RE: Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance B.A. and B.S. Degrees in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees approve the Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance B.A. and B.S. Degrees in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

BACKGROUND:

UConn is one of only 25 colleges and universities in the world, and one of 15 in the United States, to be recognized by the Society of Actuaries as a Center of Actuarial Excellence.

This new major combines the technical actuarial skills and knowledge learned through study in the existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major with Finance courses emphasizing forecasting, security valuation, globally oriented financial management topics, risk management and case studies. This new degree has been developed in strong collaboration and cooperation with the School of Business to create a major that allows actuarial science students to take upper level Finance courses which are particularly relevant to their major.

This major will greatly enhance the academic experience of actuarial science students, and it will further enhance UConn's very strong reputation among the elite programs in the field of actuarial science worldwide.

This new major is an enhancement to the existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major. All courses required for the major are currently offered, and no new courses need to be developed. Therefore, there are no increased costs or additional resources associated with this new major.

Item: Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance major in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, leading to a B.A. or B.S. degree

Background & Description

UConn is one of only 25 colleges and universities in the world, and one of 15 in the United States, to be recognized by the Society of Actuaries as a Center of Actuarial Excellence. We are proposing adding a new major in CLAS that combines the technical actuarial skills and knowledge learned through study in the existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major with Finance courses emphasizing forecasting, security valuation, globally oriented financial management topics, risk management and case studies. We are not aware of any other undergraduate program that so strongly integrates the study of Actuarial Science and Finance. This major will greatly enhance the academic experience of students who choose the major, and it will further enhance UConn's already very strong reputation among the elite programs in the field of actuarial science worldwide.

Reasons for the Proposed Program/Modification/Discontinuation

Students in UConn's existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major learn the technical actuarial, mathematical, and statistical skills they need to succeed in this challenging field. They are also encouraged to take upper level finance courses which are relevant to their specialized field of study. However, this is sometimes difficult as those courses are offered in the School of Business with different prerequisites. This new major has been developed in strong collaboration and cooperation with the School of Business to create a major that allows actuarial science students to take upper level Finance courses which are particularly relevant to their major, including courses emphasizing forecasting, security valuation, globally oriented financial management topics, risk management and case studies. The enhanced value to these students can be demonstrated by examining the criteria the Society of Actuaries uses when evaluating actuarial science programs.

One of the key criteria the Society of Actuaries uses in its evaluation of universities applying for the Center of Actuarial Excellence designation is:

“There must be an appropriate integration with other relevant fields, particularly those developing business skills and communication. The following are factors to be considered when assigning a ranking for appropriate integration:

- Business courses offered/ integrated
- Curriculum includes team work, case studies”

Curriculum & Program Outline

To complete the B.A. or B.S. in Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance, students must meet the minimum graduation requirements for UConn, including completion of 120 credits, 45 of which must be numbers 2000 or above; completion of the CLAS general education and concentration requirements; completion of major requirements; and earn a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 and 2.0 in the courses presented in satisfaction of the major requirements.

The specific requirements for the major for the B.A. or B.S. degree in Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance are 36 credits at the 2000-level or above in Mathematics, Statistics, Business, and related areas (in addition to MATH 2110Q or 2130Q or 2143Q) and 15 credits in Finance. The required courses are MATH 2210Q (or 2144Q), 2620, 3160, 3630, 3631, 3650, 3660; STAT 3375Q, 3445, ACCT 2001, FNCE 3302, 4209, 4302, 4305, either MATH 3632 or 3634; either MATH 2610, FNCE 3221 or 4325, and either FNCE 4306 or 4895. Students should include ECON 1201 and 1202, and a Computer Science course in their program of study as early as possible. To satisfy the writing in the Major and Information Literacy competencies, all students must pass one of the following courses: MATH 2194W, 2720W, 2794W, 3670W, or 3796W.

Learning Outcomes

All of the required courses in the existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major are required in the new Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance major. In addition, students will be required to take two other MATH courses and five FNCE courses in the 3000 and 4000 level which cover forecasting, security valuation, globally oriented financial management topics, risk management and case studies. Actuarial Science students will benefit by enhancing their technical actuarial training with the business skills and acumen they will attain by enrolling in business courses specifically chosen for their field. Students in both Actuarial Science and the School of Business will benefit through the opportunity to interact with each other in this interdisciplinary program.

Enrollment & Graduation Projections

The current Mathematics-Actuarial Science major produces between 40 and 50 graduates per academic year. It is anticipated that 15-20 of these students would switch into the Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance major.

Financial Resources

This new major is an enhancement to the existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major. All courses required for the major are currently offered, and no new courses need to be developed. There is capacity in these classes to handle the projected number of students. Therefore, there are no increased costs associated with this new major.

Facilities//Equipment/Library/Special Resources

This new major is an enhancement to the existing Mathematics-Actuarial Science major. All courses required for the major are currently offered, and no new courses need to be developed. There is capacity in these classes to handle the projected number of students. Therefore, there are no increased facilities, equipment, library, nor special resources associated with this new major.

Program Administration

The Mathematics-Actuarial Science-Finance major will be administered by James Trimble, Director, Actuarial Sciences Program. He reports to Evarist Gine-Masdeu, head of the Mathematics Department, CLAS.

Faculty

The requirements of the new major can be fulfilled by taking courses that are currently offered by UConn, which have the capacity to handle these students. No new faculty is needed. Full time faculty in Actuarial Science include:

James Trimble FSA, CERA, MAAA, BS
James Bridgeman, FSA, CERA, MAAA, MA
Michael Braunstein, ASA, MAAA, BS
Guojun Gan, ASA, PhD
Brian Hartman, ASA, PhD
Jeyaraj Vadiveloo, FSA, MAAA, CFA, PhD

Similar Programs in Connecticut or Region

As noted above, there are 25 colleges and universities in the world, 15 of them in the United States that are recognized by the Society of Actuaries as a Center of Actuarial Excellence. At some of these institutions, including UConn, the Actuarial Science Program is offered through the Mathematics Department. At others, such as Penn State, the Actuarial Science program is a part of the business school. We are not aware of any other undergraduate program that integrates the study of Actuarial Science and Finance as strongly as would be done under this proposed new major. This will greatly enhance the academic experience of students who choose the major, and it will further enhance UConn's already very strong reputation among the elite programs in the field of actuarial science worldwide.

RE: Deactivate the Cytotechnology Program in the College of Agriculture, Health and Natural Resources

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees deactivate the Cytotechnology Program in the College of Agriculture, Health and Natural Resources.

BACKGROUND:

UConn offers a B.S. degree and Graduate Certificate in Cytotechnology on the Storrs campus, and the program is administered through the Department of Allied Health Sciences in the College of Agriculture, Health and Natural Resources.

The University has not admitted students into the program for several years, due to the lack of faculty expertise and strong student interest.

In September, the faculty of Allied Health Sciences voted to formally deactivate the Cytotechnology program, and the Dean of the College approved the deactivation. The program will be removed from future editions of the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs, and the University will inform the State of Connecticut Office of Higher Education of the deactivation.

RE: Naming Recommendation for the Senator Joseph I. Lieberman Conference and Lecture Series in Human Rights at UConn's Stamford Campus

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees authorizes the naming of the Senator Joseph I. Lieberman Conference and Lecture Series in Human Rights at the UConn Stamford Campus.

BACKGROUND:

The UConn Foundation has received a commitment of $500,000 over five years from Point72 Asset Management Company (Steven A. Cohen formerly of S.A.C. Capital), headquartered in Stamford, to establish the Senator Joseph I. Lieberman Conference and Lecture Series in Human Rights at the UConn Stamford Campus. The conference will be held every other year, with the inaugural conference scheduled for March 2015, followed by conferences in 2017 and 2019 with lectures planned for 2016 and 2018. The conference will be coordinated by the Office of Global Affairs in collaboration with The Human Rights Institute, The Dodd Center, and the UNESCO Chair.

Point72 will sponsor the conference in honor of Senator Joseph I. Lieberman, a champion of human rights, education, and advocacy with more than 40 years in elective office as a state senator, state attorney general, and a U.S. senator.

The Senator Joseph I. Lieberman Conference and Lectures Series will perpetuate Senator Lieberman's work and make his hometown of Stamford — with its easy access to New York City, the United Nations, and leading international organizations — a global center of human rights, creating and fostering collaboration by bringing together scholars, researchers and advocates from around the world.

The Senator Joseph I. Lieberman Conference and Lecture Series in Human Rights will enable UConn Stamford to establish a unique platform for producing and disseminating new knowledge about the rights of people worldwide.

While this gift will support the first five years of the Senator Joseph I. Lieberman Conference and Lecture Series in Human Rights, during this period additional fundraising efforts will continue to secure an endowment to provide for long-term support of this program.

This naming recommendation was approved by the Institutional Advancement Committee on October 8, 2014.

FROM: Susan Herbst
RE: Establishment of the Werth Family Basketball Champions Center

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees establish the Werth Family Basketball Champions Center on the Storrs campus.

BACKGROUND:

In September, Peter and Pamela Werth pledged $2.3 million for the Basketball Champions Center, bringing their total commitment to the project to $7 million. The naming of the overall facility will take the place of the previously approved namings for the Werths, which included the Women's Practice Gym and the Women's Basketball Locker Room & Lounge.

The UConn Basketball Champions Center is the first major construction project on the Storrs campus built entirely with private donations. It is a 78,000 square foot facility located at 500 Jim Calhoun Way with practice gyms for the men's and women's basketball programs, along with locker rooms, coaches' offices, areas for academic support, video analysis, sports medicine, and strength training.

Mr. Werth graduated from Fort Hays State University with a bachelor's of science degree in chemistry and mathematics, and he received a Master's degree in organic chemistry from Stanford University. He holds an honorary degree from Southern Connecticut State University. Mr. Werth is the founder and CEO of Chemwerth Inc., a full service generic drug development and supply company based in Connecticut. The Werth's son, Peter Werth III, is a 1980 graduate of UConn, CLAS. He was recently profiled in the Liberal Arts & Sciences Spring 2014 Newsletter, and will also be featured in the upcoming issue of the UConn Magazine fall issue.

The Werths are avid Husky fans and season ticket holders for men's and women's basketball and football. They have been active donors since 2003, supporting overall program enhancement in the Division of Athletics.

This naming recommendation was approved by the Institutional Advancement Committee on October 8, 2014.

BACKGROUND:

The Basketball Champions Center is a state-of-the-art facility designed to address the on and off court needs of the men's and women's basketball student-athletes at the University of Connecticut. The 78,000 square foot space is located at 500 Jim Calhoun Way on the University of Connecticut Storrs Campus. It houses academic, athletic training and rehabilitation, dining and nutrition, practice and training, and locker facilities that will enhance development as student-athletes.

This naming recommendation was approved by the Institutional Advancement Committee on October 8, 2014.

RE: Establishment of the Rizza Family Soccer Complex

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees establish the naming of the University's entire varsity soccer complex, including Morrone Stadium, the soccer practice field adjacent to the Stadium, and any soccer facility on the Storrs Campus added as part of planned enhancements, on the Storrs campus as the Rizza Family Soccer Complex.

BACKGROUND:

In September, Anthony Rizza made a commitment to match up to $5,000,000, other support provided for the enhancement of soccer facilities. This gift follows an earlier pledge of $3,000,000 that also supported enhancement of soccer facilities making Mr. Rizza the largest single donor to UConn's Division of Athletics.

Mr. Rizza received his bachelor's degree from UConn's School of Business, and, as an undergraduate, he was a letter holder and team captain for Husky men's soccer.

He is senior managing director and portfolio manager at Columbus Circle Investors, a registered investment advisory firm with headquarters in Stamford. He is a generous supporter of the University, having established the Dr. Victor Rizza Scholarship Fund in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences in honor of his uncle, a UConn graduate and former UConn professor.

This naming recommendation was approved by the Institutional Advancement Committee on October 8, 2014.

TO: Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees

FROM: Mun Y. Choi, Provost

RE: Approval and Resolution to Enter into Instrument Purchase Agreement and Research Collaboration Agreement between University of Connecticut and FEI Company

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees: (1) approves the Instrument Purchase Agreement and the Research Collaboration Agreement (each as described hereinafter) between the University of Connecticut ("UConn") and FEI Company ("FEI") and (2) authorizes the execution of certain amendments to such agreements, as described below. The Executive Committee has been asked to approve these agreements before the next scheduled Board of Trustees meeting, but these agreements will be reported to the full Board of Trustees at the next meeting.

BACKGROUND:

The University intends to enter into a strategic partnership with FEI, a world leader in electron microscopy. As part of this partnership, UConn will purchase five state-of-the-art instruments from FEI for $12,000,000. These purchases will be paid from Tech Park bond funds included in the "Project Budget for Technology Quadrant Phase III- Innovation Partnership Building (Design: $162,300,000)" approved by the Board of Trustees on August 6, 2014. FEI will contribute at least $12,782,747 (cash and in-kind) which includes two high-tech instruments, the salary for a full-time facility scientists, a half-time field service engineer, a part-time Chief Scientist, graduate student fellowships, $2,000,000 in sponsored research support and many other benefits including training for our faculty and students. This partnership will give UConn one of the most advanced Microscopy and Materials Characterization facilities in the nation. The UConn-FEI Center of Excellence in Microscopy will be heavily used by our industrial partners and faculty, and will help the University forge new partnerships and successfully compete for highly competitive federal grants. This suite of instruments will be housed in the Innovation Partnership Building (IPB) at the UConn Technology Park.

To support this endeavor, UConn will need to enter into the following two agreements with FEI:

- 1) Instrument Purchase Agreement. Under this agreement, UConn will purchase five instruments from FEI at a total cost $12,000,000. It is contemplated that three instruments will be purchased by June 30, 2015 and that the remaining purchases will be made before October 31, 2017. FEI will contribute another two instruments with a cumulative value of at least $2,887,373. These seven instruments will be warrantied for at least four years, with FEI contributing extended warranty coverage and service discounts valued cumulatively at $1,412,374.
- 2) Collaboration Agreement. Under this agreement, FEI will contribute cash and in-kind services to support advanced microscopy and materials characterization research at UConn. The value of these contributions is estimated to be at least $8,483,000. UConn will be responsible for other costs of the collaboration, including the provision of laboratory space and instrument service contracts after year four of the agreement (subject to the discounts in the Instrument Purchase Agreement).

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES RESOLUTIONS:

RE: Project Budget for Facilities Operations Code Remediation, Infrastructure Upgrades and Reorganization Alterations (Final Budget: $990,000)

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees approve the Final Budget in the amount of $990,000 for the construction of the Facilities Operations code remediation, infrastructure upgrades and reorganization alterations.

BACKGROUND:

The purpose of this project is to address code issues due to previous renovations in the building, to address required electrical and data upgrades, and to accommodate the re-structuring of the department and the expansion of personnel.

Project scope code corrections include:

- Fire protection – additional sprinkler and fire protection required due to prior installation of mezzanines without sprinkler system modifications
- HVAC – increase capacity to properly ventilate, heat and cool former internal storage rooms currently used as offices.

Project scope infrastructure upgrades include:

- Electrical power and data service in the building have no additional capacity. The department restructuring, growth in personnel and conversion of unconditioned shop space to office space requires increased capacity.

Project scope alterations:

- Renovation and conversion of existing office and shop spaces to accommodate additional work stations.

- Area to be renovated comprises 12,000 sf and includes: 4 private offices, 28 work stations, 1 conference room, collaboration area, lunch room for shops, and temporary work order relocation.

The Final Budget reflects a total project cost of $990,000 based upon the architect's estimate and estimates for work to be performed in house. The project design was completed in September, 2014.

The University is requesting a waiver to the three step budget approval process in order to begin construction as soon as possible.

The Final Budget is attached for your consideration and approval.

RE: Temporary Construction Easement and Permanent Access and Maintenance
Easement from the University of Connecticut Alumni Association, Inc.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Trustees receives from the University of Connecticut Alumni Association, Inc. a temporary construction easement and a permanent access and maintenance easement for the construction and maintenance of a new underground stormwater pipe, manhole, re-grading and landscaping related to the construction of the STEM Residence Hall.

BACKGROUND:

The University has discovered that the installation of an underground stormwater pipe and manhole is required as part of the construction of the STEM Residence Hall. This work; however, is located on neighboring property owned by the University of Connecticut Alumni Association, Inc. ("Alumni Association").

On September 19, 2014, the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association unanimously voted to approve the temporary and permanent easements to the University relative to this project.

The temporary easement sought covers improvements including installation of a stormwater pipe and manhole underground, exportation of site soil, site grading and, if required or disturbed or damaged, deconstruction/reconstruction of the existing stone wall near the driveway entry, removal and reinstallation of plantings and maintenance of the new landscape and plantings for one year. The area of the temporary construction easement proposed to be granted to the University is shown in blue on the attached sheet entitled "Temporary Construction Easement Area" dated April 30, 2014.

The permanent easement sought covers maintenance, repair and/or replacement of the new stormwater pipe as well as maintenance, repair and/or replacement of and entry to the new manhole underground. This permanent easement will also include any repair and/or replacement of any landscaping, site work or improvements, in kind, if repair or replacement is required due to University of Connecticut maintenance work. The area of the permanent easement proposed to be granted to the University is shown in red on the attached sheet entitled "Permanent Access and Maintenance Easement Area" dated April 30, 2014.

There is no cost associated with the receipt of these easements.

DATE: October 29, 2014

RE: UConn Foundation Report

We are happy to report it has been a strong first quarter for the UConn Foundation this year. With $14.9M in new commitments, we are at a 126.5% increase over FY '14's first quarter. Our donors for the first quarter total 7,408, an increase of 60 from the first quarter of FY '14, and endowment support is at $3.3M, up 27.6% over last year. Support for current operations is at $11.7M, up 190.5% over first quarter FY '14, and our cash total is $7M, an increase of $1.4M over last year.

In recent weeks, several hires that will fill vacant fundraising positions have been made, or are in the process of being made, in Athletics, University Programs, Regional Major Gifts, Corporate Relations, Annual Giving, and UConn Health. Our goal is to fill development vacancies as quickly as possible with strong candidates and we are very excited about the new staff joining our team. We expect their involvement to directly increase our donor engagement and fundraising numbers over the next several months.

Currently, we are developing a comprehensive student aid initiative in collaboration with the University. We have met with President Herbst and Provost Choi and received their thoughts and feedback on prioritizing this initiative. We will be meeting with Wayne Locust, his Enrollment Management staff and a team of Foundation Development staff to further review and refine implementation plans for this effort. We will also be meeting with the Deans on November 4th and the UConn Board of Directors on Nov. 7th to present our student aid data and discuss rollout.

Our 2nd quarter is shaping up to be a very exciting one as well. Peter and Pamela Werth have pledged $2.3 million for the Basketball Champions Center, bringing their total commitment for the project to $7 million. David & Joan Reed have generously donated $1M to support a faculty position at our Waterbury campus, and the Law School is in the process of receiving a gift of real estate property valued at $1.2M. The year is off to a strong start, and we are looking forward to another strong year of support through the UConn Foundation!
