in every respect while the box allotted to Phi Epsilon Pi was resplendent in a dark blue background set off by miniature birds of paradise. The usual overhead effects were varied somewhat from former dances but the blue and white streamers were arranged with very pleasing effect.

A concert was given by the orchestra from eight-thirty to nine when the grand march was lead by Nicholas Emigh, chairman of the dance committee with Miss Celia Freedman. Eighteen dances and three extras were on the program with the soft lights of a silvery moon supplying the necessary illumination for three fox trots.

The patrons and patronesses for the affair were President and Mrs. Charles L. Beach, Dr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Sinnott, Major and Mrs. Robert E. Boyers and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Skinner.

The executive committee was composed of Nicholas F. Emigh, chair-

ALL STAR CAST EXCELS IN FOUR ACT COMEDY

COACHED BY M. J. FARRELL

W. I. Graf Takes Leading Role in "Hit the Trail Holliday," a George M. Cohan Production.

"Hit the Trail Holliday," a comedy in four acts was presented Saturday evening, February 18, at Hawley Armory by a cast of fifteen characters under the direction of the Dramatic Club.

On the whole the play was very good and it is hardly fair to pick out a number of persons and comment on their good work, because the entire cast was excellent.

W. I. Graf in the title role of Billy Holliday, a bartender turned Billy Sunday, did very well. The whole play was built around him and on him depended the success of the play. Franklin Hawley, in the role of Reverend T. B. Holden, seemed in his natural element. George Hilldring, as Burr Jason, hotel proprietor showed his usual skill in the thespian art. Herbert Webb as Rex Granger, an unscrupulous millionaire, carried his part and his millions very well, as did his son, Dean Granger, taken by Philip Dean.

Viola Ericson as Edith Holden took the woman lead, as the reverend's daughter. The other women parts were Mildred Gay as Mrs. Temple, a widow, and Mary Beeghley as Anna, colored maid.

The other male roles were Arthur Frostholt as Chief Crandall, Lewis Richardson as "Jed" Cusick, Harold Steck as Tony Stallings, head barber, Marcus McCarron as Joe Curtis, Paul Steere as Pete, and Clydesdale La Pointe as Hendrix, the moving picture magnate.

The play was directed by Michael J. Farrell, an honorary member of the Theta Alpha Phi, who has coached several successful Dramatic Club productions.

BUS FARE 60c AFTER MARCH 1.

The fare for bus transportation from Storrs to Willimantic will be 60 cents beginning March 1, 1922, as was announced some time ago by the Student Council.

The Council first started an investigation of bus rates in October and after considerable time spent in looking up other bus fares, in ascertaining local expenses and in obtaining legal advice, the Council decided to accept the reduction to 60 cents.

PROMINENT PEOPLE MAY ATTEND MONTEITH CONCERT

The Monteith Concert on March 9 will be attended by several important visitors if the special invitations that the Council is sending out are accepted. R. H. Mathewson, president of the Student Council, states that prominent people interested in the college will be invited to attend the entertainment which is being presented under the auspices of the Council by Miss I. Monteith of the Hartford Conservatory of Music.

AD CLUB COOPERATES IN ARRANGING CONCERT

Admission to Entertainment Fifty Cents.—No Reserved Seats.

The price of admission to the Monteith Concert will be 50 cents was announced today after committees from the Ad Club and Student Council had conferred together in regard to the advertising phases of the entertainment.

Tickets will be sold first by personal canvass and later may be obtained at the college bookstore. There will be no reserved seats, except for the faculty, who will occupy the first three rows of seats. Special arrangements will be made for the visiting celebrities who may be present.

The concert will be given wide publicity in the papers of the state during the next two weeks, according to the student authorities in charge of the affair.

MEMBERS OF FACULTY ATTEND HALL FUNERAL

Over a Thousand People Present at Services.

Funeral services for Col. W. H. Hall, formerly a trustee of the Connecticut Agricultural College, were held at his residence in South Willington last Monday afternoon.

The service was attended by nearly a thousand people, and despite the wish of the family that flowers be omitted, the entire front of the church was covered with floral tributes. Rev. Earl W. Darrow of Holyoke, Mass., a former pastor of the local church, conducted prayers at the Hall homestead previous to the church service.

President C. L. Beach acted as honorary bearer. Prof. H. L. Garrigus of the animal husbandry dept. and other members of the faculty were present also at the services.

AGGIE FIVE MEETS NO OPPOSITION IN 22-16 VICTORY OVER MAINE

ALEXANDER PLAYS USUAL STELLAR GAME.

Pine Tree Quintet Unable to Find Basket Until Substitution of Scrubs in Second Half.

Coach Tasker's Connecticut Aggie five chalked up its thirteenth win in seventeen starts Tuesday night by defeating the crack University of Maine five on the Hawley Armory court by a 22-16 tally. The game was fast and furious at intervals but it was slowed up considerably by frequent substitutions in both quintets. The Maine quintet was preceded by a formidable reputation, having lost only three contests in eleven starts but in Tuesday night's contest the opposition offered the Blue and White quintet was not of a high order.

In the first half the Northerners were unable to chalk up a single field basket, the tally at half time standing 15-2 with the Nutmeggers on the long end of the count. Close guarding by the Aggie machine prevented the Maine quintet from getting near enough to the basket to do any damage in the first half, many shots from midfloor being let loose but to no avail.

The Aggie forwards also sent many shots traveling in the direction of the basket but several of these rimmed the hoop only to drop on the wrong side.

The Nutmeg machine had the ball in its possession for the greater part of the first half and several spectacular passing combinations were uncovered.

In the early part of the second half the entire Aggie freshman team was sent into the fray and for the next few minutes the northerners held a regular field day, running up five baskets from the floor before the tide was stemmed by the return of Captain Alexander to the fray. Brig of the visiting five was the stellar performer. It was his excellent shooting from the floor that netted the Maine five the majority of its points.

Captain "Alec" was again the big gun of the Aggie offense. Time and again he weaved his way through the entire Maine defense to cage a difficult counter. His work on the floor was also a big factor in the Aggie win. On the defense "Phil" Lord played a big game, breaking up several spectacular passes that seemed destined for sure counts. Summary:

GLEE CLUB AT SPRING HILL

The rejuvenated Glee Club has been practising for the past two months under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Newton, and is to give its first public appearance at the Spring Hill Church, as part of a program given at one of the Church's suppers.

While no definite date has been decided on as yet, probably the presentation will come in the early part of March.

CONNECTICUT MEETS TECH IN NEXT TO LAST GAME

ALEXANDER MAY NOT BE ABLE TO ENTER GAME

Saturday night will see two strong quintets in action on the Hawley armory court when the far famed Worcester Tech five meets the Blue and White quintet in what will be the next to final performance for Coach Tasker's charges.

The Bay State outfit has acquired a formidable reputation during the last few seasons because of the excellent record it has acquired.

The Tech five lost out by one point to the New Hampshire State quintet on the Durham floor while the Nutmeggers overtopped the granite state boys by a three point margin on the northern trip.

Berry, the flashy Worcester Tech center caused the Blue and White five considerable trouble at Worcester last year and was instrumental in the defeat of the Aggies. He will be given plenty of opposition in Saturday night's contest however, if "Freddy" Stull keeps up the pace he has been travelling in the contests to date. Berry is a brother of our own netman, who matriculated here at mid semester and who is now a candidate for honors at the forward berth.

"Alex" May be Out

Considerable speculation is being indulged in by Aggie fans with regard to the availability of Captain "Louie" Alexander for the next two contests. "Alex" received a painful sprain in his right ankle in the last few seconds of play in the Maine game and the opinion of Dr. Simonds of Willimantic, after an X-ray, was that he would be unable to make his appearance in uniform.

Coach Tasker and Track Coach Daly have been working on the injured member however and there is a rare possibility that "Alex" may be in shape for a part of the Trinity contest.

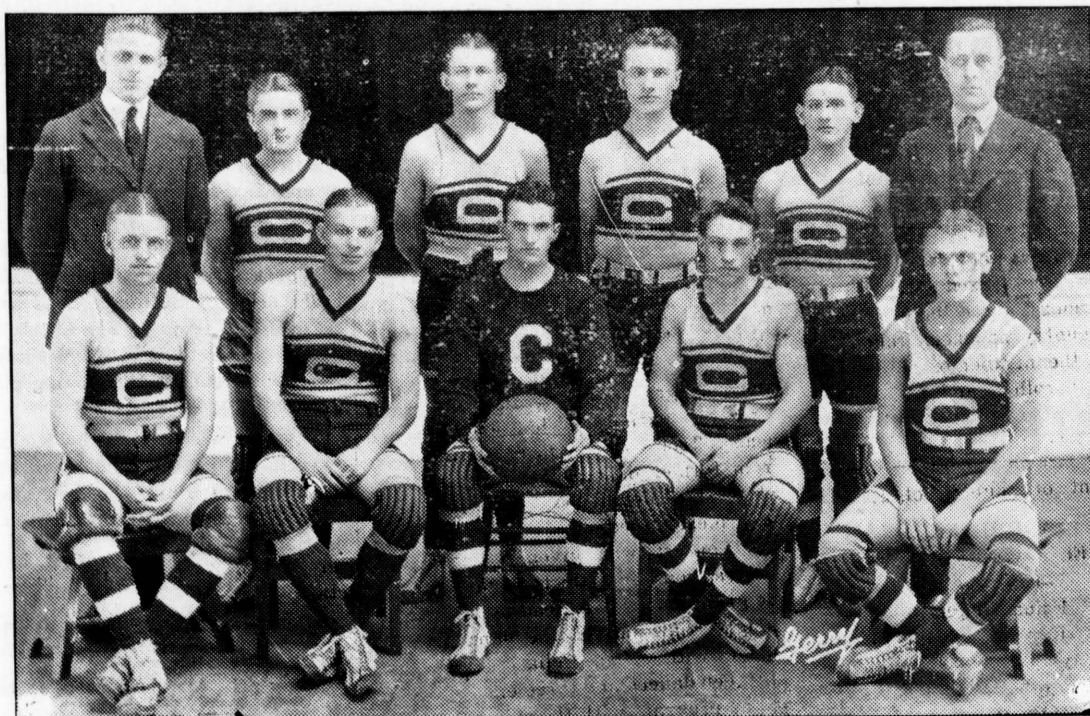

Aggie fans recall last year's final contest with Trinity and the inability of the Aggies to come through because of the loss of Alexander through the same cause.

Student opinion seems to be however that with or without the redoubtable "Alex" the Blue and White five will emerge on the long end of the tally in both contests.

FROSH CO-EDS FIND JUNIORS INVINCIBLE

As a preliminary to the usual Monday night class games the junior co-eds played the freshmen girls, the former winning by a score of 24-9. Although the freshmen played a hard game, they could not break up the juniors' teamwork. Miss Wakeman was the star of the game, making 9

BLUE AND WHITE FIVE ON HOME STRETCH

With a total of thirteen wins in seventeen starts Coach Tasker's Blue and White machine is now working hard in preparation for the two big contests, still on the slate; the game with the fast Worcester Tech. machine Saturday night and the return contest with Trnity next Saturday. Both contests will be played on the Hawley armory court.

The third match of the inter-fraternity pool tournament was played in the Alpha Phi fraternity rooms on Monday evening Feb. 20, with Ronald Bamford representing Phi Mu Delta and Walter F. Wood shooting for the College Shakespearean Club. From the beginning of the contest the result was never in doubt for "Woodie" was clearly off his usual form while "Slats" played the same consistent game which won him the cup in last year's series of games. The final score was 100 to 71 and at the half-way mark Bamford was twenty points in the lead.

The next and final match of the first round will be played Friday evening with Sigma Alpha Pi and Eta Lambda Sigma as the contending rivals.

CO-EDS TO PUBLISH NEW WEEKLY OF EIGHT PAGES*"Try and Get a Look At Its Contents"

A new publication will make its appearance on the Hill during the coming week being the product of the fertile minds of the congenial co-eds and under the title of the "Co-ed Weekly." This periodical will be run as a supplement to the Campus and will start along moderate lines the first number being mimeograph and numbering eight pages.

Little could be learned from those in charge by the Campus representative but the fact that the pages of the forthcoming gazette would not be for masculine eyes at present and representative of co-ed rights in its entirety. On being questioned as to the necessity of such a publication when the Campus is redundant with the activities of the fair ones in every issue the editor replied that the Campus was entirely oblivious of the importance of the female student on the Hill and that there was no opportunity for them to direct their poignant remarks against the men so that they could become known to the world at large; and to afford them the necessary satisfaction the present idea was formulated. After the paper is well established subscriptions will be solicited outside the realms of Holcomb Hall and the propaganda carried to the outer world.

A reward will be offered to the male student obtaining one of the first issues as a place will be reserved for it in the sacred confines of the Campus office.

"Got your ticket for the Football Banquet 'Al'?" "You bet I have! I guess the whole college will be there by the way I hear the fellows talking about it. It'll be a humdinger alright."

The foregoing conversation is but one of the many that the Campus scribe has overheard in his travels about the campus in the last few days, and according to all present indications "Al" was right when he said that the whole college will be there. According to "Jimmy" Mullane the sale of tickets for the big Aggie jubilee, which is to be held tomorrow night at the college dining hall is progressing at a favorable rate and it is expected that the full quota will be disposed of by tomorrow noon. "Jimmy," in talking with a Campus scribe emphasized the importance of the full cooperation of the entire student body in making the Football Banquet successful. "All true Aggies will be on hand that night and we expect to provide enough entertainment and good cheer to last until the time rolls around for another spree next year."

The sale of tickets among the co-eds has reached a high percentage mark and many of the girls claim that their percentage will be higher than for the men.

According to Miss Bowman of the Dining Hall management there will be nothing lacking in the way of culinary effects and when she gave the scribe a glance at the menu he added a hearty "Amen!"

Dr. Henry K. Denlinger of the History department has been secured to act as toastmaster so that the injection of wit, and sparkles of good fellowship into the program is assured. Probably several senior members of the varsity football squad will be called on to "say a few words" and it is rumored that said several members are now putting in a few hours on the track afternoons in order to get their wind back.

The lid will be wide open and "the more the merrier" is the password when it comes time for the laughs and smiles. The committee has also listed a few prominent faculty and alumni who are intensely interested in athletics at Connecticut as speakers but it is intended to keep their identity hidden until the opportune time.

It is probable that about thirty high and prep school athletes throughout the state will be here over the weekend as the guests of the Varsity Club.

Previous to the Football Banquet the fast Dean Academy five will meet the Freshmen five on the Hawley Armory court. The banquet will be held at 8:20 P. M. The visitors will be divided among the different fratern-

Now that the social whirl of the past week-end has died down we are commencing to wonder by what method of magic the next meal ticket will be purchased.

Several members of the Campus
staff are contemplating the writing of a story for the magazines. Ask any one of them the title of his story and he will tell you, The Impecunious Journalist.

The Dramatic Club is certainly in the heyday of its glory. The ability of our local thespians is highly commendable. In "Hit the Trail Holiday" every member of the all star cast deserves a good press notice from the pen of our dramatic critic.

Many of the students in the audience last Saturday evening must have noticed the excellent setting of the stage in the various acts. The men behind the scenes are not often accorded praise but they should receive their portion of it in this instance.

The next two items on the social program will be the Football Banquet
and the Monteith Concert.

THE MONTEITH CONCERT

On March 9 a concert will be given for the benefit of the Monteith portrait fund. Miss I. Monteith, daughter of our professor emeritus, is presenting an excellent instrumental and vocal program for this affair. The entire proceeds of the concert will go into the fund as the major part of the students' contribution.

Many leaders in the senior class have expressed the opinion that the students of the college will be present that night almost to a man, not only to assure financial success, but to show the many important visitors who are to be invited, how completely the student body expresses its gratitude for the long services of Connecticut's grand old man. Never was a professor so beloved as old "Monty." Every man in the student body knows him as a friend and as one of the really great savants.

As time goes on his fame will increase and the painting of his portrait will be the great event which marked the year 1922. As alumni and visiting celebrities from different parts of the state sit with the students in an armory filled to capacity,
they will be paying homage to a great man.

APPRECIATION.

The student body wishes to extend a very hearty expression of thanks to the alumni association of Hartford for the entertainment given the basketball squad in the city after the game.
The attendance of alumni at the game
was highly gratifying.

AN IMPORTANT POSITION

A college cheer leader holds an important and responsible position. His works calls for a combination of the qualities of discrimination and leadership. At times he is called upon to generate "pep." On other occasions he must restrain unsportsmanlike demonstrations that may arise.

He should be a senior, trained by experience, and proud of his job.

Long ago we came to a realization of the fact that a system for training cheer leaders was necessary. Such a system, if it is in force at the present time, is not in an efficient condition.
We have not yet reached the point where a letter is given to the deserving cheer leader, nor are we in any situation to congratulate ourselves upon the activities of our rooting sections
at games.

NEW STANDS

We have it from unofficial sources that there is a possibility of procuring a new covered grandstand for Gardner Dow Field. The baseball season will soon be here and prospects point to an exceptionally large visiting attendance at the games. Whether we get a new covered grandstand or not, we certainly need two or three sections of portable bleachers. This matter should be seen to at once.

A SMALL MATTER THAT NEEDS ATTENTION

Before another big dance in the Armory, the proper authorities should take measures to replenish our supply of presentable posts and lattice fences for the various boxes. There should be enough of these to go around.

Mr. E. O. Smith, a former professor at C. A. C., has been visiting the Hill during the past few days. He is now in business in Philadelphia and came up to Connecticut last week to attend
the funeral of his former classmate,
Col. Hall. From 1901 to 1916, Mr.
Smith taught English, Political Economy, and Economics at this college. He was also Secretary of the Faculty during that time, and was for several years Treasurer of the Board of Trustees.

EXTENSION SERVICE HAS CONFERENCE AT STORRS

Members of the state extension service held a special conference here at Storrs last Monday and Tuesday to discuss the progress made on a program of work adopted at their annual meeting last summer.

Included in the term extension service are the county agents, home demonstration agents, boys and girls club leaders, and special workers located here at college. Monday the home demonstration agents met in a separate conference to discuss their plans and program.

At the Tuesday session, H. W. Hoch-baum of Washington, D. C., representing the States Relation Service, spoke on Extension Organization, and in his talk, he emphasized the value of a definite program of work. Mr. Hoch-baum, who succeeds M. C. Wilson of the same department will be actively associated with the Connecticut Extension Service in his new position.

Prof. Davis Speaks

Tuesday afternoon Prof. I. G. Davis of the economics dept. gave a report of the marketing conference held in Boston. Speaking of the pooling plan adopted by the New England Milk Producers' Association Prof. Davis
stated that this method is outliving its usefulness, and the Association is discussing plans whereby they can take over the distribution end as well as the marketing, and in that way
have control of the milk from the time it is produced until it reaches the consumer. This plan proposes to reduce the cost of production for the producer, and possibly the final cost to the consumer.

The program of the conference follows:—

10:20 p. m. What Has Been Done
Since Our Annual Conference Last Fall. Opened by Director Baker.

1:15 p. m. Morning Session Continued.

According to the present plans of the Student Council, the Pig Roast idea may be substituted for the Banquet tradition in the near future, and a new form of freshman-sophomore scrap introduced, to replace the costly Freshman Banquet.

President R. H. Mathewson of the Student Council recently appointed a committee, consisting of R. G. Chaffee,
'22, and C. O. Dossin, '23 to investigate the pig roast idea, and to formulate plans and regulations for this new form of competition between the lower classes. The plans proposed by this committee will be ratified by the Student Council before being put into effect.

If you happen to know where

ALUMNI STILL HAVE THE OLD AGGIE SPIRIT

Shown in Letters Received by
A. J. Brundage

These letters were received by A. J.
Brundage of the extension service and they serve as another illustration of the real Aggie spirit which remains true no matter where the alumnus may be located.

University of Maryland
College Park
Jan. 31, 1921.

Mr. A. J. Brundage,
Conn. Agricultural College,
Storrs, Conn.

Dear Mr. Brundage:

I have your letter of January 25th
and note the splendid progress made by the basketball team against such teams as Harvard, West Point, and Brown. The basketball news carried in the college paper has been a source of gratification to those of us who have been out a few years and know in a general way what it means to defeat such teams as West Point.

I may say also that the paper itself has been a delight to me. Having worked on this same paper from Exchange Editor up to Business Manager, I will always continue to be more than passingly interested in it. Without any question, I believe that for real sparkle, there are few college papers in the United States which equal it, let alone excel.

I must say that the Connecticut Agricultural College is one of the best little institutions of its kind, and it makes all of us proud to note the progress being made along the many lines. If there is one thing I would like to say to the students of the Connecticut Agricultural College, it would be this—"You do not know how well you are off in the way of buildings and equipment at Storrs." With the very best regards to Mrs. Brundage and all the old boys, and yourself especially,
I am

Faternally yours,

dustry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, on the Blister Rust Control,

"I take the Campus, and have been following with interest the success of the basketball team. We must have a whale of a team this year. I see Seedy
Clark's name in print in the Danbury
News quite often. I have lost track of Lew Ives, but presume he, too, is in Danbury.

My work in the past has taken me
over the States of Utah, Montana, and Idaho, but from now on the bulk of the work will be in northern Washington.

Our office at present is in one of the Agricultural buildings of the U. The University of California is some institution, having an enrollment of nearly ten thousand students.

It will be four years in August since I left for the West, and I want to try and make the East this year, but I do not know whether I will be able to or not.

MONDAY NIGHT BOUTS BECOMING POPULAR

In the second of the series of boxing and wrestling matches held every Monday evening after the class games in the Armory, "Red" Cohen took on "Jack" Lynch for 3 two minute rounds. In the first round Lynch had the best of the box and in the second Cohen drew blood from Jack's nose. The third round was a draw and the judges decided the bout a draw.

The second bout was in the form of a burlesque. McCullough was the "tough guy" and Paul McCarron was dressed as a dude. They put on the gloves for three rounds and McCullough finished it by a sensational knockout.

In the third bout E. A. Entin took on "Jim" Cronin for 3 rounds. The first round went to Entin on points but the second was decided in favor of Cronin. On the third the judges disagreed and the bout was called a draw. Entin gave a good exhibition of clever footwork and dodged some wicked swings.

Then "Happy" Steere came forth and challenged anybody under 130 lbs. for three rounds. Dick Dixon accepted his challenge and although he worked hard he was unable to defeat "Happy." Steere showed the spectators some good punches and easily won the bout.

Mitchell and Ashman then gave an exhibition of a good wrestling match. At first it looked as if "Mitch" could down him but he was badly winded from playing basketball and Ashman succeeded in downing him.

Weiss then took on Haig Dejermondjian for 2 out of 3 falls, but was unable to hold his own against him. Haig succeeded in downing him twice in quick succession, thus easily winning the match.

There will be matches every Monday night from now on.

Judges: Clark and Shaw. Timekeeper: Guyer. Referee: Coach Tasker.

Paul N. Manwaring '20, William F. Maloney '21, George A. Stumphf '17, Elmer N. Dickenson '18, and Edward Granniss ex-'22, were on the "Hill" for the week-end.

THE LEGEND OF TERP-SICHORE

By A. Philo Sofer

Prologue—A formal dance is at its height in Hawley Armory, disclosing a scene bright with the multi-colored decorations of the boxes, and its bare walls and girders completely hidden from view by the less substantial ornaments of the evening. The programs tell that the second moonlight is the next number, and slowly the great lights high up under the massive roof, wink out one by one, and the orchestra occupying a charmingly concealed bower on the stage, softly opens with one of the most soul-inspiring and tuneful hits of the year. A large yellow moon casts its slanting beams from a fixed position above, on the throng of dancers beneath, revealing the beautifully gowned women and faultlessly attired men beneath. Dim lights burn in the now deserted boxes and cast a feeble light on the peaceful and never to be forgotten scene, while the music, in complete harmony with the beautiful pantomime, continue in the harmonious expression of the dance.

Theme—Hawley Armory again on the same evening with the strains of "Home Sweet Home" sounding thru the vast hall. The music has stopped never to play again for the brilliant assemblage now making its way slowly toward the doors. Tomorrow many of them will be far away and the other dances may come and go but the group will never be quite the same.

Epilogue—A few grumbling sleepy-eyed youths have appeared at the entrance to the aforesaid Armory exactly one hour after the last note of the orchestra had sounded, and the dancers had begun to disperse. Old clothes are much in evidence and a decided contrast is presented to the picture of only a short time before. More appear, and the work of devastation is commenced. Boxes are dismantled with as those present after the affair of the evening. Little is said with the exception of single mumbled commands, expletives, sighs, and yawns. The overhead streamers come fluttering down and the moon lands in an inglorious heap on the floor. The colorful backgrounds are ruthlessly torn away disclosing bare walls, and the iron girders supporting the roof have come into their own again. The work is only half completed and will be finished by the stay-at-homes later in the day for already the soft rays of approaching dawn are beginning to dim the bright glare of the electric lights. Day is approaching, and the sun will soon look down on a scene of bareness and confusion where a short time before all was beauty and light.

A sulphurous expression of one of their number that he is done and will presently hit his trundle bed with a jolt seems to appeal to all present and Hawley Armory is left to itself in the ruins of its departed splendor.

Both the Shakespearean Club and the Phi Mu Delta fraternities held open house in their respective fraternity houses Saturday afternoon.

JUNIORS HAVE EASY TIME

In a fast and exciting game, the juniors came out victors over the sophs by a score of 13 to 6. SENIOR CO-EDS TO BEGIN
TEACHER TRAINING SOON

Will Teach In State High Schools For
Period of One Month.

The Seniors of the Home Economics department are now making plans for their teacher training. The original idea was for the Seniors to leave the first of March for the various high schools at which they are to train. Easter vacations at some of the high schools conflict with this plan however, and the girls will train for a month, beginning on different dates. Several of the Seniors will leave the Hill this week to take a short rest before beginning their training.

Miss Mabel Bennett will train in the Hartford High School; Miss Louise Ransome and Gladys Goldthorpe at New Haven High; Miss Mary Beeghly in Stamford; Miss Viola Ericson, at New Britain. Places of training for the other Seniors have not been decided upon.

During their four weeks training the girls will attempt to keep up with their other subjects and will take examinations upon their return to the Hill. They will also present to Miss Sprague a written report of their daily progress while in training.

Students were formerly sent out for a whole semester's training and the plan of cutting this down to a month is the one which will probably be used in the future.

P. L. Sanford '17, E. H. Uodine '15, H. D. Monroe '18 and J. C. Taylor '21 will attend a conference of Poultry Specialists to be held at Springfield, Feb. 23, 24, and 25.

The rifle team of the college is practicing daily now under the supervision of Cadet Major A. Frosthalm.

Major Frosthalm has a schedule of strong teams with which to compete and has chosen the crack shots of the college as candidates for the team.

WORCESTER TECH. STUDENT
WINS COLLEGE COMPETITION
ON EDISON'S QUESTION

New Englander Knows John Hancock Best.

Boston, Mass.—College undergraduates and alumni were given the opportunity of competing for a prize of One Hundred Dollars offered by the John Hancock Life Insurance Company. This prize has been awarded to Leon V. Quigley, a student at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

One of the questions asked by Thomas A. Edison in his first and most famous questionnaire was, "Who was John Hancock?" At least one answer stated that John Hancock was president of a life insurance company. So an officer of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company of Boston conceived the idea of putting the question before the college men and offering a prize for the best answer. Due to the unexpectedly large number of competitors, considerable difficulty was experienced in deciding on the winner, as the competition closed on Nov. 15th and the award has just been made.

Mr. Quigley is 20 years old, lives in Worcester, and is a member of the Junior Class and a student in the Chemical Engineering Department.

SENIORS UNABLE TO
SCORE FROM FOULS

Captain Sweeney and his School of Ag quintet had little difficulty in defeating the seniors 17 to 1, last Monday night. The game was a shut out for the seniors as they had been unable to make good their numerous tries from the foul line, until Pinkham succeeded in making one good in the last five minutes of play. Erwin and Sweeney were the stars for the winners while Pinkham made the only point for the losers.

Summary:

Seniors 1		School of Ag 17
Lord	rf.	Erwin
Beisiegel	lf.	Sweeney
Mitchell	c.	Schilcher
Brow	rg.	Davis
Pingham	lg.	Clark

Goals from floor: Erwin 2, Sweeney 2, Schilcher 1, Davis 1, Clark 1. Goals from fouls: Sweeney 3 out of 9, Erwin 0 out of 1, Pinkham 1 out of 1, Beisiegel 0 out of 6. Substitutions: Webb for Mitchell. Vail for Schilcher, Waters for Erwin.

nities as guests for Friday and Saturday night. Saturday morning the guests will be shown about the campus. Saturday afternoon the Co-ed quintet will perform on the Hawley Armory court and then Track Coach Daley will bring forth some of the special talent which he has been grooming for the past few weeks.

Saturday evening the crack Worcester Tech five is scheduled to make its appearance on the Hawley surface and it is expected that the visitors will have a good chance to see the fast Aggie machine in action.

SHORT COURSE SERIES COMING APRIL 11 TO 21

To Include Subjects of Beekeeping, Tractors, Pruning and Spraying, Ice Cream and Milk Plant Operation, Reorganizing the Farm.

Have you just bought a new farm? Are you having trouble with your tractor? Do you want to keep from being stung by a bee proposition? Do you want to know when and how to spray fruit trees?

Then you will be interested in the series of practical short courses dealing with these subjects to be given at the Connecticut Agricultural College from April 11 to 21.

A special course will also be given for ice cream makers and milk plant operators.

The courses are all practical and given by the heads of the departments concerned. Each course will include actual operations, as well demonstrations so far as possible.

Especially attention is called to the course in Reorganizing a Farm to be given by Professor Manchester. This is a course for the new owner who wants to know how to analyze his problems, how to determine the line of farming best adapted to his needs, what improvements to make, what crops to start with and what errors to avoid at the beginning.

The fees are nominal and expenses are low. For further details, write the secretary: Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, for special circulars and announcements of individual courses.

These courses come just before the farming season opens and deal with real spring problems. The dates are as follows:

Beekeeping	April 11-25
Tractors	April 11-15
Pruning and Spraying	April 11-15
Ice cream and Milk Plant Operation	April 11-21
Reorganizing the Farm	April 18-21

PROFESSOR G. C. WHITE TO SPEAK AT MASS. AGGIE

The students of dairying and animal husbandry at Mass. Aggie, Amherst, Mass., are to be given the opportunity of hearing Prof. White speak Thursday, February 23. His talk will be on the opportunities for students interested in dairying, and the responsibility for making good which rests upon graduates.

Prof. R. C. Fisher to Address Rotary Club

Professor R. C. Fletcher, professor of dairying will address the Rotary Club of New London today. His subject is "Newer Knowledge of Nutrition." His subject matter is the result of recent research work on vitamins and proteins with emphasis on the "Importance of Dairy Products in the Diet." He will point out the importance of maintaining and developing New England agriculture. He will explain to business men how dairy products served to employees at noon are better than tea or coffee, and will increase the efficiency of the work done; for work done is in direct proportion with the nutrition the men receive.

C. A. C. DAIRY DEPT. ENTERS ASSOCIATION

The dairy departments of three New England agricultural colleges: Connecticut Aggie, Massachusetts Aggie, and New Hampshire have formed a triangular association for the purpose of exchanging bulls of the principal breeds of dairy cattle. Such exchange keeps the best bulls in service longer than at present, and insures each college good sires for an indefinite period of time; whereas now a bull is in service not more than two years, according to authorities on the subject. Dates for exchanges will be arranged by the men in charge of the various herds. The plan will be the first of its kind ever arranged between agricultural colleges in this country.

Attention is called to the high production of the cows in the C. A. C. herd. The State Record Ayrshire, Mauchlin Snowdrop 2nd, last year made her seventh advance registry record, producing over 14,000 lbs. of milk. Her average is 11,800 lbs. of milk. The Holstein, Poly Pietertje Colantha, in a ten month's record produced 13,234 lbs. of milk, and 466 lbs. of butter fat. In twenty four hours she gave 10.3 lbs. of milk, establishing a new record in the barn. This cow's oldest daughter is on tests and points to a production of over 14,000 lbs.

Lorin Masher just completed her third record of over 10,000 lbs. of milk.

FRESHMEN HAVE LEAD IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

At this stage of the series of class basketball games the Freshmen are leading, having won five games and dropped none. Although the School of Ag. comes next with four games to their credit and one lost they are ineligible in the contest for the cup. The husky junior team ranks second with three games won and three lost. The Seniors and Sophs are tied, each having one game to the good and four lost.

According to Coach Guyer's system of counting, i. e. 5 points for first place, 3 for second, 2 for third, and 1 for fourth the Seniors are leading the procession with 8 points on their side, having taken first place in football and second on the cross-country speedway. They are closely trailed by the Frosh who ranked first in the cross-country run and tied with the juniors for second place in football. The football contests netted them 2½ credits which makes a total of 7½ points. The juniors have 4½ points to their credit, having ranked third in the cross-country run and having 2½ points to show for their exertions on the gridiron. The Sophs bring up the rear with 1 credit earned in football.

Professor G. C. White, professor of dairying at C. A. C. has recently been appointed chairman of the Breed Relations Committee of the American Dairy Science Association; which committee has been very active of late in efforts to systematize methods of conducting advance registry testing in the different Breed Associations.

HARTFORD ALUMNI ASSN. ENTERTAINS QUINTET

After the basketball game with Trinity College last Wednesday night, the team was entertained at the La Bal Taberin by the Hartford County Alumni Association.

Besides the team, there were about thirty-five couples of alumni and students in attendance, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

HEROINE OF STORY SOLD BY SENIOR IS FROSH CO-ED

Samuel Kostolefsky of Bridgeport, Conn., has succeeded in selling a story to one of the big magazines. While the author is extremely modest and reticent in regard to his achievement, he admits that his production was a short story about four pages in length, and furthermore that the basis for the tale is an incident which actually occurred at C. A. C. Rumor has it that a fair freshman co-ed is the heroine of the episode, but Mr. Kostolefsky says that although this is true, he cannot admit it without breaking his word of honor.
