SENATORS TO ADVISE PUNISHMENT FOR FROSH

PIG ROAST DATE SET

Twenty-Four Hours to Be Allowed For Annual Soph-Frosh Scrap

At a regular meeting of the Student Senate, the committee on violations of Freshmen rules offered a suggestion for the treatment of those who break the rules. In brief it consists of the following: For first, second, or minor offenses, a committee of the Sophomore class shall administer a punishment which has not yet been devised. For a third, or a major offense, the offender shall be brought before the Student Senate for trial, which body shall recommend a suitable punishment.

After a long discussion it was finally decided to have the Pig Roast as the inter-class scrap. The dates were set to be from noon Wednesday, Dec. 9, until Thursday, Dec. 10, at noon. The rules for this event are being drawn up and will be posted on the bulletin board.

Attention was called to the fact that the Freshmen are not observing the meal hours set for them, and that they are crowding the entrance to the Dining-Hall as well as loitering outside. The Senate has ruled that not

NEW YORKERS

FALL BY 19-0

Invaders Outclassed by Aggies.—Game Marred by Poor Showing of N. Y. Team.

The Connecticut Aggies found their true strength last Saturday when they ran rough shod over the fast Manhattan College eleven of New York, defeating them 19 to 0.

The Aggies displayed a running attack in the first quarter that could not be stopped, scoring two touchdowns after long marches down the field. The final score was made in the last quarter after Eddy's run for twenty-five yards, a pass to Makofski for twenty yards, and Makofski went through tackle for the score.

Manhattan's backfield could make no headway through Connecticut's line at all, and most of their gains were thrown through the air by the

COLLEGE SHORTHORNS LEAVE FOR KANSAS

Best of College Herd to Be Shown in Kansas City and Chicago

Thirteen milking Shorthorns, the best of the herd owned by the college, were shipped Monday to Kansas City where they will be shown at the American Royal Livestock Exhibition. This announcement was made by Professor Harry L. Garrigus, head of the animal husbandry department, who has bred up the college herd to a point where it is recognized as one of the best in the country.

With the closing of the American Royal, the college shorthorns will be shipped to Chicago, where they will be shown at the International Livestock Exposition, which is the largest and best livestock show in the world. Here the animals from the college will be shown in competition with the best from the United States and Canada.

For the third successive year, Professor Garrigus will judge at the International, placing the awards in the juvenile sheep classes, grade and crossbred weather classes, and the grand champion weather class. The latter constitutes one of the high lights of the show.

Winnings this year by animals owned by the livestock department of the college have broken all previous records, the Storrs herd taking many ribbons in hot competition. It is by far the best record ever made by the college in the show ring.

At the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, in the largest milking Shorthorn exhibit ever staged on this continent, the college herd "cleaned up." Prizes won included five firsts, one second, three thirds and four fourths. Further, Flintstone Model, a bull owned by the college, won the senior grand championship for his fourth successive year, one of the outstanding achievements of the show, Otis White Maid, also owned by the college, was senior champion cow of the show. In addition to this, a bull sold here last year, by Flintstone Model, was junior champion bull.

Showing Percheon horses at Springfield, the college won four firsts, three seconds, three fourths, and also a champion mare.

At Trenton, New Jersey, the college Shorthorns made a good showing again, winning eleven firsts, three seconds and one fourth. Junior, senior and grand champion bulls, and ju-

AGRICULTURAL CLUB PLANS FOR ANNUAL FAIR

A. J. Brundage Speaks on 4-H Clubs. Barnwarming Comes Dec. 12

A very interesting talk was given by A. J. Brundage, State Club Leader, at a meeting of the Agricultural Club on October 22. Mr. Brundage took the general idea of his talk from the well-known book "Acres of Diamonds." He gave many instances of the kind of work which members of 4-H clubs in Connecticut are doing. The first 4-H club was organized in Mansfield in 1913. At present there are one hundred and seventy-one clubs in the state. It is interesting to note that many of the agricultural students at C. A. C. are former 4-H club members. The Agricultural Club Fair and Barnwarming will be held on December 11 and 12. In connection with the fair comes the awarding of the Alsop cup. This cup is awarded annually to that department which has the best exhibit at the Fair. The permanent possession of the cup goes to the department winning it for three consecutive years. Last year the cup was won by the Forestry Department and keen competition is expected this year.

Various committees for the Fair are hard at work planning for a blue ribbon exhibit for each department. As in previous years there will be a worthy cup awarded to the department displaying the best exhibit. There should be keen competition between the departments for the cup. Student judging will take place Friday afternoon, and the winners will be awarded with engraved medals. There will be an entertainment Friday evening consisting of a series of plays, the names of which will be announced at a later date.

The Barnwarming is the "Ag. Club" dance, which was first given in 1923. At that time it was felt that there was the need of something to follow the annual fair. The idea of having a costume dance, with most of the costumes representing farm life, was suggested. In many of the state colleges the barnwarming is a big event. The Next week the Aggie football squad will have hard daily workouts in preparation for their most important contest of the year, the annual Rhode Island-Connecticut football game to be played at Kingston, Nov. 14.

With the return of Captain Brink to the lineup, after a two weeks' lay-off due to a sprained shoulder, the chances for an Aggie victory has brightened considerably. Brink has been out to practice for the last week and promises to be in the pink of condition for the biggest game of his career.

The return of both Longo and Fienneman to the squad has also strengthened the team. Logan has been holding down Fienneman's end position in fine style, but there has been a scarcity of reserve end material.

Nanfaldt and Zollin will be the tackles that Coach Dole will pick to start the big contest of the year. Both men have been playing a great game throughout the season.

Bitgood and Johnson will draw the guard positions. Bitgood has been playing his usual hard, slashing game all season, and is rated as one of the best guards in the New England Conference. Johnson the other guard has been playing a steady game since he made good in the early part of the season.

Daly, the Aggies cool headed center, has been playing a wing position in the absence of Captain Brink but will be shifted back to center for the Rhody game.

Schofield is likely to start at the quarterback position where he has been playing throughout the season. He is a clever receiver of forward passes, and carries the ball in fine style.

Universities of Tennessee and Missouri give it the greatest prominence.

This year the annual Barnwarming comes on the twelfth of December. The committee in charge is trying to make it the best which has yet been held at C. A. C. It is hoped that everyone will be in costume, so as to furnish plenty of competition for the prizes.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NEXT ON AGGIE SCHEDULE

Coach Dole's Men Out to Repeat Last Year's Victory.—Granite State Team Yet to Meet With Defeat This Season.

Connecticut Aggies varsity football team will play the hardest remaining game on their schedule when they line up against the undefeated New Hampshire eleven at Durham, N. H., Saturday. The New Hampshire team is leading all the other college teams in the race for the championship of the New England Conference teams, which includes all the state college teams in New England with the exception of Vermont.

The Granite State team holds victories over Norwich, Tufts, Rhode Island, and played a tie game with Springfield College. New Hampshire defeated Tufts 9-6 last Saturday and since Connecticut defeated Tufts the previous week by the score of 3-0 a close battle is looked for.

If Connecticut defeats New Hampshire, the Mass. Aggie eleven will be the champions of the Conference by virtue of their 13-0 victory over C. A. C. On the other hand if New Hampshire defeats Connecticut by a larger score than M. A. C. did, the Bay State Agrarians will be judged the premier team.

Connecticut Aggies have just finished a week of strenuous practice and every man on the team is in first class condition to give battle to the Green Mountaineers. With the return of Captain Carl Brink to the lineup, the Aggies will present their strongest lineup Saturday. Coach Dole has given his team new plays during the week's drill, and the Aggies aerial attack has been improved, so that the Varsity is ready to give New Hampshire its hardest game of the year.

Last year Connecticut defeated New Hampshire at Storrs 6-3 in one of the most thrilling games of the season. The Aggies will be in the game tomorrow in an effort to repeat last year's victory.

RHODE ISLAND FROSH TO MEET AGGIE CUBS

Freshmen Ready For Biggest Game of Season

The Conn. Aggie Frosh will battle their keen rivals, the Rhode Island State Freshmen eleven on Gardner Dow field tomorrow. In former years, no matter what degree of success the Rhode Island Frosh met with during the season, they played their best game of the year when they pitched against the Nutmeg State Frosh.

Coach Keaney's yearlings have but one win to their credit this season. They have worked hard to perfect an overhead game which to date has not produced good results.

The probable lineups are as follows:

R. I. STATE	CONNECTICUT
O'Connor, le	le, Wilson

Rodriquez, lg	lg, Calicuccio

FRESHMEN LOSE TO SPRINGFIELD FROSH

In a hard fought battle the Connecticut Frosh went down to defeat before the strong Springfield Freshman team by the score of 7 to 6. Connecticut made its score in the initial quarter when Sayers broke through the Springfield line and blocked a kick which was recovered by Wilson in back of the Springfield goal line. Connecticut failed to kick the goal after the touchdown.

Springfield came back strong and marched the ball down the field for a touchdown and kicked the goal. It looked as if it was going to be a one-sided affair for Springfield completely outplayed Connecticut in the first half.

In the second half it was a different story, and the Frosh came back with the old Aggie fight and held Springfield from scoring any more points and the game ended with the Cub Directors on the long end of the score.

O'CONNOR, CAPTAIN OF N. H., CONFERENCE LEADER

Eddie O'Connor, captain of the University of New Hampshire eleven, is the leading scorer in the New England Conference, which includes all New England State Colleges except Vermont.

O'Connor has made five touchdowns, three field goals, and three points after touchdowns. Makofski, right half back of Conn., is included in the list. He has made three touchdowns. The leading scorers in the Conference are as follows. The columns of figures are respectively, touchdowns, field goals, points after touchdowns, totals.

O'Connor, New Hampshire	5	3	3	42

use of the forward pass. "Mickey" Hayes, a Waterbury boy, played full-back for the New Yorkers and his work throughout the game was of high order.

The Aggies outrushed the Manhattan team, scoring eleven first downs to seven for the New Yorkers. Connecticut could not get their forwards working at any time during the game except in the last quarter. The first and last quarters were Connecticut's, as the Aggie eleven was in possession of the ball in Manhattan's territory throughout the two periods.

Manhattan was only dangerous in the first quarter. The forward pass proved to be the only means by which the New Yorkers could gain; bringing the ball to the six yard line before Connecticut took the ball on downs.

Connecticut's backfield carried the ball in fine style. Schofield ran the first kickoff back thirty yards before he was stopped. He also made a gain of twenty-five yards through the line. Moreland carried the ball for a gain of thirty-five yards in the first quarter. Eddy made two nice end runs and Makofski's line smashing was of the best.

The Manhattan eleven slowed up the game continuously by excessively wrangling with the officials and the Connecticut eleven.

The game started soon after the Frosh game with Cohalan of Manhattan kicking to Schofield, who ran it back thirty yards. Connecticut started off like a new team, smashing through the New Yorkers line for gain after gain. Moreland through tackle made three, Filmer two, and Makofski made it first down. Makofski smashed through left tackle for three yards and on the next play Moreland went around left end for seventeen yards and first down.

Schofield made another first down around right end, taking the ball to the two yard line, when Manhattan called for time. The New Yorkers tried vainly to stop the Aggies backs but on the fourth try Makofski went over for the first touchdown. Moreland dropkicked for the extra point.

Nanfaldt kicked off, the ball going over the goal line for a touchback. Manhattan's ball on the twenty yard line and after three attempts at the Aggie line they punted. Moreland threw a pass to Schofield who was interfered with, and Connecticut was given a first down. Moreland was thrown for a loss but on the next play he took the ball around left end for thirty-five yards. Makofski made five, Schofield four, and Moreland first down. On the next play Moreland went six yards for touchdown. Moreland tried a forward for the extra point but it fell to the ground incomplete.

Nanfaldt kicked off to Manhattan and after two plays the quarter ended. On the first play of the second period Hayes went around left end for a gain of eighteen yards. Two forwards and with Hayes rushing the ball the Manhattan eleven took the ball to the six yard line where Connecticut stopped them and took the ball on downs. On the first down Moreland punted to the center of the field where Manhattan fumbled and Zollin recovered for Connecticut. Manhattan was given a penalty for talking and delaying the game. Eddy substituting for Filmer, gained twelve yards around left end. Schofield lost five and on the next play Manhattan intercepted one of Moreland's forwards. The New Yorkers completed two passes for eighteen yards as the half ended.

Nanfaldt kicked to a Manhattan player who ran it back fifteen yards. A forward gave them first down and Connecticut gave them five more for being off-side. They completed another pass but Hayes lost ground and Manhattan punted off-side at Connecticut's twenty-five yard line. Moreland made four, Makofski two, Moreland two and on the next play the Aggies fumbled and Burke of

RIFLE TEAM TO MEET N. Y. U. NEXT WEEK

Last Year's Team Practically Intact.
—Busy Schedule Being Drawn Up.

The Connecticut Agricultural College Rifle Team will open its season against N. Y. U. Nov. 14. Most of the members of last year's team are back with the exception of Jacoby. As there are many able bodied riflemen on the Hill this year, the competition for a place on the team will be keen. There are no definite plans as yet, but it is hoped to have about sixty matches, including Boston University, Yale, University of Chicago, Harvard, George Washington, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Chicago, Indiana, Texas, Arizona, California, Georgia, Montana, Carnegie Tech, Rutgers, University of Pennsylvania, M. I. T., University of Delaware, and the University of Illinois.

Probably the match of most interest will be with Rhode Island State at Kingston. The Engineers defeated C. A. C. last year by a very close margin and the team will do their best to see that they do not duplicate it again this year.

The team will be coached by Captain Crim and Lieutenant Bunting, and under their supervision it is hoped that the team will have a successful season.

Some of the men have made remarkable records for themselves. At Camp Devens last summer, Kuhl qualified as expert with a score of 236, and was also a member of the Corps Area Team, which went to the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. On the local range Lynch qualified as expert with a score of 236, and again qualified on the long range at Camp Perry. He was also a member of the Conn. Civilian Team. W. Griffin, A. Griffin, Kielwasser and Hitchcock all qualified as marksmen while at Camp Devens.

Trials will be held during the week to pick out the first and second teams.

AHERN CHOSEN HEAD OF DRAMATIC CLUB

Fifteen New Members Admitted to Organization.—To Present Program Once a Month.

Albert Ahern, '26, was elected to succeed Milton Moore as president of the Dramatic Club for the ensuing year. Ahern has been an active member of the club for two years, and is also a member of the State College Players.

Recent try-outs for the Club resulted in the selection of fifteen new members. The Dramatic Club now has a membership of approximately thirty, which includes the players and the production staff.

Early last month a meeting of all the candidates was called, and each person was given a part in some play which had been previously produced by the Club. He was then placed under the direction of someone who had appeared in the play from which his particular part had been selected. At a meeting the following week, the candidate was called upon to deliver his part. The manner in which he presented it determined to a large extent his qualification for eligibility.

It was also announced that the Dramatic Club will stage a play, or group of one act plays one Saturday night of each month, at the Armory.

The new members of the Dramatic Club are: Cuykendall, McLaughlin Gatchell, Sullivan, Rabinowitz, Miss Seger, Miss Wilkinson, Miss Green, Miss Gordes, Miss Wilkes, Miss Foley, Miss Tonkin, Miss Palmer, Miss Koster and Miss Fellows.

HERE AND THERE

Students at Wabash College are threatening a walk-out because the faculty passed an order banning the student-owned cars from the campus. Although the order has been issued the students have not as yet disposed of their cars.

A unique club has been formed at the University of Oregon, the membership requirement of which is that candidates for admission must have been substitutes on the football team for a full season without once leaving the bench to participate in a game.

GOTHAM SPORTSMANSHIP

It is often the case that it takes outsiders to discover some hidden fact of interest to the college community which the community itself has either overlooked or else completely ignored. Such was the case when last Sunday's New York Times appeared on the campus carrying on its sport's page the story of the defeat of Manhattan College at Storrs last Saturday.

There in bold type is found an astonishing fact, "Storrs has a police force!" At least this meaning is conveyed in the story, for it stated that it was necessary to call the police out to restore order after the crowds had several times surged on the field in protest to Referee Kehoe's rulings. Especially was it astounding when the cause for the crowd's behavior was due to the fact that the referee had given the ball to the Aggie eleven when the Manhattan team had had only three downs. Evidently the spectators are real sport lovers and wanted to see Manhattan get an even break even though that eleven was showing the worst exhibition of good football sportsmanship ever seen here at the college.

In looking over the writeup of the game no mention is made of the team being penalized fifteen yards by the referee because some person other than the players, officials, the team's representative, or an incoming substitute came upon the field of play without permission from the referee as logically would happen when Football Rule No. XXII, Section 2, is enforced. Therefore it seems evident that whoever wrote the story for The New York Times must either be ignorant of the college, and its community, or else the story was written from a Manhattan point of view in explanation of the defeat. Also it might be of interest to know that the Athletic Department of the college has always followed its policy of employing disinterested officials for all of its varsity games.

FOOTBALL CYCLES

Cycles have come to play a very important part in the prediction of future trends. They are also studied to explain present tendencies, and so it is we are embarking on a new study ship whose path we hope will explain the football cycle.

Truly football has a ship cycle, if we so chose to call it, and we need not look very far to see its effect on college men who entrain to be its sailors. Men come out for the team in strong numbers at the beginning of the year, and, as the season takes its toll, they fall by the wayside to be lost in the undertow of the student body. It makes their return impossible.

We are thinking particularly of the freshman football squad which has suffered an amazing loss this year. At the beginning of the year three full teams reported to Freshman Coach Alexander, to be molded into machines capable of furnishing Connecticut with her future football men. But alas, as the season draws to a close with both its high and low trends, we find barely two teams to man the football ship in the years to come.

Why have the frosh given up so easily? Is it because they feel that they did not get a chance, or is it because they feel that football holds nothing for them? Truly we cannot answer, for Connecticut has never before had men that did not stick to their jobs and at least give themselves or their superiors a chance to find out just how much ability they have. In fact the football cycle of recent years has produced more men who have stayed with the team with less chance of ever making it, than it has men who gave up.

For examples of "sticktoitiveness" we need only to look at the men on the varsity squad. Here are some men who have been out every year they have been in college, and even though they did not make the team, they have stuck so that the men who did, could find them waiting to give them some good, strong, opposition at every play. Then there are men on the squad that did not make the team their first three years, but now play regularly. What can we say to them? Only this, that they are dead game sports, and deserve the letter that they will probably receive. But what of the men just mentioned, who have been out the full four years and have not made the team? We'll answer for you, they are the men who in later life will find a team on which they can play, and you can vouch that it will be a team capable of conquering a whole team of "Red" Granges. Your suit is still there, don it again, your chance is still coming!

RHODY BOUND!

In a formal statement President Beach has declared Saturday, November 14, an athletic holiday, thus making it possible for the entire student body and faculty members to attend the annual clash with Rhode Island at Kingston on that date. Already arrangements for the movement of the student body are complete and we are appraised by the Train Committee that a special train has been chartered for pilgrimage.

To those who have been to Rhode Island before come pleasant memories of the fine time they enjoyed when Connecticut went down to renew relationship two years ago. Going by special train aroused a great deal of fun and college spirit and, when the train reached Kingston at noon, it was self evident that Connecticut had come to win! We did win and on the way back everyone, who lived along the railroad knew that Connecticut was victorious.

When the train leaves at 8.30 o'clock next Saturday morning one week, every Connecticut man and woman will be there. Even if some sacrifice has to be made, Connecticut will go to Rhode Island 100 per cent strong, for that is the way she does business! It may seem to many that going by automobile will promote their best interests, but it will not put Connecticut on top, if half the student body feels the same way. The "Aggie Special" is for you. Join the parade leaving the Dining Hall after breakfast on November 14 for we are going to Rhody to WIN!

SENATORS TO ADVISE PUNISHMENT FOR FROSH

only must these meal hours be observed, but also that the Freshmen must not loiter in or about the Dining-Hall.

As a result of the annoyance of School of Ag. men by the Freshmen, which has come to the attention of the Senate, this body will hereafter recommend suspension for one week as a punishment for the members of either the Freshmen class or the School of Ag. who are found annoying a member of either class or throwing missiles of any kind for that purpose.

The Senate wishes to remind the Student Body of the action they took last winter about the matter of collecting publication fees through the Business Office with the semester fees. The matter is again to be presented to the Faculty, and if it becomes necessary, the students may be called on again to support their former decision by another favorable vote. The leaders of the publications feel confident that they have the backing of the Student Body in this matter.

A long discussion was carried on regarding the dormitory situation, the new dormitory, and the equipment of the old ones.

OBSERVER COLUMN

A "helping hand" is appreciated sometimes—but the devil take the Aggie who helps himself to our socks and shirts.

We agree with the advertisement of a certain brand of coffee which sagaciously states, "It's the bean that counts."

Dear Percy—We are not sure whether cake-eaters use Listerine after drinking tea. We doubt if weak tea creates a bad breath.

Someone ought to get married while we have such a plentiful supply of confetti in the rear of the Armory.

Sentence for the week—"It is an iron universe. When the spears go into you, rejoice. The iron gets into your blood that way."—Don Marquis

Oh, what would we hear, if each pine had an ear,

And there was a tongue on every limb.

How the Co-ed so gay, and the Aggie blase,

Would meet when the lights were dim,

How Mary and Paul, in the Dining Hall,

Would whisper and make the date—Then under the trees in the evening breeze

They would hold their tete-tete.

When the years roll by, you'll heave a sigh,

And think of those good old times—When you wandered with Grace, to that secluded place

You knew of in the pines.

And as you sat there together and talked of the weather

And impressed her with what you could do,

Your fears were not vague—that may be Ma Sprague

Would break up your rendezvous

Makofski will be used to hit the center of the line when yardage is needed.

Filmer, who has been playing a fine game all season will hold down a halfback position. He makes wonderful interference and his tackling is deadly.

Moreland, the other Aggie halfback is expected to furnish many thrills during the game, as he is a triple threat man, kicking, passing and carrying the ball with equal skill.

With wins to its credit for the last two years, the Aggie eleven will endeavor to make it three straight. Interest on the campus is at the highest pitch, and the talk is turning entirely to football. Connecticut rooters are praying for a good day and a dry field when the throng of northerners descend to the plains of Kingston.

To date the dope favors the Aggies and if everything runs true to form. Captain Brink should have the pig-skin in his clutches when he boards the Aggie Special after the game.

Rhode Island has played five games winning only one. They beat C. C. N. Y. which had a rather weak team this year. Rhody has a star kicker in Bosworth, who is playing his third year for the engineers.

Eight seniors will play in their last Rhode Island-Connecticut football game. They are Captain Brink, Fienneman, Nanfeldt, Johnson, Bitgood, Filmer, Moreland and Makofski.

The entire squad will make the trip to Kingston on the special train chartered by the student body.

In an isolated region, almost inaccessible in winter, this 6500 h.p. hydro-electric plant located on the Deerfield River in New England, starts, protects, and stops itself.

A Self-Starting Power Plant

Dawn—the slumbering city awakens and calls for electric current. Many miles away the call is answered. A penstock opens automatically, releasing impounded waters; a water turbine goes to work, driving a generator; and electric current is soon flowing through wires over the many miles to the city. This plant starts and runs itself.

Power plants with automatic control are now installed on isolated mountain streams. Starting and stopping, generating to a set capacity, shutting down for hot bearings and windings, gauging available water supply, they run themselves with uncanny precision.

Thus another milestone has been reached in the generation of electric power. And with present-day achievements in power transmission, electricity generated anywhere may be applied everywhere.

The non-technical graduate need not know where electricity comes from—nor even how it works. But he should know what electricity can do for him no matter what vocation he selects.

The General Electric Company has developed generating and transmitting equipment step by step with the demand for electric power. Already electricity at 220,000 volts is transmitted over a distance of 270 miles. And G-E engineers, ever looking forward, are now experimenting with voltages exceeding a million.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

Manhattan recovered. The New Yorkers tried to rush the ball, but the Aggies took the ball on the downs. After three tries at the Manhattan line Moreland punted, Nanfeldt getting the receiver in his tracks. Manhattan punted to Moreland. The Aggies tried two passes but the last one was intercepted by Hayes. Manhattan again punted and Schofield on the first play went through the center of the line for twenty-five yards. Makofski made three yards through tackle as the quarter ended.

At the opening of the last quarter Moreland made nine and Filmer first down. A pass failed and the ball was fumbled on the next play with Manhattan recovering. A pass from Cohalan to Dunne was good for twelve yards. Another pass was intercepted by Moreland who ran it back twenty yards. Makofski made fifteen through the center of the line. Moreland lost ten yards and on the next play punted. The New Yorkers completed a forward, but another pass was intercepted by Allard, substituting for Schofield. On the next play Eddy went around left end for twenty-five yards. Eddy made three more, Moreland four and on a dropkick formation Moreland threw a pass to Makofski for twenty yards. Connecticut made a first down and after two rushes Makofski went over for the last score. Moreland failed on his try for the extra point. At this point Coach Dole sent in his reserves. Nanfeldt kicked off to Manhattan and after two incomplete passes they punted to Connecticut. Moreland tried a dropkick as the game ended.

Regardless of what team is playing on Gardner Dow field or in Hawley Armory, every Aggie should be on hand to help the team along. Connecticut can never afford to have any lack of interest shown by her sons and daughters.

The game had its redeeming features. Nanfeldt, captain in the absence of Brink, played a wonderful game. The big boy was down under the punts like a shot—Big Bertha variety—and his tackling was deadly. Oscar has been one of the outstanding men of the season and his position will be a hard one to fill another year. Also his shoes.

Coach used twenty-four men in the fracas, the entire squad getting into the game.

Springfield's highly rated Freshman team had to be satisfied with a 7 to 6 victory. Outclassed in the first half of the game, Louie's men were a different team in the second half and played on equal terms with the young Directors.

SIDELINE GOSSIP

The orange waved high above the green last Saturday.

The last home game of the season was somewhat of a disappointment, even though it was a decisive victory for Connecticut.

Manhattan did not win any friends at Connecticut. Continuous arguments on the part of the visitors detracted greatly from the game. An exhibition as displayed by the New York team is rarely seen at college games, but is usually confined to the schoolboy's back yard.

And being in a critical mood, we might say that the officiating was not all it could have been. The officials possessed a greater amount of patience than was to be found on the sidelines.

Connecticut will do well to overlook the New Yorkers when making out next year's schedule.

The New York Times tells us that the police were forced to keep angry spectators from interfering with the game. Wonder what a New Yorker's idea of a cop is, anyhow. But it is a greater wonder to the inhabitants of Storrs where to find a policeman.

Maybe it was the first game for Manhattan that police were not called upon to interfere, and somebody did not desire to admit a broken record.

As for surging crowds, the attendance was the worst of the season. We counted about sixty freshmen in the parade before the game, and at the same time, the cheering section was conspicuous by the large number of empty spaces. And Rhody only two

MISS LOUISE STALLINGS DELIGHTS ASSEMBLY

Students Appreciate Excellent Program.—Concert Broadcasted From WCAC.

One of the finest programs that C. A. C. students have had the pleasure of attending this year was given by Miss Louise Stallings of New York at the Assembly on Wednesday, October twenty-sixth. Her vivid personality in equally vivid costume found her audience at the very beginning and held it throughout. The exceptional ability that she showed pictured to each one the theme of every song. The finest feature of her talent was that she so accurately atmosphered every mood in her music.

There was a great variety in her program. The two groups of French and Italian songs showed splendid facility in foreign tongues. Her American group included every type of music from the negro to the desert melodies. By the successive encores that were demanded there was no doubt of the Aggies appreciation of Miss Stallings.

The following program was presented: Group of three Italian songs, "The Sailor;" group of three French songs, "You'll Frighten the Birds," "Doll Song," "L'Auveri" from Carmen, encore, "I Don't Care If I Do;" group of American songs, "I'm Travellin' to the Grave," "Trees," "The Nightingale," "Call Me No More," encores, "My Candle Burns at Both Ends," "Frogs Go A'Courtin'."

A Protein Feed That Pays

Corn Gluten Feed—23% Protein
"Almost Wholly Digestible"

Corn Gluten Feed is a profitable protein ingredient for every ration. Successful feeders in 32 States are feeding it regularly. These practical men know its value. It pays them to feed it.

One or more feeding experiments with Corn Gluten Feed in the ration will make your school work more interesting and profitable to you. There are several good reasons why this is so.

Corn is grown in all the States. It is worth more than any other farm crop. We need corn more than anything else grown on the farm, and without it we would almost starve.

The product of corn most needed by the farmer and feeder is Corn Gluten Feed. A ton of it contains as much protein as 2½ tons of corn and also the natural salts of five tons of the whole grain.

Corn Gluten Feed is palatable and safe. It is never given as medicine nor has it ever caused abortion or blindness. Some dairymen feed it straight for high production tests.

You are going to help the farmer get the most out of his corn crop. This Research Bureau can be of great service to you, and we want to tell you about it.

Write us today and we will send you our bulletins and show what we are doing in our nation-wide campaign for better feeding.

CO-ED. HOCKEY TEAM HOLDS MAINE TO LOW SCORE

The Co-Ed Hockey team lost to the University of Maine team last Saturday at Orono by a score of 1 to 0. The game was hard fought, and the result gratifying to the girls as the contest was the first for the Connecticut team.

The team left C. A. C. Friday morning arriving in Portland late that evening. They remained there over night and continued to Orono by train the next morning. The Maine Co-eds entertained the Aggies at the college Saturday night.

This was the first intercollegiate hockey game for the Connecticut Aggie Co-eds, and the very good showing that they made indicates that there is good material.

The girls who made the trip were Grant, Brown, Welsh, Foley, Healey, Koster, Monrad, Buell, Saxon, Swan, Hopkins, Dudley, Law, Green, Gustafson, and Bronson.

FRENCH CLASSES TO ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

Professor Croteau Prepares Excellent Program.—Dr. Dunn to Speak on Travels In France.

One of Professor Croteau's numerous and delightful programs will be presented at Hawley Armory, Nov 11, at 7.30 p. m. The students have often been favored by these pleasant serieses, and Mr. Croteau has arranged an interesting program.

Dr. Dunn of the College Experiment Station will recount some of his experiences during a recent trip in France and will accompany his talk by a series of lantern slides which he has collected.

Mrs. Alling and Mr. Andre Roux will sing a duet and will also render individual selections. Miss Germaine Dion will be the accompanist. To make the meaning of these songs clear to those who are not entirely at home with the French language, Professor Croteau has arranged to have lantern sildes giving a brief resume of each song while it is being sung.

The rest of the program will consist of songs, recitations, a violin solo, and a French play which the French students have prepared. The following will take part: Violin solo, Miss Sklarinsky, accompanied by Miss Rena Cohen; a recitation, Miss Finesilver; a song, Miss Mishkin; "La Comedie de celui qui epousa une femme muette," Miss Gordes, Miss Kaplan, Miss Mishlin, Miss Nellie Cohen, Miss Finesilver, Mr. Lifshitz, Mr Lasker and Mr. Klein.

Prof. Croteau cordially invites all members of the faculty and student body to attend, and he assures that the evening will be well spent.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB PLANS FOR ACTIVE SEASON

The Girls Glee Club, at it's last meeting on Tuesday, October 27th, began practice on several new songs which they plan to use in a concert.

The club is not without its social aspect, and plans are being made not only for the continuance of "sings" similar to that held last week, but also for a party to be held at the Beach House.

The members of the Second Glee Club are keeping up their work, and it is expected that they will take part in the social activities of the regular Glee Club.

ENGINEERS VISIT
SUBMARINE BASE

Interesting Trip Made by Juniors and Seniors

The third of a series of Engineering Field Trips was taken by the members of the Junior and Senior classes in Engineering on Navy Day, when under the direction of Professor Wheeler they visited the Submarine Base at Groton.

Of special interest to the boys was the Submarine S-12, of the same type as the S-51 which was sunk off Block Island recently with the loss of thirty-three lives. They also visited the Submarine Tender S. S. Cambden and the N-21, which were at the base at the time.

In the laboratories which they visited they were shown the complete construction and operation of the torpedoes, and the methods of aiming, testing, and of steering the torpedoes. The engine laboratory was also visited, where the engineer inspected Diesel engines, such as are used in the submarines, with which the young mechanic or engineer must familiarize himself before graduating to a submarine.

In the afternoon the boys took a trip around the harbor on one of the tenders of the S. S. Cambden, after which they witnessed a football game between teams representing the submarine base and the S. S. Cambden.

The next trip to be taken will be during the week of December 1st when the class will attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at New York.

THE AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The Agricultural Club, Incorporated, is an organization open to all Ag. and Science students. It is entirely a voluntary membership club, and all students are cordially invited to join and help support and make the Ag. Club a bigger and better activity on the hill. Why not have a large attendance at the meetings to reap the efforts of the speakers. Those who have attended the meetings this fall can boast of having enjoyed exceedingly good lectures and consider their time well spent. There are many more good talks and speakers on the program for future dates and all students whose aim it is to get more out of college life ought not to miss them.

It is hoped that all those interested in the welfare of the Ag. Club of C. A. C. will cooperate to make it still a better worth-while activity.

At a supper for a group of girl friends last Friday evening at the home of her parents, the engagement of Miss Frances B. Davis to Mr. Wright D. Gifford was announced.
