NEW HONOR ROLL HAS TWENTY NAMES

NINE ARE STUDENTS IN THE COLLEGE COURSES

Seniors Head List With Four Names—
Boost in Scholastic Standing Cuts
Deep into Previous Lists

Twenty students of the college can be justly proud of their work during the first half semester, for it is only this highly selected group whose names appear on the new honor roll as posted on the college bulletin boards.

Heading the list come the seniors with four names. The sophomores, close second with three names, are trailed by the juniors who have but one name on the list.

Eleven men from the two-year courses are among the "lucky" ones.

NEW MILFORD HIGH WINS WOODFORD CUP

ATTRACTIVE EXHIBITS AT SEVENTH "AG" FAIR

Interdepartment Cup Won by Home Economics Division Which has Neat Exhibit Arranged as Department Store—Poor Attendance.

The Seventh Annual Ag Club Fair was held in Hawley Armory on Friday and Saturday, December 8 and 9, inclusive, with a fair sized crowd in attendance to view the exhibits of the various departments. In connection with the fair, six high school judging teams were present as guests of the Ag Club and participated in the various judging contests.

Home Economics First

In the department exhibits first prize was awarded to the Home Economics division which had the Armory lecture room decorated in a very pleasing manner with the exhibits of the department. The Floriculture department also had a very attractive booth with the stage arranged in the form of a miniature greenhouse. All the other displays showed the result of much work, but on the whole were not equal to those of last year. By winning first prize, the co-eds obtain the Interdepartment Cup, which will have a place of honor in Holcomb Hall for the coming year.

New Milford High Wins

The Woodford Farm Cup, given by J. W. Alsop, was won this year by the judging team from New Milford High School. The team was under the direction of W. G. Bruce. Second place was awarded to the Southington High team, which was coached by Carl Small of the class of 1922. The other four schools finished in the following order: Simsbury, A. G. Tappett instructor, third; Windham, R. L. Hahn instructor, fourth; Tourtelotte Memorial High, E. J. Sawin instructor, fifth; Middletown High, W. L. Kennedy instructor, sixth.

In the student judging, contests were held in Animal Husbandry, Dairy, Crops, Poultry, Fruit and Vegetables. Those winning first place in the judging were: Animal Husbandry, N. E. Brockett; Dairy Cattle, Max Gieber; Crops, W. O. Thompson; Fruit, G. I. Sneiderman; Poultry, H. O. Woodward and E. W. Nelson, tied;

Due to lack of interest the girls' popularity contest was not held and several other features were omitted for the same reason. Little interest was held in the student judging and the fair as a whole was poorly patronized by the student body.

Embarasses College Paper

Percentage subscriptions of the various fraternal organizations and the classes of the college show some surprisingly small figures and an equally surprising lack of subscriptions to the college paper.

The junior women are the only class group who have approached the hundred percent subscription mark. The freshmen class heads the list of classes with 75 percent of its members supporting the college paper. Among the fraternities, the College Shakespearean Club heads the lists with the low mark of 69 percent. The average class subscription is fifty percent while the average fraternity subscription is but 35 percent. Only forty-five percent of the total student body have subscribed to date.

On Thursday, December 7, the rushing season for 1922 was brought to a close with fifty-two men being pledged to the various fraternities on the Hill. The pledging followed the usual twenty-four silence period observed between the freshmen and upperclassmen which allowed full freedom during the last few hours to the new men in selecting the fraternity of their own choice. There were fifty-six invitations given out, fifty to freshmen and six to upperclassmen. Of these four were returned unsigned, which left forty-six freshmen or a total of a little over thirty-three percent of the class of '26 pledged to fraternal organizations at Connecticut.

The rushing season was long and much competition resulted in securing new men. Following closely to last year's results only one man received four bids, with seven having three, the majority of the men being the recipients of one or two.

Following the ruling established by the Mediator, no man pledged will be eligible for initiation into a fraternity until after the first semester examinations and under the condition that he shall have obtained fifteen credits.

The men pledged were:

VETERAN QUINTET PREPARES FOR COMING BASKETBALL SEASON

SEASONED PLAYERS BACKED BY FRESHMAN MATERIAL READY FOR STIFF SCHEDULE

Captain Lord Confident of Repeating Last Year's Success—Alexander and Makofski, Forwards—Lord and Baylock, Guards—Gustafson, a New Comer, Will be Center.—Opening Game with Army at West Point on Saturday Night—New Comers on Aggie Schedule.

The basketball team will start what should be another championship season when Captain Lord's quintet meets the strong quintet representing the United States Military Academy at West Point Saturday night. The men have been straining at the leash in daily workouts for the last six weeks, and the game in the big army drill hall should furnish as many thrills as the one which the Aggies won a year ago by a narrow two-point margin. The cadets will have a fast team, and they are further determined to wipe out the sting of last year's defeat. The Blue and White five must travel at top speed in order to turn in another victory.

The Aggie Team

The team which will probably take the floor against the Army is composed of the following men, although one or two positions are still very much in doubt.

Alexander, Left Forward
Makofski, Right Forward
Gustafson, Center

Baylock, Right Guard

A tentative varsity squad places Berry and Krasow with the five already mentioned, and an eighth man is yet to be picked. In all probability the place will go to O'Brien. Dunn has been dropped from the squad because of his persistent playing with the Hartford Y. M. H. A.

Many Veterans in Squad

In the first team mentioned above four men are veterans while Gustafson wears the blue and white for the first time. In the event that Krasow or Berry gets the forward choice, an entire veteran team will meet the Army. Captain "Phil" Lord has played a consistently brilliant guard game for three years. Injuries last year kept him out of the first three games with the Army, Harvard and Brown, but he made his appearance in the back court against the Lebanon Valley five and immediately won his old place again. Lord's defensive work is above re-

First Half Close but as the Varsity Swings into Form Seconds are Out-Classed.

For the benefit of the visiting high school judging teams the first basketball game of the season was held in Hawley Armory, Saturday afternoon between the Varsity and the second Varsity. The seconds put up a good fight and were trailing by only a few points at the end of the first half but the varsity opened up in the second period and at the final whistle the count was 46—19 for the first team.

Alexander, Lord and Krasow were the leading figures in the varsity at-

MEGAPHONE

Coach Tasker has a wealth of material to draw from and an unbeatable team should represent Connecticut on the court this year.

Manager Robert Laubscher has arranged an exceedingly good schedule for the season which will give the team an opportunity to show its wares to the best teams in the east.

Last year the Aggies beat the soldiers by a single basket in the last minute of play. It was the only defeat West Point suffered at home during the entire season. When the team leaves for the Point let's give them a big send-off and help them to repeat the victory of last year.

Captain "Phil" Lord and Louis Alexander are in top notch form and will be two big factors in Connecticut victories. Both have played three years on the Aggie Varsity.

INTERCLASS HOOPSTERS START NEXT MONDAY

Seniors will go to Mark as Favorites with Dashing Juniors out to Give Leaders a Hard Fight.—Frosh Good Possibilities.

The interclass basketball schedule is under way and will be completed in the near future with the first contest slated for Monday, December 18 at seven-thirty in the evening. The schedule will be arranged so that each class plays each of the other classes and the Two Year team twice. Last year the honors went to the team representing the class of '25 with the present seniors winning second place and the School third.

For the coming season the prospects of the seniors are good for maintaining their standing of last year at least. With Baxter and Mullane as forwards, Patterson center and Jural-wicz and Daly at the guard positions, they will be able to place a veteran quintet on the floor which will have a wealth of experience and fight.

The dashing juniors will have their famous team of giants ready for the fray and have been practicing for two weeks in order to make it hot for last year's leaders. The '24 team will probably run on to the court with the following lineup: "John" Donahue and "Kid" Kaplan, forwards; "Slats" Bamford, center; "Cheese" Eddy and "Larry" Lawson, guards.

The sophomores have an abundance of material and all depends on how many of their men will be eligible on account of the varsity ruling. At any rate several of the stars of last season will appear this year. Among these are "Tarzan" Kennedy, Max Eddy, "Wide Awake" Grady, Paul MacCarron and "Hosmer" Flynn.

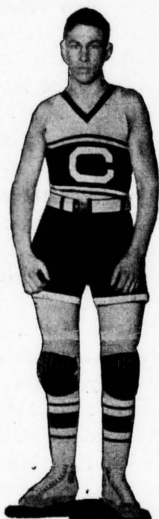

The frosh also have oceans of material to draw from and should be able to form a five which will be well up in the front when the final tally has been made. They have a number of high and prep school stars who are

FORMER AGGIE PLAYER NOW WITH HARTFORD

Paul Putnam, '22, Star Guard of Aggie Quintet to Play with Capitol City Five.

Paul L. "Sam" Putnam, '22, guard on the 1921-22 basketball team, has signed up to play the coming season with the All-Hartfords quintet.

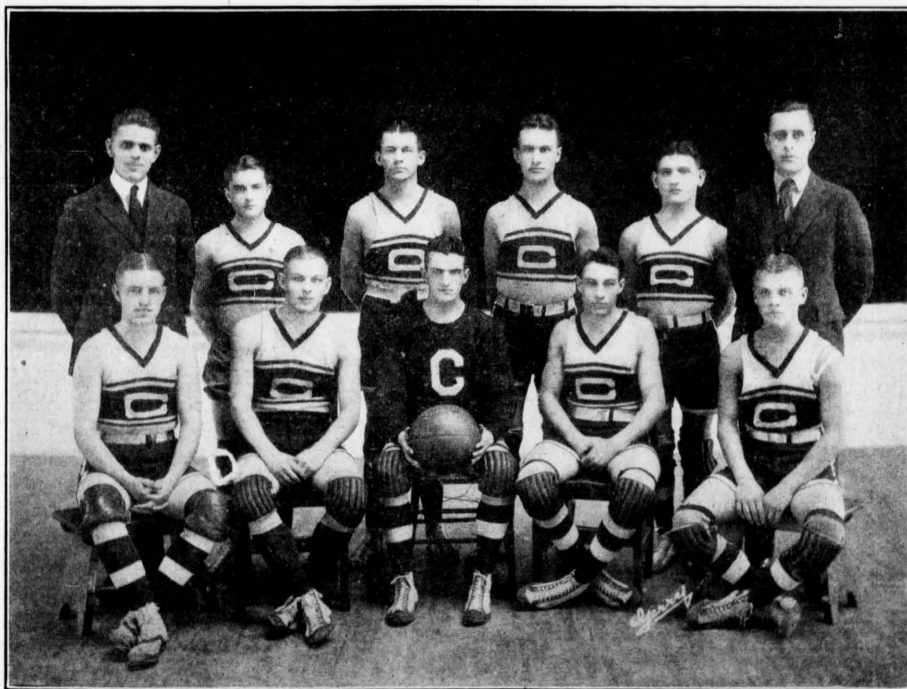

Putnam's floor work has been one of the features of many of the Connecticut victories of the past seasons. Putnam was seen in an Aggie uniform for four years.

Paul "Sam" Putnam

in good form as a result of being out for practice with the second varsity squad and this should be a big factor in their success.

With Sweeney and Vail as a nucleus the School will probably be able to equal their record of last year but there is no wealth of good basketball in the entering class and much will depend on the two veterans who were big factors in the "Ag" scoring of the previous year. Jones, a tall freshman, who has starred on several prep school teams, will also undoubtedly be a big factor in the School's success.

THE HUMOROUS MAGAZINE

Of late there has been much shouting for the establishment of a humorous magazine at Connecticut from certain quarters. The idea is good but it seems to be several years ahead of the present college generation.

Activities at the present moment are in one of the biggest slumps that has hit the Hill in a number of years. There may be several reasons for this. There has been a very noticeable lack of the old time pep and enthusiasm in the student body so far this year. College opened in an unusually quiet and unimportant manner with no one seeming to be over-enthusiastic about anything. Football season came and passed adding no pep, except very occasionally for five or ten minutes at one or two of the games. The year has progressed past the mid-semester which found many men on probation and activities still slumping due to this lack of pep.

There are several of the activities of the student body that have been, are now and are going to be miserable or complete failures during the present college year. The football season "was no howling success," the Press Club has gone to the wall, the Ag Club Fair came near being a fizzle and the well made plans were only partly carried out when it finally opened after much delay. There are many parallel instances and still there are those among us who stand up and clamor for additional activities. It is better that some of the present minor ones be dropped from our calendar and concentrate the ability and very limited amount of enthusiasm on a few of the more important ones than to add new activities while the old traditional ones plead for their very lives.

It is better to carry a few good sound activities than it is to carry an endless string of slipshod organizations.

THE RUSHING SEASON

In the mind of all those who occasionally stop to do a little thinking, there is not the least doubt that the rushing just past was in many ways a detrimental thing and generally conducted by the student body as a second rate farce. The very thing that the rules drawn up by the Mediator aimed to prevent were much in evidence at times. The silence period was not observed by either freshmen or upperclassmen. There were "go-betweens," men who were upperclassmen but campus campus freshmen, and who talked with either frosh or upperclassmen as they chose.

Probably the biggest wrong grew out of an over-drawn rushing period. A long rushing season has a few advantages but these are very well eclipsed when the intensity of rushing, as during the past season, is extended over a period of twelve weeks—nearly a whole semester.

For over half a semester the greater part of the student body has been in a state of chaos. The freshmen have been visiting the fraternities, one after the other, until by the end of the rushing season they have lost most of the traces of the study habit. Moreover, they are in no better position to judge the fraternity they wish to affiliate themselves with than they would have been six or even eight weeks previous to the close of the rushing period.

Whether the rushing season is short or long the intensity of the competition for men among the organizations will always be keen. Within the limits of time needed by the new men to acquaint themselves with the fraternities of the college, the shorter the rushing season the better it will be for all concerned. Without question the men should not be initiated until they have earned at least fifteen credits. This separates the grain from the chaff with the accompanying advantages to the college and the fraternities as well, with no marked hardships to the fraternity.

A shorter rushing season would mean that the settled and tranquil feeling that did not begin to exist among the student body this year until last Thursday night, would begin much sooner. Freshmen would be considered as a part of the fraternity and they would be pushed and aided more in their studies and would be encouraged to go out for activities in the proper way and with definite goals. They would not be pushed and hauled from place to place by first one group and then another, nor would they be pestered in their rooms by visiting fraternity men for more than half of the first semester which must of necessity be a trying time to underclassmen at any college.

The Mediator would do well to advocate a shorter rushing season for the coming year. A few good rushing rules would do much good if the fellows will take it upon themselves to enforce them. If this is not done the rules should be abolished. A lot of rules well broken are worse than no rules at all.

RATHER SHAMEFUL

Last week when Ralph D. Brundage withdrew from the institution, Connecticut lost a good cheer leader, and one of the main stays of the varsity baseball nine for the past two seasons. Brundage, for trying to prevent a fight between the student body of this college and that of our honored rival, Rhode Island State, had been deposed as captain of the sport he loved, and left the institution under the sting of disgrace and a feeling of humiliation. It is true that financial conditions and unavoidable circumstances were the direct cause of the withdrawal but at any rate, it is a shame that a man who has worked so faithfully for his Alma Mater be almost thrown out for a minor argument with members of the faculty.

True, it may be that there was need of punishment but wasn't that which was meted out by a certain committee of the faculty ten-fold the crime? Would it not have been much better to have given the man a fair trial at which a few of the leading men of the student body could have been present? Stop and consider what might have happened had the fire been started and the fight-crazed student bodies of the rival colleges clashed on the field. What would have been the outcome? Where would our relations with Rhode Island be today?

The deed is done now, and the main factor is gone from among us (for other reasons than those on the surface, we hope) but there are certain facts that are still impressed on the minds of the students. It is the general opinion that Ralph Brundage should not have been humiliated as he was for the minor dispute in which he figured. Moreover, the student body as a whole would like a little representation at trials of this nature.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT ON EVE OF PLEDGE DAY

Musical Numbers With Several Boxing Matches Comprise Program for Evening's Amusement Under Direction of Michael J. Farrell.

Following the custom of the last two years the Interfraternity Smoker was held Wednesday evening, December 6, in the Armory. The smoker for this year was under the supervision of J. H. Lovett, '23, and Michael J. Farrell, coach of the Dramatic Club, and much time was spent by the committee in making it the best ever held on the Hill.

As soon as the fragrant clouds of smoke from scores of lighted Camels, Luckies, and the like, was being wafted toward the ceiling, the program was started with a song by the famous Fenton River Octet, followed by solos from the honorable songsters Farrell, Sneiderman and Theibold. The Elite Banjo Trio rendered several numbers and were relieved by Archie Cohen, the saxophone kid, playing on his new five hundred dollar instrument. He was accompanied by the Nevertheless Orchestra, consisting of Katz, Wilkes and Chernowsky.

Several budding young pugs from the metropolis were on hand for bouts of boxing. The features of the three round events were those between "K. O." Balock and "Young" Ryan of Bridgeport and the bout between "Jimmie" Fasan and a young lad from Willimantic. "Jimmy" displayed all of his reputed form and gave a fine exhibition of the manly art. He also gave an exhibition of rope skipping and acted as referee for the other bouts.

STUDENT SPEAKERS AT COLLEGE ASSEMBLY

Seven speakers from the student body representing the various activities on the Hill spoke at Assembly, Wednesday, December 5. J. W. Metzger spoke for "The Campus," G. V. Hilldring for the Dramatic Club; R. E. Collins for the Debating Club; L. C. Richardson for the 1923 Nutmeg; C. D. Prentice for the Ag Club; and E. G. Ashman for the Christian Endeavor and the Men's Bible Class.

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY
COUPLES ATTEND HOP

The much longed for Football Hop, which took place in the Armory on November 24, was enjoyed by about 300 students and their guests. The evening began with a half hour orchestra concert, followed by the grand march, which was led by James Mul-lane, chairman of the Hop Committee, with Miss Celia Prescott. Dancing started at nine and continued until two a.m. The fraternity boxes, which represented indoor and outdoor winter scenes, were tastefully decorated.

The receiving line consisted of President and Mrs. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, Coach and Mrs. Tasker, Mr. and Mrs. Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

ALPHA LAMBDA ALPHA FORMED BY DEBATERS

Honorary Debating Society Aims to Encourage Speaking Activity at Connecticut.

Debating at Connecticut has now reached a high plane, and in order to encourage and promote this activity, an honorary forensic fraternity has been established. Alpha Lambda Alpha, as the fraternity is named from the first letters of three Greek words embodying the ideals of the society, will select its members from among those men who take part in inter-collegiate debating contests held throughout the year.

The requirements for admission are as follows: If three debates are held during the year of election, a candidate must have taken a speaking part in at least one of the contests. If four debates are held, he must have taken a speaking part in at least two of them. In either case a candidate must have received a final mark of at least C plus in English during the semester previous to his election, and he must stand fairly well in his general scholarship.

The fraternity was founded by Joseph L. Rivkin, who has active in debating at the Hartford Public High School, and participated in two debates at Connecticut last year, being captain of the team that met Rhode Island. The five other charter members are: E. I. Collins, who had four years of debating experience at the Riggs School in Lakeville, and has been active in the work at college; William A. Hutton, who first debated at Lewis High in Southington, and participated in the Rhode Island encounter last year; Ralph E. Collins, who has been prominent in the club for three years, and now president of the organization; Andrew Schenker, '22, and Samuel A. Feir, ex-'25, both of whom were leaders in the debating activity while at Connecticut. Doctor Henry K. Denlinger has been elected as honorary president, and it is believed that with his aid, the fraternity will succeed in bringing debating to a permanent basis here, similar to its rating at other institutions.

NEW ADDITION BUILT TO STORRS GARAGE

A new addition, which will alleviate the trouble that has been experienced by the management in securing room for cars, is now being built on to the local garage. The new addition which is expected to be ready for occupancy within the near future, is a wooden structure 18 by 73 feet well equipped with electric lights and supplied with steam heat.

proach. "Petey" Balock, who is favored to work with "Phil," played forward in the first two or three games last year, and later played occasionally at both guard and forward, Makofski winning the regular right forward assignment. Baylock is fast as lightning, a good passer, and plays a strong running guard game. "Bill" Makofski, who will start his second season with the Aggies, was second only to Alexander as a forward last year, and when the former sprained his ankle in the Maine game, putting him out of the running in the two important contests with Trinity and Worcester Tech, "Mac" jumped into the limelight by his spectacular playing. Left forward will be ably cared for by Louis Alexander, captain last year and All-New England forward, who is without doubt one of the greatest basketball players the college has had, and is rated in collegiate circles among the topnotch forwards of the East. "Lou" dons the Blue and White in the coming game for his fourth and last season and the entire college is banking on the tall boy to come through with the best playing he has yet exhibited. Gustafson at center has yet to meet the strain of college competition but he has been showing up exceptionally well so far. He is a fast floor worker and a good shot. Captain Lord and Alexander, aided by men of the calibre of Makofski, Baylock, Gustafson, Berry, Krasow, and O'Brien, should place the Connecticut team at the top of the heap when March rolls around.

Many Good Substitutes

The Aggies are fortunate in possessing a large number of substitutes who concede but little in playing ability to many of the first varsity. "Moe" Daly, a senior who plays a good guard game, Greer, freshman center, who came from Suffield, Purple, Bitgood, Radovich, and others, are all showing fine form in the daily practice sessions.

New Names on Schedule

At present Manager Laubscher has arranged fourteen games, but three more will be closed any day. Of these fourteen games, seven will be played at home, the Aggies meeting Rhode Island, Springfield, New Hampshire, Holy Cross, Saint Lawrence, Villa Nova and Trinity in Hawley Armory. Holy Cross, St. Lawrence and Villa Nova are new comers on the Aggie basketball schedule, and it is the first time the Pennsylvania College has been met in any sport. One of the features of Junior Week at Wesleyan will be the basketball game with Connecticut, February 9.

Opener Will be Hard Battle

No accurate prediction can be made regarding the West Point game. With the Cadets out for blood and the Aggies determined to win again, it should be a close game. West Point is undoubtedly one of the two or three stiffest opponents we shall meet this season, and the results of the game will indicate to some extent how fast the team will travel, although too much cannot be determined from the outcome, as it is an extremely hard encounter to be tackled at the start of the season. It is planned to give the

Action Comes Following Argument with "Powers That Be" After Rhode Island Game when Former Aggie Star Prevented Free-for-all Between Rival Student Bodies

During the week following the Rhode Island football game Ralph D. Brundage, '23, was deposed as captain of the 1922 baseball team and head cheer leader by a committee of the faculty.

After the traditional gridiron contest between the rival colleges of Rhode Island and Connecticut, the Rhode Island Rooters proposed to build a victory bonfire on Gardner Dow Field and celebrate. Hundreds of fight-crazed Aggie rooters clamored against the action but some of the more daring Rhode Island supporters lighted red torches. These were put out in short order by a group of men headed chiefly by the alumni. An argument followed between some of the faculty of the institution and the students. Brundage was held as the central figure of the argument and deposed as leader of cheers and baseball by the faculty committee on athletics, which voted that "in its opinion, Mr. Ralph D. Brundage has demonstrated that he is too lacking in regard for the common decencies and courtesies of interscholastic athletics, and in respect for constituted authority in athletics, to be trusted to represent this college in a responsible position. For this reason, we declare him ineligible for the position of captain of the baseball team of this college, and further declare the position of captain of the baseball team of 1923 now vacant." The cheer leader aimed to prevent a bloody-free-for-all between the fight-crazed supporters of the rival teams.

NOVEL COSTUMES SEEN AT
THE HARVEST DANCE

In a sea of confetti and streamers, masqueraders reveled in the fun of the second Annual Ag Club Dance, held in Hawley Armory on Saturday evening, December 9. Lively music for a program of twelve dances was furnished by the College Orchestra. Costumes varying from the drab brown of the "Woodchucks," to the bright green of "Pierette" complicated the decisions as to the cleverest make-up. The judges, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dorsey, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. White, who also acted as chaperones, awarded the prizes to Miss Elnora Fisher, '25, a Sun Bonnet Girl in pink; Miss Dorothy Stellenwerf, '25, a dame of '76; and Miss Carrie Main, '26, a personification of Night. Elmore G. Ashman, chairman of the dance committee, presented pound boxes of chocolates to the fortunate winners.

team a rousing send-off when they leave for the Point, and a few rooters will go down to see the game.

FOOTBALL HOP PLAY VERY WELL ACTED

"The Girl He Couldn't Leave Behind Him," a comedy in three acts, was presented Saturday evening, November 25, by a cast of fourteen members of the Dramatic Club, under the direction of Michael J. Farrell.

Donald B. Bassett, playing the leading role of Felix Pendleton, was very good as a much perplexed husband, who, while he was in quite a few tight places, managed to escape. Hildur Scholander as Tilly, the wife of the bemused benedict, gave a good portrayal of the confused wife.

Louise Benn, who took the part of Lola Cornero, an eccentric Spanish dancer, acted the part very much as most of us like to think it should have been. Pauline Girard as the typical stormy mother-in-law, and Roland Wehger, as the henpecked father-in-law, were the two strong character parts, and were very well taken. Arthur Greenfield, a friend of Felix Pendleton, who was unwittingly dragged into the family troubles, was well taken by Donald Lawson. The work of the rest of the supporting cast was of a high nature, and inasmuch as it was the first play for a good many in the cast, the show presaged especially well for future productions.

"Silent Coil" with John Bowers and Kathryn McGuire Saturday night. Also "Snub Pollard Comedy."

The "Aggie Club" of the University of Vermont is launching a new publication known as "The University of Vermont Agriculturist."

CLASS BABY OF 1921 AND 1922 ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Everett D. Dow of Meriden announce the birth of a daughter, Althea Louise, on December 3. Everett "Brub" Dow was a member of the class of 1921, former editor-in-chief of the Campus and active in many other organizations of the student body. Mrs. M. Louise (Ransom) Dow was a member of the class of 1922. The new arrival, Althea Louise Dow, to the best of all knowledge, holds the honor of being the class baby for the two classes.

The New Demerit System

Students shall be given demerits for the violation of dormitory inspection rules as follows:

- Bed unmade—1 demerit
- Bedroom untidy—2 demerits
- Bedroom dirty—3 demerits
- Closet (only) untidy—1 demerit
- Study room untidy—2 demerits
- Study room dirty—3 demerits
- Dirt swept into corridors, 5 demerits

If the person responsible for the infraction of the last rule cannot be determined, all those on that floor of the section shall receive one demerit per day until rubbish is removed.

Violation of dormitory rules affecting bunks, pictures, lights, etc., shall carry, after a warning from the inspector, one demerit a day until rectified.

Final warning shall be given a student when he has accumulated ten demerits. The limit for any one semester shall be fifteen demerits. When this limit has been reached, the student shall be reported to the Committee on Student Affairs with he recommendation that such student be required to vacate his room in the dormitory.

Recommended by the Student Senate.

Adopted by Committee on Student Affairs. November, 1922.
